Hottest Flings Of Spring Net Sr. High Team Honors

If you think it's hot now, you should have seen some of the acts these members of spring sports teams at Mooresville Senior High put together earlier this season. As a result of their sizzling performances, they're the ones who collected the honors during the school's annual all-sports awards banquet, held last week. The winners, and what each won, are, front row from left, Tish McLaughlin, highest batting average in softball; Rochelle Gaston, most improved in softball; Jennifer Thompson, coach's award in soccer; Amy Bentley, Golden Glove in softball; Jennifer Rodgers, most valuable in softball; Meredith Campbell, most valuable in soccer; Amber Cohen, coach's award in soccer; and Joannah Roseman, most improved in soccer. Second row, from left: Angie Mayhew, most valuable runner in track; Sally Smith, most valuable in field events in track; Roy Frye, most valuable in baseball; Nathan White, coach's award in baseball; Otis Cowan, Golden Glove in baseball; and Decomba Conner, batting award in baseball. Third row, from left: Jason Young, most valuable in golf; Butch Farrington, coach's award in golf; Mike Wingler, most valuable runner in track; T.Cross, most valuable in field events in track; Jonathan Chappell, most valuable in tennis; and Matt Campbell, coach's award in tennis.

Softball's Unbeaten Is Beaten

The unbeatens are no more in the Men's Open Softball League.

The last of the undefeateds, Magic Rentals, suffered a loss in its only outing last week and, in the process, fell from the league's top spot.

That now belonged to Randy Marion Chevrolet entering this week's play, after it posted two wins in as many appearances last week.

That pushed Randy Marion to the 8-1 level and back atop the 13-team field.

As a result of its first loss of the season, Magic Rentals fell into a two-way tie for second with Universal Maintainence, both at 7-1 heading into this week's play. Universal captured a win in its only game last week to earn the second-place tie.

By winning one game on the field, and handed another via forfeit, Brinton's Bombers improved to the 7-3 level to hold down lone honors on the league's fourth-place spot.

That was a win better than Greenfield Market, which split decisions last week to take a 6-3 mark into play this week.

Mooresville Ford wound up being idle last week and stayed at the 4-2 mark, while the Hurricanes dropped two decisions to slip to 4-3 and wrap up the list of teams performing at or above the .500 mark.

Heading the league's second division of teams are Burlington, Lakeside Cable and MCCA, all standing at 2-5.

Among them, MCCA posted last week's only win, while the other two fell once apiece.

Lake Norman Regional Medical Center brought a close to its winless streak with a victory by forfeit that pushed it to the 1-6 level.

The same was true for NGK Ceramics, which with a split week pulled out of the cellar to go to 1-7.

What looked like a turn-around week for the Brew Dogs, who squelched a season-long winning streak with a pair of apparent wins, instead turned more dismal as, due to the use of an illegal player in both games, forfeits were ruled. That kept the Brew Dogs winless, at 0-9.

While the two forfeits marred last week's play, which was again cut short by an evening due to rain, its was highlighted by a rash of home runs.

Leading the pack of heavy hitters was Randy Marion's Rick Graham, who clubbed two dingers in one game and finished the week with a league-best three roundtrippers overall.

NGK's John Williams also bashed two homers in a single game.

Elsewhere, Universal Maintainence's Ed Isenhour and Gene Sherrill, Brinton's Frankie Meadows, Randy Marion's Tony Hager, and the Hurricanes' Freddie Culbertson all tagged single four-base shots.

Play in the Men's Open League is conducted through the Mooresville Recreation Department.

Games are held on Monday through Thursday evenings, with all action being staged on the Woods School field.

Cummings Saves Vikes

Jeff Cummings can be considered South Iredell's season-saver in baseball.

Following a last-place finish in the Foothills Athletic Conference, the Vikings' otherwise forgetful campaign can now be remembered for something.

And it's that Cummings, a junior, has been selected to the all-conference team.

Named as an outfielder, Cummings, a second-year starter, is the lone member of the Vikes to earn all-FAC recognition.

Based on votes casts by all six of the league's head coaches, and including ties, a total of 19 players were named to receive all-conference certificates.

The names of the players were released late last week from the office of Bob Boyles, the FAC's athletic commissioner.

