

Mooresville Tribune

MOOREMILL MT. ULLA OSTWALT TROUTMAN MAZEPPA SHEPHERDS MAYNEW TOWN SHINNVILLE DOOLIE MT. MOURNE BELLS CROSSROADS TERRILL CASCADE MILL

"Although I Disagree With Everything You Say I Will Defend Unto Death Your Right To Say It"

VOL. LIII

Single Copy 25c

Mooresville, N.C. (28115) Wednesday, October 21, 1987

No. 36

Forest On West Wilson At U.S. 21 Makes Room For A 110-Apartment Community

A 110-apartment complex is being built on an 11-acre site off West Wilson Avenue near U.S. 21.

The complex — nine 12-unit buildings and one two-unit structure — is being built by C.A. Bailey Jr., of Winston-Salem, president of C.A. Bailey and Son Inc., a real estate developing corporation with headquarters in Winston-Salem.

Facilities include swimming pool, tennis courts, clubhouse and laundry facilities, according to Gary Bumgardner of Winston-Salem, project manager for C.A. Bailey and Son.

The dwelling units will be brick with cedar siding. All apartments will be two-story, and all will have two bedrooms. Access to the development will be on West Wilson.

Each apartment will be equipped with a stove and refrigerator, and all will have washer and dryer connections. Rent will be $325 to $350 monthly.

The first four of the 12-unit buildings will be ready for occupancy by early March, Bumgardner said. As soon as these are completed, he added, work will begin on others.

Land for the housing project was purchased B.K. Barringer of Mooresville at an undisclosed price.

C.A. Bailey and Son Inc. owns a total of 400 apartments in Winston-Salem, Kernersville and High Point.

First Of 10 Planned Buildings Takes Shape On 11-Acre Site

Griffith, Borkowsky, Kiblinger, From Left, Backed By Crossroads

Crossroads, Rec. Clubs Will Offer Alternative Activities For Youth

The end of cruising and downtown lounging is not yet, certainly, but Mooresville-area young people soon will have viable alternatives.

Three Mooresville women are opening a facility teenagers can call their own. They are planning a grand-opening Halloween party, complete with music, dancing, food and costume party.

Patty Kiblinger is president of the corporation behind the new business, Claire Borkowsky is vice president and Lillian Griffith is treasurer.

All are Mooresville residents and long-time friends. They said this week the young center has been two years in the planning.

They have leased the former Amvets building at 120 Kerr St., just off North Main. The facility has 5,000 square feet of floor space, kitchen facilities, central air and heat — all the comforts of home away from home. Plenty of parking is available.

Group Home Funded For Iredell

Ten North Carolina counties — including Iredell — have been selected to receive funds from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development for the construction of group homes for chronically mentally ill.

Iredell's group home could be in operation by mid-1989, according to Daylon T. Greene, area director of Tri-County Mental Health.

The projected cost of the home, which will follow all HUD guidelines in construction, will be approximately $150,000, and the annual operational cost will also be in that neighborhood.

At this point, Greene said he had no idea where the home in Iredell would be built.

Continuing, Greene said the home would be nice and that the location of such homes in the past have tended to enhance surrounding property value.

"There's a real need for such a home," he said.

See HOMES Page 16

Mayhew Is Loan Officer For NCNB

Alan H. Mayhew has been named commercial lending officer for the Mooresville offices of Charlotte-based NCNB National Bank, according to NCNB's Mooresville City Executive Jim Murdock.

Mayhew, who joined the bank in September, succeeds Melanie Chrysler, who has been promoted to private banking in Greensboro.

Mayhew earned a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Gardner-Webb College at Boiling Springs with a concentration in financial management.

He has completed the Robert Morris Associates Omega Series and is a graduate of the Advanced Management Program of the North Carolina Bankers Association.

Mayhew is a member and past president of the Mooresville Chamber of Commerce.

See MAYHEW Page 16

All Quiet On School, Town Fronts As Elections Near

Mooresville's Nov. 3 town and school board elections will be the quietest in years, veteran political observers predict.

Reason: only one municipal office is contested, and all incumbent school board members are unopposed.

Election Day voter turnout will be extremely light, according to election officials and others who have followed local politics for many years.

Mayor Joe Knox is seeking his 10th two-year term. He is unopposed.

The only competitive commissioner race is for the at-large seat. Robert Randall, Ward II commissioner for 16 years, is offering to fill this seat. He is opposed by Charles Troutman, a retired Mooresville businessman and a newcomer to the political arena.

David Tompkins is unopposed for the Ward I seat.

November 24 Christmas Parade Set

Mooresville's annual Christmas parade will move through downtown Nov. 24.

