Edwards In Pi Gamma Mu Society

A student from Mooresville has earned membership in an international honor society.

Kimberly M. Edwards, a senior anthropology major at Appalachian State University, has been inducted into the North Carolina Epsilon chapter of the Pi Gamma Mu, an international social science honor organization.

Edwards was one of 102 new members inducted in the society on April 29.

Pi Gamma Mu recognizes juniors, seniors and graduate students who have achieved academic excellence in anthropology, criminal justice, economics, geography, history, political science and sociology.

To qualify for membership, students must have successfully completed more than 20 hours of social science courses with at least a "B" average and maintained an overall grade point average of 3.0 or better.
