ODE TO A HAPPY MARRIAGE

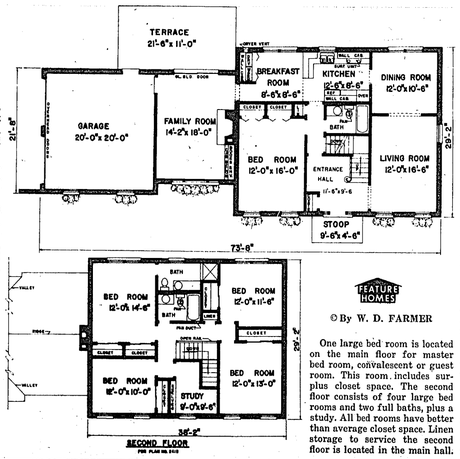
Advice to the wife: For a happy life
Accept your man just as he is.
Don't try to change—or rearrange—
Just love him for what he is.

And don't pull a pout, or complain about
His judgment on problems of life,
For after all, if you recall,
He chose you for his wife.

And, gal, you just can't beat that
Kind of good judgment, can you?

TWO STORY PROVIDES FOR LIVING HABITS OF TODAY'S LARGE FAMILY

FIVE BED ROOM PLAN WITH ALL THE "MUSTS"



FEATURE HOMES

© By W. D. FARMER

The family room for this plan is sized for comfort and includes bonus wall space for furniture placement, book cases, glass sliding doors to rear patio and cozy fire place.

The plan provides a double garage which enters from the end, therefore adding to the elegance of the Williamsburg styled exterior. Direct access is provided from garage to family-kitchen area.

The kitchen and breakfast room are extremely well planned to serve the large family. The kitchen includes built-ins, of course, and the washer and dryer are neatly concealed adjacent to the breakfast room and convenient to the main living area of the house.

The entrance hall is large and impressive, with L-shape stair to the second floor. The open rail provides an elegant air of luxury and spaciousness. There is a full bath centrally located on the first floor, convenient to all rooms. Stairs to the basement are provided from first floor central hall.

The exterior design truly provides the formal impression of traditional living.

The plan is Number 2415 by W. D. Farmer, P.O. Box 49463, Atlanta, Ga. 30329. Total footage for first floor, 1,383 square feet, second floor 1,109 square feet, totaling 2,492 square feet of living space.

One large bed room is located on the main floor for master bed room, convalescent or guest room. This room includes surplus closet space. The second floor consists of four large bed rooms and two full baths, plus a study. All bed rooms have better than average closet space. Linen storage to service the second floor is located in the main hall.

48 Cities In Carolinas Will Receive Pedestrian Safety Activities Awards

Forty-eight cities in the Carolinas this month will receive special citations from the Carolina Motor Club for their outstanding pedestrian safety activities last year.

They were among the 2,087 cities and 26 states that entered the 34th annual Pedestrian Safety Inventory of the American Automobile Association. Cities and states were evaluated in comparison to others of comparable size and characteristics.

Receiving special citations for casualty record will be Asheville, Cayce, S. C., and Durham: for pedestrian safety achievement, Roxboro, with 11 years without a pedestrian fatality, Laurinburg, with 10 years without a pedestrian fatality, and Mauldin, S. C., with 10 years without a pedestrian fatality.

Other Carolinas cities to be awarded citations for no pedestrian fatalities are:

Nine years, Mount Airy; 8 years, Bennettsville, S. C.; 6 years, Canton; 5 years, Ahoskie, Mount Olive, and Southern Pines; 4 years, Washington and Williamston.

Three years, Allendale, S. C., Asheboro, Edenton, Forest City, Scotland Neck, Seneca, S. C., Tarboro, Newton, and Thomasville.

Two years, Chester, S. C., Clinton; S. C., Elizabeth City, Kinston, Laurens, S. C., Monroe, New Bern, and Selma.

One year, Belmont, Chapel Hill, Clinton, Georgetown, S. C., Greenville, Henderson, Hickory, High Point, Jacksonville, Lenoir, Lincolnton, Morehead City, Mullins, S. C., Newberry, S. C., Pickens, S. C., Smithfield, and Statesville.

