

New AD Brings Familiar Name To Viking Land

Jaws dropped, and eyeballs popped, as the rumor flew that South Iredell High School had pulled a major coup by enticing a big-time athletic administrator to head ship and direct its own sporting program.

Sloan Pauses From Calendaring Sporting Events

But, as is the case with most on this, this time, too, was filled with too little fact and too much fiction.

There was, however, a solid base upon which this particular bit of scuttlebutt was founded.

So push back those jaws and pop back those eyeballs.

The name is the same, but the faces are changed. South Iredell's new assistant principal-athletic director is one who is as familiar with his country surroundings as Alabama's first-year AD is with his former team, the Crimson Tide.

"I used to tell everybody that he was my second cousin," smiled South Iredell's Sloan, 33, and an Iredell County native, when reminded once again of that similarity. "Except for the name, I don't think anyone would ever get us confused."

Confusion is something that Sloan has caused very little of as he has gotten to know both the administrative and athletic staff at South Iredell, something that was very easy to do seeing as how he grew up with, played under, and even coached against most of them anyway.

A native of Statesville, and a Statesville Senior High graduate, Sloan spent the two previous years coaching and teaching at cross-country rival West Iredell High School, whose Warriors compete in the same Foothills Athletic Conference as the Vikings.

"I feel I have blended in quite well," nodded Sloan, who underwent the complete application process and was selected to fill the vacancy created when Karl Clendenen, last year's first-season AD, was named principal at Cool Spring. "The school has a fantastic, well-rounded administration, and there is a very stable and dedicated coaching staff. I'm excited about being a part of the program here."

And a vital part he is. In addition to his numerous duties as an assistant principal, Sloan is the coordinator of the school's athletic program, securing schedules, seeing to it that ample transportation is available and serving as a provider to meet the respective coaches' needs.

"As an administrator," explained Sloan, "it's my role to do the detailing that allows the teachers to teach. In athletics, I'm there to take care of what needs tending to so the coaches can concentrate on their responsibilities. Together, we can all blend together to find out what needs to be done and to do it. This is a very successful program, and I'm going to try to do my best to keep it that way. The coaches do the lion's share of the work. I more or less serve as a coordinator. If they need something, I do my best to get it for them. We're just like a team."

And Sloan is used to be associated with teams.

At West Iredell, he served as an assistant football coach for two years, including last season when he coached the Vikings to a 6-4 record. Sloan, who was an undrafted FA showing while setting school records in consecutive wins and most in one season, with both marks reaching 11.

Also at West Sloan, an avid golfer, was the head golf coach, and he also coached junior varsity basketball. Prior to that, he received on-the-job training for the athletic director's position he now holds by serving as director of parks and recreation for Alexander County.

After graduating from Statesville Senior High, Sloan attended Mitchell Community College and, later, Lenoir-Rhyne College, graduating in three years from the latter with a bachelor of arts degree in health, physical education and recreation.

He then entered professional baseball with the Chicago Cubs as a pitcher for a brief time.

"They told me I was too old," recalled Sloan, "so they let me go."

He returned to school, this time attending Western Carolina University, where he volunteered to coach while earning a master of arts degree in education.

He taught and coached for three years in the Payetteville school system before coming back closer to home by accepting the position in Alexander County.

After a year in the investment business, he returned to education, first at West Iredell and now at South.

"I'm very positive about my move here," revealed Sloan, who's married and is the father of three children. "It's a good school, and it's in a community that offers some solid support. I'm excited and looking forward to being a member of the team here."

And that is no rumor.

Five Teams To Christen FAC's Third Season With Football Openers Fri.

Charter members of the Foothills Athletic Conference start finding out this week there is any truth to the third-year charm.

The FAC, born in 1985, kicks off its third football season this weekend with five of its seven circuit members scheduled to be in action on the gridiron.

Included among those teams slated to join a host of teams from across North and South Carolina in christening the 1987 football season are all three of the squads that carried the FAC's banner into postseason play last November.

West Iredell captured its first league flag by defeating Union in a conference play and capturing the title of team earning playoff nod. The other two were packs of Greystone representing Statesville and North Surry.

Of those three teams this weekend, two of them will open at home, with West Iredell and Statesville entertaining in front of the home fans.

West Iredell's Warriors will look to pick up where they left off a year ago, when they set school records for consecutive wins, with 10, and meet in a season, with 11, by beating annual season-opening foe Alexander Central.

Last year, West used a 34-0 blitzing of the Cougars to get their season off on the right foot. It ended its season at 11-1 following a second-round loss to Concord.

As for Statesville, which has finished with consecutive wins in two previous FAC seasons, the Greystones prance into Friday's opener by entertaining the Red Devils of Hickory and looking to salvage last year's loss.

