

Winners Galore Gather To Participate In Annual Ben Bishop Golf Tournament

Winners greatly outnumbered the losers in the annual Ben Bishop Bluebird Golf Open Tournament played this past weekend.

And that's because everybody who simply entered won a little something.

The yearly attraction, regularly the final stop on the local tournament tour, took place under ideal weather conditions Saturday and Sunday entirely on the 18-hole Mooresville Municipal Golf Course.

Although a well-known affair, it was played this year under a new format and with full corporate sponsorship, marking the first time in the distinguished history of the event that it secured a major sponsor.

Victor Blackwell & Co., a Charlotte-based enterprise specializing in financial services, served as the Ben Bishop's primary sponsor, enabling the tournament to provide extras never before present during its annual run.

"Victor Blackwell & Co. served as our angel this year," summoned Spencer McGlaughlin, who once again served as tournament director. "We feel this is one of the best tournaments we've ever had here.

Just by entering, all 60 players, including enough women to form their own flight, received a golf shirt, a sleeve of balls, a complimentary golf packet, and a Ben Bishop Bluebird Open bag tag.

In addition, upon registering, all golfers received two tickets, one for them and a guest, to partake in a catered buffet-style barbecue dinner offered after the affair's opening round of play.

Those items alone, were nearly worth the price of admission all by themselves.

Also, every tournament participant automatically became eligible to win some of the over $600 worth of golf associated merchandise that was up for grabs in door prizes.

Items given away during the Saturday night drawing included 10 dozen golf balls, five putters, two Dunlop golf bags, a couple of Ping golf bags, and a Hogan copper special wedge.

All of these prizes were offered to participants even before the final round of play took place Sunday, and it was that last 18 holes of play that determined the top three finishers in each of the six competitive flights.

The tournament format, itself, was changed from that followed in previous years.

Instead of being played under the two-man, best-ball format followed in the past, this year's Ben Bishop, named after a prominent former Mooresville resident and avid golfer who was largely responsible for establishing the Bluebird Trail that now winds through the golf course, was played on an individual basis.

determined which flight each golfer earned a spot in, and then Sunday's score alone was used to determine the top three finishers in each of the half dozen brackets.

With one exception, Sunday's score only was used as the determining factor. That exception was in the ladies flight, where its competitors two day total, plus the use of respective handicaps, was used to decide its top three award-winning places.

In each of the flights, first place was awarded with a set of Hogan golf irons, second place was rewarded by the presenting of a set of Hogan woods, and third place was honored with a golf bag.

In the most competitive of flights, it being the championship one, Bodo Culberson, the brother-in-law of Ron Wilson, among the favorites in the flight, scored with a 78 Sunday to place second, and won the woods, while the bag was offered to third-place finisher Wayne Archer after his 79.

In the first flight, champion Keith Beaver, not only charged from behind but also from a lower flight to claim the first-place irons, doing so with a round of 71 Sunday to lead all chargers in that department. For his score, he was awarded the set of irons.

The woods in the championship flight were claimed by Donnie Davis, who did so by shooting a Sunday round of two-over par 74. Third place, and the bag that went with it, was presented to Kent Chamberlain, the brother-in-law of runner-up Davis, who shot a 75.

Unbeaten FAC List To Dwindle

The list of unbeaten teams within the Salisbury Athletic Conference varsity football action remains at three for a third straight week as a result of last Friday's battles.

But it won't last a fourth.

It is assumed because this week, two of those three teams meet head-to-head in the upcoming Friday night's headline bout.

Fall Title Caps Kenny's Comeback

When counting ballots for comeback football team of the year, look for Kenny's Boat Landing to win in a landslide.

Kenny's, fielding some new players as well as some carry-overs from the team that finished in last place during the Men's Summer Football League, put the finishing touches on the year's comeback story with a pair of wins last week to sew up first place in the Men's Fall Football League.

Kenny's needed some last-night help, some of which it provided by winning its finale and the other which came the way of a loss on the part of Reddens Chiropractic Center, the latter which had lead the most laps during regular-season play.

As a result of the dramatic ending to the nearly three-month long season, Kenny's fashioned a circuit-best, 11-2 showing, one of three teams to finish in double figures in the win column but the only one to emerge victorious in as many as 11 games.

That allows Kenny's to post a near reversal of the 1-12 record it slouched through during the summer league, a season of play that featured a number of the same names as those that played in the fall.

With Kenny's capping its comeback to lay claim to the league's championship hardware, second-place was shared by Reddens and Wades Kooker Sales, both who crafted 10-3 records on the field.

While it was Reddens that allowed that final-week loss to knock it from the throne, it is Wades that is perhaps kicking itself even harder, as two of its three losses were awarded as results of forfeits.