Awards and citations are presented on the basis of pedestrian death and injury records and on accident prevention programs which are evaluated in seven key areas — maintenance of an efficient records system, safety legislation, enforcement, traffic engineering, safety program coordination, quality of school traffic safety programs, and active public information and education programs.

YOU CAN AFFORD AT WARD'S

One of your neighbors teaches ladies to bake things.

Helping youngsters and adults find their way around the kitchen is one way we lend a friendly hand to our neighborhood.

Our business, of course, is to provide electricity. But our purpose is to help people.

We do it in many different ways.

Teaching tomorrow's homemakers to conserve electricity is just one example.

We also show our farm neighbors how to produce more economically. We help to protect the environment. We create boating, fishing and recreation areas for you and your family. And we take part in hundreds of civic and charitable groups.

These activities are important to us. Because this is our neighborhood, too.

Most of us grew up here, and we know the people. That's why serving you doesn't really seem like work.

It's more like helping a neighbor.

Spreading Chestnut Tree Isn't

Fred Roberts lives at 828 Spruce Street. Last spring he planted three chestnuts in his backyard. Some weeks later he noticed one plant growing there. It grew and grew until last week it soared 12 feet beside his storage building. Roberts thought he had a chestnut tree, but not everyone who saw the tree agreed. Somebody told police the bush looked exactly like marijuana. Local officers checked, sent off a sample and, sure enough, it turned out the grass on the Roberts' side of the fence was the tallest—if not the greenest. Police destroyed Roberts' chestnut impersonator late last week, and Roberts said he was happy they checked it out. He said "I don't want anything to do with that kind of tree."

Social Security

Questions and Answers

Q. My check has never been late until last month. When I called your office, I was told you couldn't send in a report until the 6th. Why is that when the checks come on the 3rd?

A. With more than 28 million Social Security checks going out each month, a few are late occasionally. However, they're usually only a day or two late and will come by the 6th. Therefore, we wait until the 6th to allow for delivery.

Q. Why are photocopies of documents not acceptable by Social Security?

A. Because we must certify that we've seen the origiant and the copy is exactly the same before we can use a photocopy. We have a photocopy machine so send in the origianl document. We'll copy it and return it to you.

Q. After 25 years of marriage, my husband and I were divorced. Rather than alimony, he accepted a property settlement. When I applied for divorced wife's benefits, my application was disallowed as I did not meet the support requirement. Has the support requirement changed since then?

A. Yes. There is NO support requirement for benefits beginning January, 1973.

Q. I recently read about a new Federal payment program for the aged, blind, and disabled. I know the program doesn't start for a while yet, but I heard that Social Security offices are now taking applications. Can you tell me who should apply now?

A. The new Supplemental Security Income payments will begin next January. The only people who should apply now are people 65 and over, or blind, or disabled who are not now getting State or local assistance payments and who believe they may be eligible for the new Federal payments. For information, contact any Social Security office. Ask for the leaflet, "Supplemental Security Income for the Aged, Blind, and Disabled."

℞ DID YOU GET THE FULL TREATMENT?

Statistics show that approximately 17% of the prescriptions doctors write for their patients are never filled. Thus the patient never gets the result from the medicine that his doctor wanted him to have. There are several reasons why an Rx may go unfilled: doubt about why the doctor wanted him to have it in the first place; difficulty in finding a pharmacy stocking the ingredients or fear of high cost are just a few of the explanations.

If for any reason you ever hesitate to have an Rx filled please check with us. Whatever the reason we welcome the opportunity to discuss it with you. We carry a complete supply of drugs.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Michelle Herold Recognized By Air Force

Staff Sergeant Michelle D. Herold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel T. Morrais, 283 Textile Avenue, Lowell, Mass., has been recognized for helping her Air Force Systems Command unit earn the Air Force Organizational Excellence Award.