The parade, sponsored by the Mooresville Jaycees, will kick off at 4 p.m.

Dean Burgess and Rock Pickard are co-chairmen of the sponsoring organization's parade committee.

Made possible by the wholehearted support of the area's businesses, industrial plants and individuals, the seasonal pageant traditionally kicks off the holiday shopping season in Mooresville.

Thousands of spectators are expected to line the parade route.

The movable feast for the eyes and ears will feature dignitaries, floats, bands, pretty girls, and, of course, Santa Claus.

The parade will form on McNeely and Culp Avenues, and move southward on Main Street from the Port City Shopping Center to Wilson Avenue.

As in years past, there will be a number of professionally-built as well as locally-constructed floats.

Individuals, business houses, churches and schools are invited to participate.

See PARADE Page 16

Reminder: Turn Time Back Sat.

Fall-back time in time nears, as it does each year the last Sunday in October.

The annual six-month changeover from Daylight Saving Time to Standard Time will become effective at 2 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 25.

And, indications are that the change from Daylight Saving Time to Standard Time will go smoothly in Mooresville and Iredell County.

When you go to bed Saturday night, Oct. 24, you should move your watches and clocks back one hour then proceed on the usual schedule the next day, Sunday, Oct. 25.

Standard Time will continue in effect until the first Sunday in April, 1988, when clocks and watches will be set forward one hour, marking the beginning of another six months of Daylight Saving Time.

As in most parts of the country, industrial plants, schools and offices in Mooresville and Iredell County will maintain the same schedules under Standard Time as they used under Daylight Saving Time.

Kiblinger said.

"We know music is important to our young people," she said, "so we have invested in a really fine sound system."

Crossroads will offer pool tables, video games, hot dogs, hamburgers, pizza, soft drinks. It will be open from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m.

See YOUTH Page 16

the Ward II seat being vacated by Randall.

Grady Shoe, a 14-year Ward I commissioner, is unopposed in his re-election bid.

Polling places in the municipal election: Ward I, Senior High School; Ward II, National Guard Armory; Ward III, Park View Elementary School; and Ward IV, multi-purpose building at Mooresville Golf Course.

Unopposed candidates for the Mooresville Board of Education are incumbents Lavette Teeter, Gary Roach and Mildred Miller. School district polling places are the same as the town's, with the respective wards extending into the surrounding rural areas that are part of the school district.

In Troutman, three seats on the board of aldermen are to be filled, and the candidates for these offices are unopposed. Jane Brewer and Leon Brown Jr. are first-time candidates for board seats, while Thelma Dulin is seeking re-election. Loren Powell is unopposed in his bid for mayor, an office he held 16 and a half years before leaving it four years ago.

Troutman's present mayor, Ernest Sides, is not seeking re-election.

Mooresville's town election will be held under the direction of the Mooresville Elections Board, chaired by Walter Jones.

The Iredell County Elections Board will supervise the school board election in Mooresville and the Troutman municipal election.

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

A new service called the Corporate Interviewing Network looks like another idea whose time has come in the world of big business. You might think it takes a little more humanity out of man, but when you give it some thought you realize that a country ready for microwave meals, shopping by television and drive-in traffic court can handle this little time saver.

What CIN says it does is help big outfits cut travel and time for busy people that hire people for big jobs. The network videotapes everybody that applies for a job doing the same things, answering the same questions under the same conditions. CIN says this helps the applicants by giving all of em an even shot, and it helps the company by letting the personnel manager view the tapes and use the same standard in picking the person he wants.

The network works the other way to. Say a young feller wants to shop around for the best offer. Instead of sending out written reports on what he's done and wants to do he hires CIN to make him videotapes to send to the personnel people. The new approach gets attention and results and saves time for everybody.

I mentioned this item during the session at the country store Saturday night, and Ed Doolittle said it looked to him like another case of life imitating technology. What big banks, big law firms, big insurance companies and big everything want, Ed said, is all their big people acting, looking, talking and thinking like they come out of the same cookie cutter.

Practical speaking, went on Ed, this kind of assembly line operation does what it's supposed to do, but some folks are asking is what it does what ought to be done. For instant,

Inside This Week

—Mooresville Lions Club's annual Ladies Night program to feature guest appearance by TV personality, section one, page 10.

—Bethesda's Festival in the Park is just right for the time and the place, section one, page 12.

—At the five-week point, the Mooresville-South Iredell United Way campaign reaches the 40 percent mark, section one, page 13.

—Spotlight on business shines on year-old company specializing in custom-designed wood products, section two, page 8.

