Commitment Services Set At Coddle Creek ARP Church

Commitment services are scheduled to be conducted at Coddle Creek Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church next week.

The services will get underway with the 11 a.m. service Sunday and continue each evening at 7:30 o'clock through Wednesday.

Also, each morning at 10 o'clock, Dr. Ross will lead a Bible study for all who are able to attend at that time of day.

"This series is continuing the effort of Coddle Creek Church to bring to our community men of exceptional ability in expounding the scriptures," according to the Rev. James A. Hunt, pastor of the local church.

A native of Uniontown, Pa., Dr. Ross graguated magna cum laude from the University of Pittsburgh, with a bachelor of arts degree in philosophy in 1974.

DR. MARK ROSS

He received his master of divinity degree from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary in 1979, graduating cum laude.

He earned his Ph.D degree from the University of Keele in England in June 1984.

Over the years, Dr. Ross has received a number of honors and awards.

Currently, Dr. Ross is minister of education at the First Presbyterian Church, Associate Reformed Synod, Columbia, S.C.

From September 1973 until June 1974, he was director of the Junior High Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh, Pa.

And, from October 1981 to October 1982, he was assistant to the minister of the Third Presbyterian Church in Uniontown, Pa. He also has served as assistant to the minister of the Bellefield Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. Ross and his wife, Constance, have two children: Steven, 10; and Emily, 5.

The public is cordially invited to attend the series of services at Coddle Creek.

The Leaders Of Junior High's Academic Elite

Members of the Junior Beta Club at Mooresville Junior High School have selected club officers for the current school year. The officers will be responsible for overseeing Beta Club activities and projects throughout the school year. The Junior Beta Club is an in-school organization for classroom leaders at junior high. Students selected for membership in the club must maintain high academic averages and meet behavior and citizenship standards. The club officers are, from left, Boyce Hunt, treasurer; Jeremy Smith, vice president; Carrie Johnson, president; Rebecca Blackmon, secretary; and Carmen Johnson, reporter.

Faith Presbyterian Church Plans Revival, Homecoming

Revival services are scheduled to be conducted at Faith Presbyterian Church next week, Sept. 27-30, with services each evening at 7 o'clock.

The Rev. Stephen Stout, pastor of Prosperity Presbyterian Church at Huntersville, will be the revival speaker.

Each service will feature special music by area gospel groups.

A nursery will be provided.

Mr. Stout will deliver a series of messages from Ephesians 2.

He was educated at Westminister Theological Seminary and received his doctor of ministry degree from Covenent Theological Seminary in Philadelphia.

He is married and the father of three children.

The Rev. Robert Brawley, pastor of Faith Presbyterian Church, joins members of the church in inviting the public to attend the revival services as well as the activities of Homecoming Day.

Faith Presbyterian Church is located on Faith Road; just off N.C. 115 at Mount Mourne.

Homecoming Day will be observed at Faith Presbyterian Church on Sunday, Sept. 27, with the Rev. Stephen Stout, pastor of Prosperity Presbyterian Church at Huntersville, as the speaker at the 11 a.m. worship service.

Regina Hannagan of Charlotte will provide special music.

Following the morning worship service, dinner will be served picnic-style, and in the afternoon there will be a gospel hymn sing.

REV. STEPHEN STOUT

Gilliland Clan Plans Reunion

The 11th annual reunion of the Charles Wesley Gilliland family is scheduled to be held Sept. 27.

Getting underway at 1 p.m., the reunion will be held at Whitman Park Baptist Church, just north of Mooresville on N.C. 115.

The reunion is being hosted by Larry and Brenda Williams.

All members of the clan and friends are invited to attend.

Each family is requested to bring a well-filled basket of food.

Local Ministers To Teach Classes

Four Mooresville ministers are among the faculty that will teach classes and lead in worship Sept. 28-29 at an area Baptist training school designed to improve Bible teaching.

The two-evening school is being offered by the South Yadkin Baptist Association for its 53 churches and 11,532 Sunday School members. It will be held from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. at Diamond Hill Baptist in Statesville.

Eighteen different courses are being offered for Sunday School members, teachers and general officers. Classes are also being offered in preschool through youth age groups for children of parents attending the conferences.

Rev. Jack Bagwell of Mooresville is organizer of the school and association Sunday School director.