Sergeant Herold is assigned at L. G. Hanscom Field, Mass., as an administrative specialist with the Electronic Systems Division's Airborne Warning and Control System Program Office which received the award for exceptionally meritorious service from January 1, 1970, through March 15, 1972.

Sergeant Herold will wear a distinctive service ribbon as a permanent decoration to mark her affiliation with the organization.

A 1965 graduate of Notre Dame Academy, Tyngsboro, Mass., she attended Northeastern University at Burlington, Mass. Her husband, Robert, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herold Sr., Route 2, Mooresville.

Lincoln Museum Of Art Plans Annual Exhibition

A spokesman for the Lincoln Museum of Art of Lincolnton today announced plans for the museum's seventh annual art exhibition. The exhibit, according to Mrs. Hal Hoyle, Jr., of Lincolnton, the museum's publicity chairman, will include original paintings and sculpture in all media.

The competition is open to natives and residents of North Carolina, 18 years of age and older.

Carolina First National Bank of Lincolnton will offer a $500 first-place purchase award. A fund of $500 for additional prizes will be provided by the Lincoln Museum of Art and a number of Lincolnton businesses and professional people will sponsor purchases.

The exhibition will be juried by Darrell Koons of Bob Jones University in Greenville, S. C., a teacher and artist, who has seven entries in the Springs Mills Traveling Art Show.

Entries will be received by the Lincoln Museum October 6, 7 and 8, at the Lincolnton City Hall.

The exhibition will be on view at the Lincolnton City Hall and the fellowship hall of Lincolnton's First Presbyterian Church from October 17 through October 26.

For further information and entry blanks, write to the Lincoln Museum of Art, P. O. Box 45, Lincolnton, North Carolina 28092, or telephone (704) 735-7168 or (704) 735-0669.

Navy Ensign Benn On Minesweeper

Navy Ensign Charles M. Benn, husband of the former Sheila D. Johnston of Union Grove, has helped clear mines during Operation End Sweep while serving aboard the USS Esteem, a minesweeper.

A task force of 50 ships using helicopters cleared the mines from North Vietnam's major harbors and coastal waterways during the six-month operation.

Mrs. Melchor Accepts Brother's Serice Award

Mrs. C. Floyd Melchor, resident of 168 West McNeely Avenue, Mooresville, has accepted a World War I North Carolina Service Medal, which has been awarded posthumously to her brother, John Kingsley Culbertson.

The medal was presented to Mrs. Melchor by Carl M. White of Statesville, Iredell County's veterans service officer, on behalf of the state, the Iredell County Veterans Service Office and the Iredell County Veterans Council.

John Kingsley Culbertson was the first Mooresville son to die in an aviation accident. He was killed in a crash while training the Army Corps in 1918.

He also was the first son of a Presbyterian minister in the state to lose his life in the service.

In addition to Mrs. Melchor, other sisters of Culbertson are: Mrs. William Francis Stevenson of Cheraw, S. C., Mrs. W. G. Caldwell of Carthage, Mrs. G. L. Corbin of Savannah, Ga., and Mrs. E. C. Neely of Hudson.

"And the angel said unto him, "Gird thyself, and bind thy sandals and so he did and he saith unto him, cast thy garment about thee, and follow me." Acts 12-8

As the Apostle Peter was sleeping between two soldiers and bound with two chains, an angel from heaven smote Peter on the side and spoke the above words to him.

The chains fell from Peter's hands, and the angel led him through the first and second ward and on out through the main gate on into the street, thus delivering him from the prison and Herod the King.

There are thousands of people crying out today wanting to be delivered from bondage and great chains that seem to bind their lives. My friend, you can be delivered today and that deliverance comes from God.

Jesus said that He came to set man free. If God dispatched an angel from Heaven to deliver Peter from prison, I want you to know that He will dispatch an angel to rescue you, no matter what your need is.

If you are bound by sin today, I beg of you, right now to ask the Lord to forgive you and come into your life. If you are bound by great burdens, cast them to Jesus and let the chains fall from your hands as they fell from Peter. Praise His Holy name.—Amen.
