Environmental Problems Discussed

By Ms. Liston At AAUW Branch Meeting

The Mooresville Branch of the American Association of University Women met Thursday evening, October 4, in the conference room of the Carolina National Bank with 33 members and guests present. Guests welcomed were Mrs. Lou Fleagle, Mrs. Mary Morrison, Mrs. Helen Neely, Mrs. Faye Wright and Mrs. Willie Gates. Mrs. Jennie Lou Skaff was welcomed as a new member.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Eddie Miller, Mrs. Joyce Johnson, Mrs. Agnes Neel and Mrs. Beverly Armfield.

The speaker for the meeting was Ms. Mary Dawn Liston, Environmental Education Consultant at UNC-C. Ms. Liston spoke on local environmental problems including the McGuire Nuclear Plant and Marine World.

Ms. Liston pointed out that if you live on Lake Norman you will be living near the largest nuclear power plant when completed and back in the 1950's, the AEC said a nuclear power plant should be located at least 50 miles from a large city. Lake Norman could actually be the sight of as many as five nuclear reactors with North Carolina and South Carolina eventually having 13 reactors.

If the reactor is completed some results could be that the temperature of the water in Lake Norman would probably go up causing the fish to be of lower quality and the low oxygen would cause excessive growth of algae. Also, we know very little about the effect of a constant low level of exposure to radiation. We can't have an accident. The uncertainties of nuclear power are tremendous and the biggest problem is what to do with the nuclear waste.

The fact of Marine World is an accomplished one The Marine World, as proposed to the town of Davidson, was 64 acres in Marine World, 32 of which would be a parking lot. The potential pollution factor there in vehical pollution would have been more than a sewage treatment plant. The Davidson site was abandoned when the town declined to provide the water or to treat the sewage.

As we are planning our environment, we have to plan how we are going to use and preserve our lands and water. We have to ask ourselves what we value in our society and what the effect of our choices will be upon the environment.

Ms. Liston informed the group that on October 29, a movie, sponsored by the Carolina Environmental Study Group will be shown in Mooresville and she hoped that the local citizens will go to see the movie and see what possibilities the future will hold for the generations to come.
