

Iredell's FHA Unit Reports Its Biggest Lending Year

Farmers Home Administration in Iredell County has just completed its fiscal year, ending June 30, 1973, with its largest lending volume in history, according to Maynard L. Sell, the agency's county supervisor.

Total lending volume in Iredell County exceeded $2-1/4 million. This volume compared with $2 million for fiscal year 1972.

Sell emphasized that although FHA is serving more farmers, rural families, and rural communities than ever before, it is doing it with substantially less personnel than in previous years.

A breakdown in the agency's two major lending programs is as follows:

Rural Housing $1,947,390 was loaned for construction or purchase of some 118 housing units compared to $1,505,250 last year for some 100 units. Contrary to public opinion, the moratorium on interest subsidy had little effect on the housing program as the administration permitted processing of those loans already committed. Approximately 30 per cent of all loans received some form of interest subsidy.

Farmers' Programs Loans to farmers by FHA exceeded last year's volume by $85,770. Total volume was $361,430 compared to $275,660 with some 28 loans made to farmers for operating credit, farm ownership or real estate programs, and for farm emergency loans.

At the present time, Farmers' Home Administration in Iredell County has some $10 million in loans outstanding serving some 655 families. Approximately 1400 other families are receiving services from FHA financed associations.

Self stated that in addition to the existing programs, the agency is looking forward to better serving Iredell County under new authorities of the Rural Development Act. These new programs are dependent on final actions by Congress and will contain new tools to improve rural Iredell County when implemented through authority for loans for essential community facilities such as fire and rescue facilities, parks, transportation and traffic control and public buildings.

The Business and Industrial loans are expected to provide essential capital to finance new and expanding industry and businesses and thereby create the jobs so necessary and essential to improve life.

"I really believe in Christmas all year 'round," said Gus Serafin of Richmond, Va. Tinsels and bells are still hanging in his restaurant, and Christmas lights still brighten his home. "I even tried to talk my wife into leaving the tree up all year," he said.

Memory Is The Greatest Producer In Theatre Of The Real

Memory is the greatest producer in the theatre of the real. It is doubtful whether any human being after the age of 21 spends an hour of his waking life without some retrospect, without at least a momentary flashback into memory. Unlike the camera, which has some limitations of time and space, memory can instantly and play the dominant role.

And as we grow older, and our prospects grow dimmer, we depend more upon the productions of memory for our spiritual nourishment. There are a lot of vitamins in your own memory if you can look back and remember when—

A teen-age child would almost as soon think of committing har-kiras calling his father or mother by their first names. Neither parents nor children deplored the existence of a generation gap; both found it rather useful.

To anyone growing up in the Midwest, the Mississippi River was a greater symbol of romance and adventure than any ocean.

Politicians and political philosophers thought that if we ever got into any war in the Far East, it certainly wouldn't be with any country smaller than China.

Yul Brynner had hair. Clara Bow, one of the earliest of many movie stars to emerge from Brooklyn, was known as "The It Girl."

During the prohibition era in Manhattan the house of Helen Morgan, "the singing speak-easy operator," was almost as well known as the House of Morgan run by J.P., the banker titan.

Many medical specialists were publicly hopeful that the problem of cancer would be solved by 1950 at the latest. Rodger Kramers, who predicted that man would sometime send a space missile to the moon were dismissed as harmless, publicity-seeking cranks.

The most popular lines high school kids wrote in each other's graduation books were: "Leaves may wither, flowers may die, friends may forget thee, but ne'er shall I."
