Couple Married Recently At Home Of Bride's Parents

Wanda Sue Corbier and Larry Thomas Stilwell were united in marriage on September 12, at 1:00 p.m. at the home of the bride's parents, Jacob and Ramona Corbier of China Grove. The groom is the son of Tom and Joyce Stilwell of Kannapolis.

The Reverend R. J. Hammond of Kannapolis officiated.

The bride wore a white street length dress with floral designs and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses.

She was attended by Nancy Shoe as maid of honor. Her attire was in a peach color.

The groom's best man was Thomas Stilwell and ushers were Tim and Phillip Stilwell, brothers of the groom.

A reception followed the ceremony with Marie Guinn, Jewel Wilson and

Get-Acquainted Social Held By Sorority

A "get-acquainted" social was held for the new pledges and transfers to the Gamma Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi on Saturday, October 10.

Held at the home of Suzie and Pat Hauser in Troutman, each member brought hors d'oeuvres that were placed on a table decorated by the hostess.

Thirteen Beta Sigma Phi members enjoyed the socializing, getting to know the new members and having a chance to meet the husbands of the new members.

Plans are underway for another social in October.

Miss Poston Becomes Bride Of Mr. Johnson At Peninsula Baptist

The Reverend Robert Jackson officiated at the Saturday, October 24, wedding of Sherry Renee Poston and Timothy Leonard Johnson at Peninsula Baptist Church in Mooreville. The bride is the daughter and stepdaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Morrow of Route 4, Mooreville and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Poston of 124 North Clover Street, Hollis, Oklahoma. The groom is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Johnson of Route 8, Mooreville and the late Leonard Johnson.

Wedding music was provided by Debbie Peebles of Charlotte. Selections included Devoted To You, Bryan; Wedding Prayer, Dunlap; Prelude 1, Bach; Whither Thou Goest, Singer; and Flying Free, Basil.

Wagner's Bridal Chorus was played for the processional and Midsummer Night's Dream by Mendelssohn for the recessional.

The sanctuary was ornamented with two seven branched candelabras, enhanced by two floral arrangements in mixed flowers and featuring the colors of the bridal attire. Reserved pews were marked with satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal satin gown with a fitted bodice. The gown had a Venice lace wedding band collar and a sheer imported illusion tulle skirt that was edged in matching Venice lace and chanted lace ruffles. Venice lace scroll motifs were applied on the bodice and on the front and back.

The bride's hair was styled in a classic updo with a veil. She carried a bouquet of white and pink roses.

The bride's bridesmaids were dressed in white and pink. The groom's best man was David Stover of Statesville and Larry Brookhaver Jr. of Mooreville.

A scalloped fan train in cathedral length had scattered matching lace ruffles and satin bows in each of the scalloped points.

A wreath of silk apple blossoms, pearl peps and silk white lilies held her full blusher veil and the fingertip veil was adorned with scattered pearls. The blusher and fingertip veil featured a hand rolled edge.

She carried a cascade of pink roses, orange blossoms, gypsophila and ivy.

Maid of honor was Karen Plyler of Mooreville. She wore a tea length gown of suede rose tulle with a high chanted lace collar and a natural waistline. The bodice was designed with flowing chanted lace that formed small cap sleeves.

She carried a white wicker basket of orange blossoms, pink miniature carnations and starflowers in dark and light mauve colors.

Bonnie Wright of Chesapeake, VA, was a bridesmaid. She was dressed similar to the honor attendant and carried the same style bouquet.

Jana Waugh was a junior bridesmaid and Barbie Waugh was a flower girl. They wore daphne rose gowns of sheer polyester with lace.

MRS. TIMOTHY LEONARD JOHNSON

from Dr. and Mrs. Jim Fryar, the bride and groom stood in Norfolk, VA, to visit Keith Poston, brother of the bride, who was unable to attend due to an accident. Upon their return, the newlyweds will make their home at Route 4, Mooreville.

A 1983 graduate of Mooreville Senior High School, the bride completed her studies in the dental assistant program at Rowan Technical College in Salisbury in 1984. She is employed by Dr. James Fryar as a dental assistant.

The groom attended South Iredell High School and is employed by Lloyd Hudspeth Carpentry and Cabinet Shop, Mooreville.

The groom's best man was David Stover of Statesville and Larry Brookhaver Jr. of Mooreville.

"BPW Focus Issues" Topic At Annual Banquet; WOY Honor For Haire

Janet Sue Auten of Boone was the keynote speaker for the annual Women of the Year banquet of the BPW-NC Mountain Area Vice President and is a former state recording secretary, chairman of Spotlight on Women and District III Director. She has a BS and MA degree and works as a faculty member of business education at Watauga High School at Boone. She is active throughout the state in professional associations and was listed in Who's Who in American Vocational Education in 1980.

