TUNING IN

· HAPPY THANKSGIVING. Next week, when you and your family gather to celebrate the holiday, share some time with the family of "Norman Rockwell's Breaking Home Ties" airing November 26 on ABC at 9. The production, which stars Academy Award winners Jason Robards (for "All The President's Men" and "Julia"), Eva Marie Saint (for "On The Waterfront") and Claire Trevor (for "Key Largo"), along with Doug McKeon and Erin Grey, opens on a typical Norman Rockwell painting with Robards and McKeon shown waiting for the train to take McKeon to college. As they come to life, the story of a family in transition begins.

I asked Eva Marie Saint who plays Emma Welles, the mother, about the Rockwellian allusions: "The show is set in the 1950s," she said, "a time we think of as a more innocent period, when family values seemed higher and families seemed closer. A Rockwell painting reassured us that America was a strong nation that drew its strength from the strong ties that held American families together."

Of Emma she says: "She has a secret that creates a great deal of havoc for the family. For myself, I don't agree with what Emma does, but from the dramatic point of view, this is powerful material."

SOAP SCRAPS: Kin Shriner, who first played Scotty Baldwin on "General Hospital" 10 years ago, returns in the role next month. He just wrapped his role in the 30-hour prime time epic, "War and Remembrance" airing on ABC next year ... Kin's erstwhile soap-side spouse, Genie Francis (ex Laura on "GH" and now Diana on "Days Of Our Lives")is engaged to Jonathan Frakes, who plays Commander William Riker on "Star Trek: The Next Generation" ... Beth Maitland returns to "Young & The Restless" the week of November 23rd. "Y&R" fans will recall Beth's character, Traci Abbott, left Genoa City for Stanford University. While Traci was acquiring a degree, Beth was busy filming Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite", starring Carol Burnett, Hal Holbrook, Richard Crenna and Dabney "Slap Maxwell"). Coleman, which airs December 3 at 9 p.m. over ABC.

JACK PAAR IS ALIVE AND WELL — which is both a statement of fact and the title of Paar's special, set to air on NBC on December 19. Paar's guests will include Jackie Mason and Debbie Reynolds.

DIAL TONES: Look for Valerie Harper to be offered a talk show of her own soon ... Look for former talk show host Joan Rivers to resettle in New York ... Marlon Brando, for whom singer Marlon Jackson was named, got the first copy of Jackson's debut solo album, "Baby Tonight" (Capitol). (No dear ones, brother Michael Jackson was not named for the angel, though he's said to have a celestial view of things.)

Flick Picks
by Bradley Elson

"Fatal Beauty" — I'm not quite sure I understand all the hype about Whoopi Goldberg. The only film I saw in which I truly thought she demonstrated talent was "The Color Purple." I thought her to be a superb dramatic actress. However, when she turned to comedy, I turned off. I must say this movie is no exception. It's about an undercover cop, Rita Rizzoli, played by Goldberg, whose assignment is to get the tainted cocaine being dealed in L.A. off the streets. You see, the substance is more deadly than the real drug and it's killing a lot of people. All I can say is, ho-hum to this flick. The co-stars are Sam Elliott, Ruben Blades and Harris Yulin. ()

"The Hidden" — I love a good mystery and this one really fits the bill. It's about an FBI agent (Michael Nouria) and an LAPD detective (Kyle MacLachlan) who team up to catch a killer. Not only is the movie truly suspenseful, but it manages to get in a sci-fi twist along the way. This one won't disappoint you. ()

Here's a note to all you Barbra Streisand fans: "Nuts," Barbra's latest, opens around the country on November 25th. Despite Hollywood's obvious attempts to deny the mega-talent of Barbra as a movie producer, writer and actress, I can say that the advance word on this movie is good, good, good. While I can't say for sure if Ms. Streisand will finally achieve the recognition from her movie-making peers she so richly deserves, I think the moviegoers won't be disappointed. You'll be hearing more from me on this movie after it opens.

