

Dellinger Named Iredell's Farm-City Week Chairman

W. R. Dellinger of Statesville has been named Iredell County Farm-City Week chairman for the 1973 observance of Farm-City Week. The appointment was announced today by Miss Margaret Decker of Asheville, state Farm-City Week chairman.

Serving with Dellinger as co-chairman for the county committee is Alvin M. Stanford, County Extension Chairman. Other committee members are Dr. Robert Long, J. T. Alexander, Jr., Maynard Self, Frank Coaninger and Hubert Morton.

Farm-City Week will be observed across the nation on November 16-22, 1973 ending on Thanksgiving Day. The purpose of the event is to help create a better understanding between rural and urban people.

In appointing county Farm-City Week chairman, Miss Decker stated that North Carolina is fortunate to have a fine relationship between urban and rural citizens. "Farm-City Week can help to maintain and strengthen this relationship," she said.

Sherill Williams of Newton Grove is serving with Miss Decker as state vice chairman. This will be the 19th annual observance of Farm-City Week. Last year's observance, according to final reports received at national headquarters, involved the active participation of more than 15,000 communities in the U. S. and Canada.

Farm-City Week is under the direction of a National Farm-City Council, Inc., headed by Woodrow Luttrell, Director of Information Division, American Farm Business Federation, Park Ridge, Illinois. Kiwanis International will serve as coordinating agency for Farm-City Week and act as headquarters for the National Farm-City Council for the nineteenth consecutive year.

The National Farm-City Council is composed of representatives from more than 150 major farm organizations, industries, businesses, associations, governmental agencies, educational institutions, and church groups. A Presidential proclamation and a joint Congressional resolution have called for Farm-City Week observances each year since the inception of the event. Farm-City Week has won the Freedoms Foundation's Distinguished Service Award, which carries the same distinction as the famous "Oscar" in the motion picture industry and the "Emmy" in the television field, and the Public Relations Society of America for being the best community relations program of its kind.

In connection with the observance, boys and girls in grades 9 and 15, are urged to participate in a poster contest, vying for prizes galore. There will be three divisions, as follows: Division I, grades four, five and six; Division II, grades seven, eight and nine; and Division III, grades 10, 11 and 12.

The poster must describe the National Farm-City Week and its purpose. It must be presented to Alvin M. Stanford, county extension chairman, 715 Davie avenue, Statesville, by 5 p. m. Friday, November 9.

All posters will become the property of the Iredell County Farm-City Week committee and can be displayed publicly.

Mayor Proclaims Education Week

October 21-27 is American Education Week in Mooreville by mayoral decree.

Mayor Joe Knox late last week signed a proclamation calling for all local citizens to join in the annual accent on education.

"Our schools represent the best efforts of our community," the mayor said. "and American Education Week is an opportunity for all of us to reaffirm our commitment to improving education at all levels."

Knox asked Mooreville residents to "translate your commitment into action by visiting local schools and by otherwise getting involved with your schools."

HAROLD JORDAN, Pastor
Oak Grove Church of God, Statesville, N. C.

"If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." St. John 8:36
This week while sitting in a restaurant eating, my eyes grew fixed on an aged man sitting across the room whose nerves seemed to be shattered as he was trembling and looked as though he had no friend in the world.

Then, with my heart crying within, I watched those two trembling hands grasp a can of beer and having to take both hands to hold the can, lift it to his lips and drink.

My thoughts then were, oh, not only he, but every other person who is bound by whiskey, alcohol, dope, LSD, cigarettes, and even the demons of hell, can be delivered and set free by the Son of God, the Lord Jesus Christ.

I declare unto you today, there is not enough devil in hell or out of hell or the devil himself to withstand the power of God, Jesus declared to Peter, "upon this rock I will build My Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

If you are bound today, let those chains be broken by God, and let your soul be set free today.—Amen.

Beeker Funeral Tuesday

John Calvin Beeker, 81, of Mountain Road, route 1, Cleveland, died Sunday at 7:05 a. m. at Veterans Hospital in Salisbury. He had been seriously ill for three weeks. He was born November 29, 1891, in Rowan County and was a son of the late John Henry and Annie Hill Beekers. A retired furniture worker and a World War I veteran, he was married on June 5, 1921, to the former Floreide Bollinger, who survives.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by three sons, J. C. Beeker, Jr., of Mooreville, Thomas L. Beeker of Rockwell and Benny Ray Beeker of Salisbury; two daughters, Mrs. Earl Overcash of China Grove, and Mrs. Ned Freeze of Salisbury; three brothers, W. S. Beeker and A. C. Beeker, both of Salisbury, and H. H. Beeker of Durham; five sisters, Mrs. Mae Childers of Mooreville, Mrs. Blanche Kendrick of Charlotte, Mrs. Ann Porter of Salisbury, Mrs. Ruth Lentz of Rockwell and Mrs. Hallie Hartman of Kannapolis; 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The funeral was conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. at Cleveland Baptist Church with Rev. Kenneth Hyde officiating.

W. F. Carver Laid To Rest Wednesday

William Franklin Carver, 68-year-old resident of 223 Pressley Avenue, died at 11:30 a. m. Monday at the Huntersville Hospital, following a long period of declining health.

A native of Mecklenburg County, Mr. Carver was born on October 29, 1906, a son of the late Wesley and Mattie Bradley Carver.

Prior to his retirement, he was employed at Mooreville Mills.

Survivors include: the widow, Mrs. Lillian Robertson Carver; three sons, Bill and Richard Carver, both of Mooreville, and Keith Carver of Hickory; and one brother, Edmond Carver of Cornelius. Three grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services for Mr. Carver were conducted at 4 p. m. Wednesday in the chapel of the Cavin Funeral Home, with the Rev. Phate Meswain, pastor of Southside Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Willow Valley cemetery.

Mesdames Cox, Johnston Attend Music Convention

The annual North Carolina Music Teachers convention was held in Chapel Hill during the past weekend, October 19-22. Mrs. Eugene Johnston and Mrs. Lonnie Cox of Mooreville, accompanied by Miss Annycy Worsham of Asheboro, attended the convention.

The guest clinician was Dr. Lucien Stark, a member of the music faculty at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., where he heads the piano department.

Dr. Stark holds the bachelor and master of music degrees from Drake University in Des Moines, with additional piano study in Munich, Germany, at the Conservatoire National in Paris, and on scholarship at the Juilliard School of Music.

He joined the music faculty of George Peabody College in 1961 after having served as resident pianist at Iowa State University.

In addition of numerous performances in recital, in chamber music, and with orchestra, he is a frequent demand as clinician, as adjudicator, and as accompanist.
