

Candlelight Ceremony At Rocky Mt. Church Unites Coley-Shook Couple

Miss Teresa Diane Shook and Yonnie Lynn Coley were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony at Rocky Mount United Methodist Church of Mooresville on Saturday, September 26. The 7:00 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Reverend Dale Holcomb and wedding music was presented by Gary Miller, organist and Michelle Wing, soloist.

After appointments included two brass spiral candelabras adorned with cascades of pink and white arrangements. The Trinity candelabra was marked with a large white bow and pews for the honored guests were arranged with pink bows. Windows in the sanctuary were marked with votive candles and greenery, adding to the beauty of the sanctuary.

The bride, daughter of Oscar Ray Shook of Chester, SC and Mrs. Ruby Alexander of Route 6, Statesville, was given in marriage by her father.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Coley of 386 Dingler Avenue, Mooresville, and his father served as best man.

The petite bride was lovely in a gown of white tulle and satin and guests were arranged with pink bows. Windows in the sanctuary were marked with votive candles and greenery, adding to the beauty of the sanctuary.

The bride carried an elegantly styled cascade of white long stemmed roses with pink larkspur and pink miniature carnations with pink asteria flowers.

In keeping with tradition, the bride wore gold floral earrings, a gift of the groom; her baby ring on a gold chain given to her by her mother, a birthstone ring for something borrowed from her aunt and a blue garter.

Mrs. Terry Ward of Mooresville was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Loretta Caudill, sister of the bride and sister-in-law of the groom; Angela Coley, cousin of the bride and niece of the groom; and Pam Johnson.

They were dressed like the other attendants with the exception of color which was rose and each carried a single long stemmed pink carnation.

Honorary bridesmaids were Cindy Coley, cousin of the bride and sister-in-law of the groom; Robin Edwards and Sheila Scott, all of Troutman.

All of the attendants were dressed identically in pink satin tea length gowns fashioned with princess seam bodice, shirred puff sleeves with fitted cuffs and deep basque waists.

The matron of honor carried an arm bouquet of six pink carnations while the other attendants carried arm bouquets of three pink carnations.

Honorary bridesmaids were Cindy Coley, cousin of the bride and sister-in-law of the groom; Robin Edwards and Sheila Scott, all of Troutman.

The bride-elect attended Mooresville Senior High School and is employed at Parker Hannifin in Mooresville. The groom-elect attended South Iredell High School and is employed at General Instruments — Comm-Scope in Catawba County.

The groom's mother selected a lavender dress designed with a pleated bodice and matching fabric sash. Purple satin ribbon accented the long sleeves and hemline of the pleated tea length skirt.

Both of the mothers complimented their attire with white cymbidium orchid corsages.

Grandmothers of the bride couple were remembered with corsages of white daisies.

The guest registrar, wedding director, vocalist, and others involved in the wedding in any way were remembered with daisy corsages. Among those were Patti Wexler, Michelle Wing, Joann Winger and Wanda Coley, sister of the groom.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church Fellowship Hall with aunts of the bride, Peggy Matheson and Carolyn Hedrick in charge.

The three-tiered wedding cake was the focal point and it was tied in white with pink confectionery roses at each garland with a sparkling fountain beneath the cake. Cherub figures were attached to the bottom tier and a pink ribbon extended down to heart shaped cakes.

The top tier was accented with a porcelain bride and groom adorned with pretty satin ribbon, puffs of tulle and handmade floral blossoms. The two heart-shaped cakes were decorated in white and pink with garland drapes on each side. The groom's name, Lynn, was on one of the cakes while the bride's name, Teresa, was on the other cake.

An assortment of party foods and punch were served with the cake. After honeymooning at Orlando and Daytona Beach, FL, the newlyweds will make their home at Route 6, Mooresville.

The bride is a graduate of South Iredell High School and her husband attended SIHS. She also earned a certificate from Mitchell College and is employed at Rubbermaid in Statesville. The groom has served a four-year tour of duty in the U. S. Marines and is now employed by Hugh Ball Construction in Statesville. He is a member of the Mooresville Moose Lodge and a Legionnaire of the Moose.

The groom's parents entertained their son and his fiancée and the two families at a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening in the church Fellowship Hall.

Cook-Draughn Wedding Vows Pledged At First Baptist

The Reverend Chris Jenkins officiated at the wedding of Marsha Pennell Draughn and Robin Michael Cook on Saturday, October 10. The 2:00 p.m. ceremony took place in the chapel of Mooresville's First Baptist Church in a setting of simplicity and beauty with large ferns on floor stands marking the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jolie Pennell of Perth Church Road, Troutman and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cook of 338 Wedgewood Drive, Mooresville.