D&D Interiors Revives Century-Old Home

Just about everyone has done another job, decorating, restoring an old home, whatever the condition while preserving the charm, antique atmosphere, but Carolyn Davis and Barbara Dalton have been the dream at their business. Davis and Dalton, owners of D & D Interiors, have restored an old house, [illegible] Road (State Road 1[illegible]) to showcase their business. Davis and Dalton opened their business venture "[illegible] ago when they began redecorating the house is a better [illegible] where to open a business, which [illegible] place at more than its present location. "The house was in pretty bad shape," Davis said as she looked around the room she now uses for her interior. "It needed a lot of work." In fact the work was so extensive that Dalton, a professional interior decorator, found herself [illegible] described as "a decorator's nightmare," to tackle the project. "It was a challenge," she said. "We had kids, husbands and everybody pitching in." They even got their son-in-law to help from two hours of sleep before and [illegible] argaret Nash. David was [illegible] lowed himself a few days on the clean-up crew, offering advice and ideas that came with experience. "They were terrific," Dalton said. "I don't know what we would have done without them." The result of the [illegible] erior and gift shop designed to [illegible] turebook perfection with trinkets and treasures [illegible] Overland-like [illegible] Dalton's senses. You almost expect the walls to be made of gingerbread.

"When we first started working on the house, we knew what we wanted to have," Dalton said, "and this is it."

The building is strictly for business, but Davis and Dalton purposely maintained the home-like surroundings for demonstration purposes and, of course, for atmosphere.

Two rocking chairs on the front porch form the welcoming committee for customers and deliver the message that D & D Interiors is not your average business.

Community Business Spotlight

The den, filled with pleasant fragrances and a floor-to-ceiling, uniquely-decorated Christmas tree, puts shoppers in the mood right from the start. A cabinet stocked with assorted small gifts and collectibles and a fully-stocked mantel over the brick fireplace provide plenty of browsing attractions for "I'm not sure what I'm looking for" patrons.

Just off the den is the bedroom, where a high-off-the-floor bed — just like those in grandma's house — is neatly covered with a intricately patterned quilt. An assortment of pillows, each featuring a different design pattern, also adorn the bed.

"This gives people an idea how a certain fabric or pattern will look," Davis said. "They don't have to try to figure out how the colors will match if they can lay it out and look at it."

Beyond the front of the house is the dining room, where a decorative four-person setting complete with centerpiece is displayed on, you guessed it, the dining room table. You expect mom to bring the turkey out any minute.

That's about the time Davis and Dalton emerge from the kitchen, not with turkey, but with snacks and sweets customers can savor along with their hot tea and browsing.

The decorations at D & D Interiors [illegible] talents [illegible] but the variety of items offered at the shop is just as interesting. [illegible] display. And there's more to come.

"Our furniture hasn't arrived yet, but we are looking for it anytime," Dalton said. "We're hoping the upholstered chairs will be a part of our business."

In addition to the new gift items, D & D Interiors also has in stock an assortment of fabric samples for customers to choose from. All types of fabric, from [illegible] to [illegible] and draperies, can be ordered through the shop.

A person planning a detailed interior renovation [illegible] someone looking for the finishing touches can both find what they're looking for at the newly opened shop. That's what Davis and Dalton want.

"We are selling ourselves and things to customers," Davis said. "That's the only way we can survive."

Davis said she had been interested in this type of business for several years and got the final push to try it after talking to Dalton.

"We were talking about something else and it just came up," Davis said. "I asked her if she would be interested in backing me and, as it turned out, she was as excited about it as I was.

Six months and a lot of hard work later, Davis and Dalton have what they wanted: "the proud pleasure of displaying [illegible] eagle" to share their creation with others.

D & D Interiors is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday. Davis and Dalton are also the business to be [illegible]

In addition, the life insurance proceeds of each policy can go to your beneficiary income tax-free.
What's more, Whole Life, Single Premium Life, and Target Life all enable you to borrow against your policy's cash value. That's income tax-free money for you to use for educational expenses, retirement funds—whatever you wish.
Of course, there are some important differences between the plans: Single Premium Life, as its name suggests, requires only a single premium to begin working for your family. Target Life allows you to, within limits, tailor your premium payments so you can "target" specific financial goals. And Whole Life offers lifetime protection at premiums guaranteed never to go up (in fact, our Whole Life premiums recently went down).
So ask your New York Life Agent about the many tax advantages of Whole, Single Premium, and Target Life today. If you're looking for guaranteed growth, we can help.
