

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Setzer and Mr. Henson

In a ceremony of beauty at the Broad Street United Methodist Church on August 29, Miss Nancy Roena Setzer became the bride of David Lee Henson.

The couple pledged their vows at four o'clock in the afternoon in a double ring ceremony with the Reverend Zane Gray Norton officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle E. Setzer, Sr. of 534 Oak Street, Mooresville. The groom was reared by his grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Henson of Lynn.

The sanctuary of the church was beautifully ornamented with palms interspersed with seven branched candelabra with white bridal life candles.

Each candelabra was entwined with white filigree wedding bell with small bouquet of white flowers. Floor baskets held arrangements of white gladioli, daisies, statice, baby's breath, white, yellow and purple.

Prior to the benediction, at which time the couple knelt on white satin pillows, Rev. Norton read the prayer of the Cherokee Nation from the Cherokee Bible, after which the groom presented the Bible to the bride as the wedding gift.

Pews for the mothers were marked with white satin bows and completed the setting.

A prelude of wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Gene Kendall of Mooresville, pianist and organist. She played "Cavatina," "Impromptu," "Nocturne in G," "A Poem" and "Serenade," all by Frédéric Chopin.

Mrs. Kendall accompanied the vocalist, Miss Linda Cornell of Edison, N. J., and a Western Carolina University classmate of the bride as she sang "The Twelfth of Never" by Paul Webster and "Wedding Song" (There Is Love) by Paul Stookey.

The traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and the recessional.

The lovely bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white satin fashioned with an empire bodice of Venice lace appliques and ribbon bandings and long fitted sleeves ending in points. A white satin train, accented with matching appliques, was attached to the back waist of the gown.

Her shoulder length veil of illusion was accented with Venice lace trim and attached to a camelot cap of peau de soie.

The bride carried a Mother of Pearl Bible, that her father had brought from Jerusalem, shrouded with a bouquet of yellow Sweetheart roses and white Snowdrift pompons with English ivy.

Miss Gwendolyn Ann Setzer, of Mooresville, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a full length gown of yellow dotted Swiss styled with a sleeveless bodice and a line skirt. She carried an old fashioned arrangement of white and yellow daisies, statice, baby's breath, white, yellow and purple pompons with English ivy.

Miss Anita Fisher, of Asheville, was a bridesmaid. She wore a dress of light blue dotted Swiss fashioned identical to the honor attendant. Her bouquet was also identical to the bouquet of the maid of honor.

Little Miss Noelle Watts, of Landis, a second cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in a sleeveless floor length gown of pink dotted Swiss and carried a small wicker basket filled with flower petals. The basket was carried by the bride when she was a flower girl in the wedding of her aunt, Mrs. George Deal of Landis.

The groom chose his cousin, Scott Henson of Columbus, N. C., as his best man. Ushers were David Oates of Durham and Harold Gibbs of Easley, S. C., half-brother of the groom.

The male attendants were dressed in black trousers with white shirts and coats and boutonnieres of white carnations tipped with black.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Setzer chose a street-length dress of blue polyester, with white accessories. She complemented her attire with a corsage of double white carnations.

The groom's aunt, Miss Fannie Henson of Lynn, wearing a dress of blue polyester knit with white accessories, was remembered with a corsage of double white carnations.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. H. D. Davis, of Landis, wore a mint green polyester dress with white accessories and a corsage of a single white carnation. Another aunt of the groom, Miss Rose Henson of Lynn, sat in for the groom's grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Henson of Lynn, who was unable to attend. She was remembered with a corsage of a single white carnation.

Miss Crystal Deal, of Landis, cousin of the bride, kept the guest register. She was remembered with a white carnation corsage as well as the director, Mrs. Lewis Davis, Jr. of Mooresville.

For a wedding trip to the Outer Banks of North Carolina, the bride changed into a dress of blue polyester fashioned with an empire waist, v-neckline accented with a matching ruffle and a-line skirt. She added the yellow roses from her bridal bouquet for a corsage.

The bride's throw away bouquet was fashioned of mixed colored summer flowers.

The couple will make their home at Queen's Apartments, Cullowhee.

The bride is a graduate of Mooresville Senior High School and will be in her senior year at Western Carolina University at Cullowhee this fall. She is a biology major and a member of the University Chorus, the national honorary scholastic fraternity, Alpha Phi Sigma and the Baptist Student Union.

The groom, a graduate of Tryon High School, is also a senior at Western Carolina University at Cullowhee. He is a business major with emphasis in law enforcement. He is a member of professional business fraternity, Alpha Kappa Psi, the Baptist Student Union and the rescue squad.

Wiggins Couple Celebrates Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Carl Wiggins, Sr. celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at a reception on August 29, at the Fellowship Hall of the Prospect Presbyterian Church, from three until five o'clock in the afternoon.

The reception was hosted by the couple's son, John Carl Wiggins, Jr. and Mrs. Wiggins.

The honored couple were married on August 29, 1948, and as guests entered the reception area, they were asked to register at a table which was marked with a picture of the couple taken on their wedding day. Mrs. Franklin Carriger, of Mooresville, sister of Mrs. Wiggins, presided at the register.

The receiving line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. John Carl Wiggins, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wiggins, the latter two couples being parents of the honor couple.

The anniversary table was covered with a pink cloth, overlaid with a natural beige handmade lace cloth. The cloth was caught up at each corner of the table with white wedding bells accented with silver and white ribbons. The centerpiece, a cake which was tiered and decorated in pink and green, was topped with a silver bride and groom, ornamented with the numerals "52nd." The punch, filled with lime sherbet punch, was surrounded with ivory and ivy also extended around the base of the cake. Two silver candelabra with pink tapers graced each side of the centerpiece. Silver footed composites held homemade pink and white mints and nuts. Ribbon sandwiches were placed on a silver tray and engraved napkins with the couple's name and wedding date completed the appointments.

The gift table was covered identical to the other table and was appointed with a lovely permanent flower arrangement, which was given to Mrs. Wiggins by her workers at Harris-Tetter Super Market on South Broad Street.

Mixed summer flowers were used at focal points throughout the hall and one of the arrangements was used in the sanctuary of the Prospect Presbyterian Church for the Sunday morning worship hour.

Mrs. Max Overcash, of Kannapolis, was in charge of the decorations at the main table and Mrs. Don Belk, of Mooresville, sister of Mr. Wiggins, completed the serving of the cake while Mrs. J. M. White, of Mooresville, presided at the punch service. Assisting with the serving were Miss Lorene Clodfelter, Mrs. William Jackson and Miss Elaine Jackson.

Mrs. Jimmie L. Young and Miss Debbie Leland Young, of Landis, entertained at the gift table.

Approximately two hundred guests called during the appointed hours and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sherrill of Mooresville, who were in the wedding twenty-five years ago, said goodbyes.

For the celebration, Mrs. Wiggins, the former Miss Mary Agnes Jackson wore a pink nylon dress with long sheer sleeves and a low cut neckline, trimmed with a matching ruffle. She complemented her attire with a corsage of pink carnations adorned with silver ribbons. Mr. Wiggins had a pink carnation boutonniere.

Mrs. Wiggins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Jackson of Mooresville and is employed as a bookkeeper at Harris-Tetter Super Market on South Broad Street. Mr. Wiggins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wiggins of Mooresville. He is self-employed as a well driller.

Shepherd Homemakers Visit

Cannon Mills Display Center

The Shepherds Homemakers Club met in a group at the Port City Shopping Center last Thursday morning and motored to Cannon Mills to visit the Towel Room Display Center at Cannon Mills.

Mr. John Patterson, vice president of the towel division and nephew of J. I. Few, welcomed us in the beautiful Towel Room which was quite lovely. Also, besides trying to please the housewives and commercial buyers they have something to please the younger generation and that is the denim look, although it has a heavy hand look the material is quite soft and lovely. It will be used quite extensively in the colleges this year.

The newest thing in the quilted look in the co-ordinated ensembles is the bedspread which looks like the old time quilting stitch, but it is a new process called pensonic stitching. There are no threads to break and ravel out and can be machine washed over and over and still look like new.

Mr. Patterson said that they have about a thousand different designs in towels and have sheets, pillow cases and spreads to match a number of these.

All the ladies were given numbers upon arrival and after the showing, door prizes were drawn with Mrs. J. I. Few, Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. Kenneth Simon each winning a beautifully packaged towel set.

The group then went to Concord and had lunch in the K and W Cafeteria and afterwards assorted cookies, nuts and pickles.

Upon arrival of the honoree, she was presented a novelty corsage composed of small kitchen items.

The honoree was showered with many beautiful and useful gifts.

Approximately 50 guests called during the evening hours.

other products. He said that 20,000 people were employed in all the Cannon Mills.

Mr. Patterson said that their many designers here and abroad are kept busy trying to appeal to everyone's taste in color, texture and design.

President Nixon's visit to China they have put in a line of towels, sheets and bedspreads with the Oriental motif which were quite lovely.