—Sixth annual invitational Blue Devil Band Classic is declared the 'biggest and best' ever, section two, page 14.

—Park View Elementary takes part in principal exchange as part of an educational enhancement program for school administrators, section three, page 11.

Local Board Undecided About Trip

The Mooresville Board of Education has not yet decided if it will take part in a trip designed to provide information about a model school concept for Iredell County.

Dr. Sam Houston, superintendent of Mooresville's schools, said this week that the board has not had an opportunity to discuss the trip to the Research Triangle Institute. He added that the board would talk about the trip and possibly make a decision at its Nov. 2 meeting.

The Mooresville board, along with the Statesville Board of Education, the Iredell County Board of Education and the Iredell County Board of Commissioners, were invited to take part in the trip by Larry Hedrick, chairman of the county board of commissioners.

The county commissioners, the Statesville Board of Education and the county board of education have already voted to participate in the trip. No date or time for the trip has been set.

See STUDY Page 16

School Merger Approved In Rowan County

While school consolidation has been and continues to be a hot item of discussion in Iredell County, Iredell's neighbor to the east has crossed the school-merger threshold.

Last week, the Rowan County and Salisbury boards of education voted to approve a merger of the two school systems.

The Rowan County Board of Commissioners is expected to give its approval to the merger plan at its Nov. 2 meeting. The meeting will include a public hearing on the merger plan.

At a joint meeting Friday afternoon, members of the Rowan County School Board and the Salisbury School Board discussed the issues one more time and then voted in favor of the merger. The current plans call for the two systems to become one as of July 1, 1989.

The meeting ended with the signing of the eight-page merger agreement.

See MERGER Page 16

Peavy Critical After Wreck; Other Family Members Hurt

All four members of a Mooresville family were injured, one critically, in a two-car crash on N.C. 150 at Pumpkin Center Saturday night.

Most seriously hurt was James Peavy, 44, of 1329 Coddle Creek Dr. He is in Charlotte Memorial Hospital suffering from internal injuries and numerous fractures, according to a family member.

A spokesperson for the hospital this (Wednesday) morning said Peavy was in the hospital's intensive care unit and that his condition was listed as critical.

Other members of the family involved in the Lincoln County accident are Phyllis Peavy, 44, and the couple's two children, Jamie, 13, and Jennifer, 8.

Mrs. Peavy and the children were released following treatment at Lincoln Memorial Hospital in Lincolnton.

Peavy, who also was taken to the Lincolnton hospital, was transferred by helicopter almost immediately to Charlotte Memorial.

Mrs. Peavy suffered numerous cuts, bruises and abrasions. Jennifer suffered a broken collar bone and Jamie sustained a broken left arm in the 6:15 p.m. crash.

Investigating officers of the N.C. Highway Patrol said James Peavy was driving when his car crossed the centerline at a hill and crashed head-on into the eastbound Peavy station wagon.

Klinesmith allegedly left the scene of the accident and wasn't found until four hours later at Lincoln Memorial Hospital where he had gone for treatment.

Klinesmith, who was treated and released, is charged with driving while impaired, reckless driving, hit-and-run involving personal injury and the medical staff at the Lake Norman Regional Medical Center, formerly Lowrance Hospital.

The creation of the office complex is a step toward the future for the medical center, according to Blackburn. He said office space would be provided for current staff members and additional physicians recruited in the future by Health Management Associates, Inc., the firm that owns the medical center.

Blackburn said that although 13 physicians have chosen to come on board during the last 20 months, the new office center will provide office space for several members of the medical staff.

See FURCHES Page 16

$198,655 Is Town Powell Bill Share

Mooresville and the four other incorporated towns within the bounds of Iredell County have received a total of $689,104.47 in street funds, according to the North Carolina Department of Transportation.

Mooresville received $198,654.55, while Troutman received $35,380.71, and Statesville received $439,568.52.

Harmony was the recipient of $12,070.42, while $3,432.27 went to Love Valley.

The state's town streets will ride a little smoother next year thanks to the distribution this month of $63.8 million in street aid to 470 municipalities across North Carolina.

The aid, known as "Powell Bill" funds, is allotted to towns by the North Carolina Department of Transportation for improvements to streets and roads not included on the state highway system.

This year's record allocation includes for the first time the full effects of an increase in the level of contributions — from 1% cents per mile to 2% cents per mile.

See POWELL Page 16

Crocuses Spring In Fall

Crocuses, traditionally, are harbingers of spring, often appearing through March snow. These, in the yard at the McLean homeplace on the corner of North Church Street and Statesville Avenue, have their seasons discombobulated. They and others are in full bloom.

ALAN H. MAYHEW