Daily bus round-trip Mt. Mourne to South Iredell is 37 miles.

Must we wait for a busing tragedy?

Vote for Annexation of Mt. Mourne School Attendance Area Into Mooresville Tues., Oct. 2nd

FACTS

- Mount Mourne will remain in full use. Mooresville schools Supt. Bill Brown says that, if the merger is approved, "Mount Mourne School will be provided every service and every enrichment program offered at all other schools in the system."
- Ken Wooten, chairman of the Iredell County school board, says there is "absolutely no basis for rumors that a junior high school is planned for the south end of the county."
- Wooten dismisses a consolidated high school in the Mount Mourne-Mooresville area as "wishful thinking." He points out that such rumors may have grown from his repeated statements regarding his preference for "consolidating everything from Kerr's Branch south."
- All school buildings in Iredell County -- rural and urban -- were financed by taxes levied equally on every property owner -- rural and urban -- residing in the county.
- The Mooresville school district levies a supplementary tax that currently is 26 cents per $100 of taxable property valuation. (Property is taxed at 75 per cent of market value.) Example: $10,000 in TAXABLE value would mean a $26 annual tax.
- Qualified real estate brokers estimate that annexation into the Moorsville school district increases real estate values from 10 per cent to 20 per cent.

FICTION

- Mount Mourne School will be closed if the attendance area votes to join the Mooresville school system.
- A new junior high school will be built in the near future in the South Iredell area, provided Mount Mourne does not elect to become a part of the Mooresville school system.
- Iredell County plans a consolidated high school for the south end of the county. These plans would be discarded should Mount Mourne become a part of the Mooresville school system.
- If the merger vote is favorable, Mount Mourne School supporters will be giving the Mooresville school system a $250,000 investment in school property.
- A vote to merge Mount Mourne's school attendance area with Mooresville would result in a drastic and burdensome increase in property taxes.
- Mount Mourne property owners have everything to lose financially, and nothing to gain by voting their school attendance area into the Mooresville school district.

The Iredell Board of Education is on record as favoring the merger of the Mount Mourne School attendance area with the Mooresville school system. I personally feel the move is a good first step toward a more workable approach to Iredell education generally, and specifically toward relieving children in the south end of the county of those long, tiresome bus rides.