Rev. Robert Richardson, pastor of Southside Baptist, Mooresville, will teach "Bible Teaching for Adults Through the Sunday School" for teachers of adult Bible study.

Rev. Terry Belew, minister of education and outreach at Southside, will teach "Ways to Lead in Learning" in the conference for general officers.

Rev. Kermit (Rusty) Burns, minister of music and youth at Southside, will provide special music during the inspiration time Monday.

"This is a great opportunity for all members, teachers and other Sunday School workers to spend time learning ways to improve Bible teaching and learning," said Bagwell.

"We have an excellent lineup of teachers and courses and encourage all area churches to have as many participants as possible," he added.

Bagwell, member of First Baptist, Mooresville, is a retired employee of the Baptist Sunday School Board in Nashville, Tenn., and also worked previously for the Baptist State Convention in Raleigh. Before his denominational employment he pastored churches High Shoals, Asheville and Shelbyville, Ky. He is a graduate of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky.

REV. KERMIT BURNS

REV. JACK BAGWELL

REV. TERRY BELEW

REV. ROBERT RICHARDSON

Burns served churches in Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina before coming to Southside. He is a graduate of the Converse College School of Music in Spartanburg, S.C. and is currently director of the Mooresville Area Community Chorus.

Belew served churches in Kentucky and Indiana before coming to Southside. He is a graduate of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky.

Richardson pastored churches in Roxboro, Nathalie, Va., and Ruskin, Fla., before coming to Southside. He is a graduate of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Wake Forest.

Following are other courses and teachers for the training school:

"An Introduction to the Bible," for adult Sunday School members and leaders will be taught by Dr. Jack Causey, pastor, First Baptist, Statesville.

"Basic Sunday School Work," for adult Sunday School members and leaders will be taught by Dr. Ralph Carter, Jr., pastor, Western Avenue Baptist, Statesville.

"The Baptist Faith and Message," will be taught by Rev. Wendell Davis, interim pastor, Troutman Baptist, for adult Sunday School members and leaders.

"Bible Teaching Through the Sunday School," for general officers will be taught by pastors and church staff from across the association and will cover the following topics: Why We Teach Sunday School, The Teaching-Learning Experience, An Understanding Teacher, Reaching To Teach, Ways To Lead In Learning, The Setting For Teaching, Planning To Make A Difference and The Rewards of Teaching.

"How to Guide Adults," for singles will be taught by Judy Dilday, First Baptist, Mooresville.

"The Sunday School Providing for Homebound Adults," will be taught by Helen Watts, homebound director, First Baptist, Statesville.

"Cradle Roll: Visitation," will be taught by Vaughn Brock, First Baptist, Statesville.

"Bible Teaching for Preschoolers," will be taught by Betty and Walter Morphis, Western Avenue Baptist, Statesville.

"Bible Teaching for Children Through the Sunday School," will be taught for Sunday children's workers by Linda Rogers, Western Avenue Baptist, Statesville. It will also be taught for young children's workers by Mary Johnson of Diamond Hill Baptist, Statesville.

"Bible Teaching for Youth Through the Sunday School," will be taught by Walter and Caroline Garner, Statesville First Baptist youth workers and Dale Ellis.

"Youth Are Witnesses Too" will be taught for junior and senior high young people attending the conference by Rev. Gary McKinne, minister of education and youth at Front Street Baptist, Statesville.

"Jesus, Lord and Savior" will by taught for older children attending by Pam Hathcock, Berea Baptist, Mooresville.

"Who is Jesus" will be taught for younger children attending by Ruth Estep, Helen Brown and Diane Chelius, Southside Baptist, Mooresville.

"How the Bible Helps People" and "My Church" are themes for preschoolers attending and will be taught by Julia Inman, Debbie Pierce and Zoe Ann Williams.

Rev. Eugene Hager is association director with offices located in Statesville.

Laura Memorial Church Of God Plans Revival

Revival services are scheduled to be conducted at Laura Memorial Church of God, beginning Sunday morning, Sept. 27.

The services will continue each evening through Tuesday, Sept. 29.

The Sunday services are planned for 11 a.m. and 6 p.m., while the Monday and Tuesday services are planned for 7 p.m.

Dr. Ken Bell, a teacher at East Coast Bible College in Charlotte, will be the speaker.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services.