The Corner Store, also a one-time league leader and still in the running until late in the season, finished alone in fourth place at 8-4, just ahead of the same 8-5 notices recorded by the likes of Custom Products, F&B-Well Drilling, and Stryker's Vroom Company.

Those three also round out the list of teams that managed to play at or above the 500 level for the season.

Heading up the second division are the Rowdies and Laney's Fish Camp, both at 6-7 for the season. It capped a mediocre encore performance for Laney's, which was the summer league's regular-season season and runner-up in the tour's name.

Ben-Ryan Corporation and Brington's Surgical Center both finished their seasons at 5-8, marking the first below 500 season for the latter.

Rounding out the league's roster of teams finished Specialty Woods at 3-10, followed by Fleetwood Homes at 2-11.

With players gearing up their acts for two weeks of postseason play that cranks up this week, a number of them slapped final week home runs.

Among them was Wades' Baxter Burris, who slapped two well beyond the green colored fence that marks the boundaries at Moor Park Burris added another dinger earlier in the week.

Others with inside-the-park homers to the credit last week included F&B's Cleoman Henderson, Ritchie's Johnson and Donald Ray Torrence, Brinton's Steve Freeman, and Kenyon's Craig Preece.

Though last week's action brought regular-season play to a close, it didn't end all Fall League action.

All teams entered this week's double-elimination tournament, which, like the regular season, has all the action taking place on the Moor Park field.

As during the season, tournament games will take place on Monday through Thursday evenings until a champion is declared.

Upon the completion of the tournament, regular season and postseason team and individual honors will be presented by the league-sponsoring Mooresville Recreation Department.

All of the league soccer matches get underway at 7 p.m.

Two of last week's three winners did so by posting some impressive numbers, as both Statesville and South Iredell scored at will while clamping down defensively.

At Forbush, the visiting Greyhounds extended their current winning streak to four games, second best in the league behind North Iredell, with a 5-4-6 punishing of the host Falcons. It was the second straight lopsided loss suffered by Forbush, which was similarly demolished a week earlier by South Iredell, 54-8.

With the win, Statesville, appearing well-healed after an 0-3 start, moved to 4-3 for the season and improved to 3-4 within the league. As for Forbush, the loss leaves it limping with marks of 1-5 and 0-3, respectively.

South Iredell kept pace with Statesville by turning in its second straight offensive outburst, erupting for over 400 total yards in a 46-7 scalping of the host West Iredell Warriors. It was South's third straight win, giving it the league's third best current winning streak.

This week, in addition to the cross-country battle in Statesville, South Iredell celebrates homecoming by hosting non-league foe Providence Day. West Iredell travels to North Surry, where each will be looking for league win number one, and Forbush visits Wilkes Central.

This week marks the final time this season that all seven FAC teams will be in action at the same time.

Moore'sville's soccer team hopes the second half of its Salisbury Athletic Soccer Conference play begins the same way the first half ended.

With a Blue Devil win.

Senior High's bookers closed out the first half of FASC play with a resounding, 5-2 routing of the host Salisbury Hornets Wednesday night, enabling the locals to secure a share of second place in the league standings entering the stretch drive portion of the season.

Moore'sville, which observed its second and final open date of the season Monday, enters tonight's (Wednesday) match with a 4-2 league mark, good enough for a share of second with Statesville.

Both teams trail undefeated and reigning league champion South Iredell, which takes a 7-0 conference record, and a 12-0 overall mark, into tonight's battle.

The rest of the league christened the second half of league play Monday night, while Moore'sville, under first-year head coach Steve Stith, waits until tonight to begin its second phase of league play.

The last four weeks of the season will determine the two teams earning postseason bids and receiving the right to represent the FASC in the statewide playoffs.

Wednesday night in Salisbury, Moore'sville never tailed the first-time league members, who remain winless overall and in the league heading into this week's play.

Matt Touchton scratched for a pair of goals to pad his team-high total, and Brad Chappell, Frank Matthews and Jenny Satterfield all chipped in with one net-finding kick each.

With her goal, Satterfield, a second-season player and the team's only female member, becomes the first girl in the conference to score a goal this fall.

The Blue Devils held a marginal lead over Salisbury in shots at goal, with second-year goalie Jeff Lovette being credited with seven saves.

After taking Monday off, Moore'sville faces its stiffest challenge of the second half when the Blue Devils square off against the top-ranked Vikings this evening.

It will be the second of two meetings between the teams this season, as South spoiled then-host Moore'sville's conference debut with a 5-1 win almost a month ago.

It will be the first of two road trips slated for the Devils during the week, as they will then head to North Iredell the following Monday seeking their second win of the season over the Raiders.

All of the league soccer matches get underway at 7 p.m.