The selection of Cummings allows all six league members to field at least one member on the all-FAC squad.

South Iredell enjoyed its brightest phase of play during a two-game winning streak within the league, but that was still not good enough to prevent the Vikings from posting a sixth-place finish during the recently-completed season.

As expected, Statesville dominated the all-league selections, befitting its first-place finish. The Greyhounds placed a league-high total of five players on the all-league team, including the housing of the player and coach of the year.

Donnell Poole, a senior pitcher, was selected for a second straight year as the FAC's Player of the year. Undefeated, Poole, a member of Mooresville's Post 66 American Legion pitching staff, this week is leading the Hounds into the state's 3A championship series against Washington.

Wayne Harwell, a Statesville High School graduate with previous coaching experience in Mooresville, was tabbed as the FAC's top coach.

In addition to the players from Statesville and South's Cummings, others named to the all-league squad represent North Iredell, West Iredell, North Surry, and Wilkes Central, the other charter members of the FAC.

All-FAC Honors For Vikette Trio

South Iredell covered all the bases in fielding players named to the all-Foothills Athletic Conference softball team.

The Vikettes fielded three players, each representing a different class, named to the team, whose membership was released late last week from the Mooesville-based office of Bob Boyles, the FAC's athletic commissioner.

Senior Heather Woodfin, junior Jennifer Hobbs, and sophomore Erin Broome are the three Vikettes named to join players from around the league in gloving the all-conference honors.

All three players were named as outfielders, joining five other players in manning those positions.

All-FAC recognitions were based on votes from the league's six head coaches. Those receiving the most votes, including ties, were named to the all-FAC unit.

A dozen seniors, including Vikette Woodfin, were named to the team, leaving the other three spots filled by underclass players.

South's Hobbs was the only junior selected, while teammate Broome was one of two sophomores named.

West Iredell, the FAC's regular-season champion, dominated the all-league selections, beginning with the top player, in senior infielder Gina Doss, and continuing through the coaching ranks, where the husband-and-wife team of Karen and Bob Charles was selected as the league's top mentors.

West Iredell also topped all teams in fielding the total number of all-conference players, with five, while North Surry fielded four.

South Iredell and North Iredell each fielded three players worthy of the all-FAC honors.

Mooresville Senior High's Best Fall Season Sports

These are the Mooresville Senior High student-athletes who helped set the pace for the others. They did so while accomplishing their feats back in the fall, the opening leg of the high school sports year. For their efforts, they're also the ones who reeled in top team awards at last week's annual all-sports banquet. The winners, and what each won, are, front row from left; Matthew Gallmon, best defender in football; Decomba Conner, best offense in football; Nathan Whitem most valuable on offense in football; Shawn Ramsay, Golden Helmet in football; Marcus Hart, specialty teams MVP; and Johnny Redfear, MVP on defense in football. Second row, from left: Heather Robertson, co-MVP in volleyball; Linda Redfear, co-MVP in volleyball; Tina Freeze, coach's award in volleyball; Rebecca Blackmon, coach's award in tennis; Denise Laughlin, coach's award in tennis; Leslie Alexander, most spirited cheerleader; and Joan Day, most outstanding cheerleader; Third row, from left: Danny Williams, coach's award in cross country; Shannon Lameo, MVP in cross country; Jonathan Chappell, coach's award in soccer; Jamie Deaton, MVP in soccer; and Jamie Peavy, most improved in soccer.

Selections Serve To Solidify Successful Season In Softball

An up and down softball season for Mooresville ended on a very up note late last week.

For that's when the release of this year's all-Southern District Seven Conference team became official.

And on that roster appears four members of this past spring season's Devilettes.

It serves as quite an ending act for the Lady Devils, who struggled early before finding their niche and again qualifying for the state 2A playoffs.

But that enjoyment was itself short-lived, as Mooresville suffered through early elimination following an opening-round postseason defeat.

But it all finally came complete with a happy ending late last week, with the naming of its four players to this year's all-conference squad.

The four represent various phases of softball at the school, with two of the girls hailing from this year's senior class and the other two called up from their underclass status to serve among the 2A conference's elite.

Combined, they offer quite a potent bunch for head coach Nancy Dilks.