Traditional wedding selections were played prior to and during the ceremony by Mrs. Joan Creamer, pianist.

Little Miss Dana Draughn, daughter of the bride, served as the flower girl and she processed to the altar, prior to the processional of the bride and groom, who entered together.

The flower girl wore a floor length dress of white satin and schiffli lace fashioned with round neckline, puffed sleeves and trimmed with mauve ribbons. The hemline of the dress was accented with a full ruffle. She carried a white wicker basket adorned with white and mauve colored flowers and ribbons and filled with flower petals.

The bride was radiant in an elegant tea length dress of dusty rose schiffli lace over satin fashioned with long fitted sleeves and scalloped v-neckline in front and forming a standup collar in the back. The back bodice of the dress featured an open diamond-shaped cutout and completed the style of the dress.

She carried a nosegay of mixed white flowers with mauve miniature roses and baby's breath.

The groom wore a dark gray suit with white shirt and a dusty rose tie made from the material of the bride's dress. His boutonniere was a rosebud with baby's breath.

The bride's mother chose a street length dress of subdued shades of gray and black and the groom's mother wore a teal colored street length dress. Both of the mothers complimented their attire with corsages of white miniature silk rosebuds.

Fathers of the bride couple were remembered with mauve rosebud boutonnières.

Tracy Bugnarnier, sister of the bride, presided at the guest register. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Wedgewood Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cook, parents of the groom and they were assisted by Mrs. of the groom, Mrs. R. Kenneth Karriker and Mrs. Charles Davis.

Bridal appointments throughout the lovely home were in keeping with the wedding colors. Gorgeous potted begonias in shades of pink to deep red and wedding bells were used at vantage points in the foyer and in the formal living and dining room as well as in the breakfast room and den areas of the home.

The bridal table was covered in rose-linen and overlaid with a handmade crocheted pineapple designed cloth, made by the groom's mother.

The two-tiered wedding cake was used for the centerpiece. It was decorated in all-white and the bottom tier was graced with a small corsage of silk flowers and ribbons in shades of rose while the top tier was ornamented with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was made by Barbara Harris of Mooresville.

Crystal appointments on this table were laden with heart and wedding bell-designed "cheese" balls and assorted crackers, sausage balls, kosher dill pickle roll-ups, bacon swirls, beau-Monde dip nestled in a round of french bread, nuts and mints.

The crystal punch service was placed on a round table in the breakfast room, which was covered in a white linen cloth with lace trim and caught up at various points with pink ribbon bows.

After the bride and groom cut the traditional first slice of cake and toasted each other with punch, the serving of the cake was completed by Mrs. Sherri Pennell, sister-in-law of the bride while Mrs. R. Kenneth Karriker, aunt of the groom, presided at the punch service. Approximately 45 guests attended the reception.

As a surprise gift to the bride and groom, Pat and Bob McCann of Statesville, co-workers of the bride, had the wedding and reception videoed.

After honeymooning at Blowing Rock, the newlyweds will make their home at 239 East Stewart Avenue, Mooresville.

The bride is a graduate of South Iredell High School and Caldwell Community College. She is employed as a registered nurse at Iredell Memorial Hospital in Statesville.

The groom attended Mooresville Senior High School and Mitchell Community College and served a tour of duty in the U. S. Marines. He is employed as a welder with Alpha Karriker, aunt of the groom,

Mooresville's Newest Garden Club Holds Meeting At Brawley Company

The October 6 meeting of Mooresville's newest garden club, Moon Rakers, was held at the Brawley Company on North Main Street with Bob Brawley, owner, discussing "Winterizing Plants, Gardens and Lawns." Prior to the meeting, the club members had the opportunity to browse through the many bins of Holland bulbs and to look over new containers for house plants and the necessary foods for plants and yards.

During the business, it was reported Bernice Melchor and Nancy Kendall directed a community service project of providing and helping students set out onion sets at the Day Care Center.

Announcement was also made that the Occupational Education Class at Mooresville Junior High School has completed 50 punch art illuminaries to be used in a Christmas project of the Moon Rakers.

Several projects were discussed and will be announced at a later date but one in particular is a trip for members to Billmore House in Asheville on November 28 for the annual Candlelight Tour.

Plans are also being formulated for a club-sponsored Tour of Churches in the Mooresville area.

The November 3 meeting of the Moon Rakers Garden Club will be held at the home of Eleanor Templeton. Each member is requested to bring a homemade Christmas ornament and provide instructions as to the making of the ornament.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m.