The speaker's topic, "for the evening centered around the 1987 Federation Focus Issues of Pay Equity, Supporting Women in the Work Place, The Changing Family and Involving Women in the Political Process."

She covered the role of women and leaders in the workplace. Women tend to focus on issues that are female oriented such as equal rights and abortion. She has hopes that in the next ten years women will rise to positions of true leadership and power in business and society in general. Women must prove they are leaders and capable of doing the right thing.

The business world is very competitive and requires intestinal fortitude, persistence, precise judgment, consistency and tough, and strong-willed individuals.

Many suggestions were made in order for women to climb the corporate ladder. She noted one of the greatest source of waste in business today is people's failure to live up to their full potential. Before one can begin to reach that potential one must have been motivated and results driven goal. Attitudes affect us and the people who look at us, quite strongly.

The speaker was introduced by Betty Carpenter, a member of the public relations committee.

BPW President Linda Turner called the meeting to order and presided over the banquet. Tanya Knight led the collect and pledge and Sue Sherrill gave the invocation and introduced the distinguished guests: "They were: Patty Kilbinger, district 3 director, a past woman of the year and past president; Bobbie Cannon, district 3 secretary, past president and past woman of the year; Juanita Davis, women's editor of the Mooreville Tribune and past woman of the year; and Mooreville's Mayor and Mrs. Joe Knox.

Other guests were Laura Page, president of the Boone BPW Club; Mary Hammer of Statesville club and who issued an invitation to the local club to join their organization on Nov. 2 for a program on "Stress" being presented by Dr. Sharon Powell.

The proclamation, signed by Mayor Knox, declared October 18-24 as National Business Women's Week and was delivered by him.

Cathy Critz-Lee recognized former Women of the Year in chronological order: Juanita Davis, Verlin Davis, Hazel Basinger, Patty Kilbinger, Alice Scott, Jane Cagle, Mabel Robertson, Sue Sherrill, Bobbie Cannon and Alma Oliphant.

Verlin Davis, PR chairman, presented this year's nominees for the coveted honor and they were Maxine Burrell, Cathy Critz-Lee and Sara Haire. Alma Oliphant, 1986 Woman of the Year, pinned Sara Haire as the 1987 Woman of the Year. Certificates of Appreciation for their contributions were presented to each nominee.

Appreciation was also expressed to Oliphant for her contributions and she was welcomed to the elite Past Women of the Year circle.

The Woman of the Year is selected by secret ballot of her fellow club members.

During the business portion of the meeting, standing committee reports were heard. Sallie Thompson son, finance chairman, reported on the success of the organization's recent bazaar.

Joyce Draper, foundation chairman, asked that all orders for Christmas bells be submitted by the November meeting. She also encouraged support of the planned November 7 trip to South Carolina as all funds realized from this will be used for scholarships.

November 24 are Food Lion Day for each tape a five percent rebate will be given the State Federation for use in hosting the 1990 National Convention in Charlotte.

Cathy Critz-Lee extended an invitation to the members to her home for the December meeting which will be the annual Christmas party.

President Turner announced and called for a recommendation from the Board of Directors to comply with an increase in the cost of meals. Discussion followed with recommendation being passed.

Patty Kilbinger announced the opening of "Crossroads," a teen night club for ages 15-20 years which will have video games, hot dogs, hamburgers, (short orders), dance floor, and D.Js. The club will be drug and alcohol free with inside and outside security. It will be located in the AmVet Bingo Building on Kerr Street. Other co-entrepreneurs are Lillian Griffith and Claire Borkowsky.

The meeting adjourned with the group reciting the Federation Pledge and singing the Emblem Benediction in unison.

NURSE OF THE YEAR

EMPLOYEE OF THE YEAR

Dottie Mack, R.N.

Dottie is recognized for her professional and compassionate dedication to nursing. She attends to the needs of patients and their families during the early morning hours of 3rd shift.

"I always feel good about coming to work when I know Dottie has worked the night before. I know patients have had the professional nursing care they need when she's there. Dottie can handle whatever situation arises during her shift, and patients always come first with her."

Mary Fortin, Director
Med-Surg. Nursing Dept.

Cathy Brannon, R.T.

The unique quality about Cathy Brannon that makes her stand out above the rest is her warm, positive outlook that comes to work with her every day. Cathy is always professional and willing to learn more to improve her skills. She has been a part of the LNRMC X-ray department for the past twelve years and hopefully many more. Cathy lives close to the hospital and is often called in during emergencies. She always comes when called, and she comes in with a smile on her face.