Incuded among those named to the league team are two players who established new school records.

Jennifer Rodgers, a senior shortstop, set a new standard for hitting in a single season by eclipsing the .600 mark in batting average to become the first Devilette to accomplish that feat during a single season.

Joining Rodgers among the team's record-setting, all-league performers is freshman Tish McLaughlin, who clubbed a school-record number of home runs that allowed her to make enough noise to be heard around the league.

Also an all-SD7 player hailing from the graduating class of '91 is outfielder Linda Redfear.

Rounding out Mooresville's collection of top league talent is sophomore Mindy Newton, who spent time between both the infield and outfield and, like the others, used her bat to gain herself the most attention from the league coaches that voted for all-conference players.

It marks the second time as all-conference selections for both Rodgers and Redfear.

It served as quite an end to the season for both Rodgers and McLaughlin.

At the school's season-ending sports banquet last week, Rodgers was declared the team's most valuable player while McLaughlin was awarded the coach's batting trophy for her record batting home run production.

Leaders Keep Lead In Softball

It was a week for the haves within the girls Midget Softball League.

Both the Bandits and Cubs, who entered the week sharing first-place honors, protected those shares at the expense of the league's have-nots, each victor pushing records to the same 3-0 level in the process.

The Bandits topped the Orioles, and the Cubs waylaid the Cardinals to keep the winners tied atop the field.

As for the victims, they each slipped to 0-3 for the season to share the loop's third-place slot.

It was a slower than usual week in the circuit after one of the two playing dates was lost by rain.

As a result, the Bandits and Cubs take their first-place shares into this week's play, with a game between the two Friday evening scheduled to break the tie.

The co-leaders are scheduled to face each other in the second of Friday's two games.

Individually, there were plenty of league standouts in the two league games played.

Leading the power display was the Orioles' Tish Graham and the Cardinals Angela Kelly, each with a home run.

The O's Graham alson joined a group of players who tagged as many as three hits in a single game.

Others in that circle included Laura Suther, Kelly Seamon, and Rochelle Price of the Bandits, and Kathy Church of the Cubs.

Rain Keeps Race Tight

Thank the weather for keeping the chase for top Pee-Wee Baseball League honors tight.

If not for rain-outs, league play would end tonight (Wednesday), the final date of play on the league's original schedule.

But because of late-season delays, play will continue for another day.

With good reason.

Heading into this week's play, two teams shared the league's top spot, and another squad lingered just another half-game behind.

Final week contests will go far in determining this year's champion.

Entering this week's lay, the Cardinals and Pirates shared overall bragging rights, each doing so with the same, 6-1 marks.

The Cardinals did their best to keep pace, winning twice last week, while the Pirates went even one better with three wins to move into the first-place tie.

The Yankees enjoyed a 2-1 week and still lost a step to the co-leaders, checking in at third-place with a 6-2 mark entering this week's play.

The Athletics may have played themselves out of contention after dropping two games last week to fall to 4-2 overall.

The Phillies, meanwhile, used a pair of wins to make their way back to break-even status with a 4-4 ledger to wrap up the list of teams playing at or above the .500 mark.

The Bandits and Cubs share second-divison leading honors, each at 3-4, followed by the Cubs, at 3-5.

The Braves, after a two-loss week, slippped to 1-5, ahead of the Astros, at 0-8.

The Pirates topped all team outputs with their three wins last week, out-doing the two wins each posted by the Cardinals and Phillies.

Individually, the Bandits Tressin Young topped all slugging outputs when he whacked out three home runs in a single game.

The Yankees Kyle Allison, Pirates Nick Rhoton and Michael Sandlin, and the Phillies Chris all were in a group that belted two homers in a single game.

Of them, Rhoton stood the tallest, accomplishing the feat twice in separate games.

Play in the boys and girls Pee-Wee League is conducted through the Mooresville Recreatin Department.

Games are held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, with all play taking place on the Edgemoor Park field.

With tonight's three games being the last ones on the official schedule, games rained out from May 20 will be re-scheduled to take place at their orginal times on Friday.

Any more rain-outs will be played next week.

The league caters to players born between Aug. 1, 1982, and July 31, 1984.