North Iredell, which finished last season with a 2-14 record, will look to pick up where they left off a year ago, when they set school records for consecutive wins, with 10, and meet in a season, with 11, by beating annual season-opening foe Alexander Central.

Turnersburg Herd Health Seminar Set

A cattle herd health demonstration will be held Sept. 2 at 1 p.m. at Iredell Livestock Market, at Turnersburg. According to Mike Miller, Iredell County agricultural extension agent, the purpose of the demonstration is to familiarize producers with recommended animal health products and their application.

Cattle will be dewormed, vaccinated against diseases and implanted with growth stimulants. Company representatives from IMC Cutter and Southern States will be on hand to discuss and demonstrate these products which are essential in profitable cattle management.

In addition, incentives will be offered for producers interested in joining the state and or national cattlemen's Associations. All cattlemen are invited to attend this demonstration.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA UTILITIES COMMISSION

APPENDIX B

DOCKET NO. P-100, SUB 97

BEFORE THE NORTH CAROLINA UTILITIES COMMISSION

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the Matter of A Rulemaking Proceeding to Implement the Provisions of G.S. 62-110(d) Concerning the Shared Use and Resale of Telephone Services.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the North Carolina Utilities Commission has instituted a rulemaking proceeding to consider allowing the shared use and/or resale of telephone services.

"Shared use" refers to an arrangement whereby several users on the same premises collectively use the phone services and facilities obtained from an underlying carrier, and each user pays a share proportionate to the nature of his subscription and use. "Resale" means an arrangement whereby someone buys the phone services and facilities of a carrier and then sells those services to someone else.

SHARED USE AND RESALE OF TELEPHONE SERVICES

On June 22, 1987, the North Carolina General Assembly, ratified a bill (Chapter 445, SB 822) amending N.C.G.S. 62-110 to authorize the Commission to allow the shared use and resale of telephone services. Due to the far-reaching issues that this legislation has raised, the Commission has concluded that it should hold a general investigation to consider, consistent with the public interest, the adoption of rules necessary to allow the shared use and resale of telephone service.

The major issues which the Commission will consider in its investigation are as follows:

First, the Commission will determine to what extent telephone service may be shared and/or resold and to what extent terms, conditions, and rates charged by subscribers who share and/or resell telephone service should be regulated. Existing subscribers who share and/or resell telephone service may become subject to additional regulations on the services which they provide.

Certain existing subscribers may also be affected by the second major issue which the Commission will consider in this investigation—determination of the appropriate measures or message rates for application by the local exchange companies for the services which they provide to subscribers who share and/or resell service. Hotels, motels, time share, or condominium complexes which are operated primarily to serve transient occupants which provide telephone service to those occupants and make charges for that service will become subject to measured rates where facilities are available or message rates otherwise for telephone service provided to them by the local exchange companies.

Other establishments which share and/or resell telephone service will also become subject to measured or message rates which will be established in this proceeding. In addition, the Commission will consider whether or not these measured or message rates should apply to hospitals, nursing homes, rest homes, licensed retirement centers, clubs, and educational institutions which provide service to their patrons, members, or students living in quarters furnished by the school.

Other issues which the Commission will consider include implementation of quality of service requirements for shared and/or resold services and the determination of what terms and conditions would apply to service provided by a local exchange company directly to persons within its service area where shared or resold service is available on the premises.

HEARING

The hearing on this matter has been scheduled to begin on Tuesday, October 20, 1987, at 9:30 a.m. in the Commission Hearing Room 2115, Dobbs Building, 430 North Salisbury Street, Raleigh, North Carolina, and to continue, as necessary, to conclusion.

Persons desiring to intervene in the matter as formal parties of record should file a motion under North Carolina Utilities Commission rules R1-6, R1-7, and R1-19. Persons desiring to file testimony as formal parties of record should do so on or before Tuesday, October 6, 1987. Other persons desiring to present testimony for the record should appear at the hearing. Persons desiring to send written statements to the Commission should submit their statements prior to the hearing and should include any information which those persons wish to be considered in the investigation of this matter. The contents of letters and petitions will be received in the official file as statements of position. Specific facts, however, will only be considered on the basis of testimony presented at the hearing. Interventions or statements should be addressed to the Chief Clerk, North Carolina Utilities Commission, Post Office Box 29510, Raleigh, North Carolina 27626-0510.

The Public Staff of the Utilities Commission, through its Executive Director, is authorized by statute to represent the using and consuming public in the proceedings before the Commission. Statements to the Executive Director should be addressed to:

Mr. Robert P. Gruber
Executive Director—Public Staff
North Carolina Utilities Commission
Post Office Box 29520
Raleigh, North Carolina 27626-0520

The Attorney General is also authorized to represent the using and consuming public in proceedings before the Commission. Statements to the Attorney General should be addressed to:
