

Fashions and Beauty Makeovers Highlight June Dinner Meeting Of The Mooresville BPW Club

The Mooresville Business and Professional Women's Club held its monthly dinner meeting on June 18, at the Mooresville Junior High School. President Claire Borkowsky presided and called the meeting to order. She welcomed members and the following guests: Geneva Earnhardt, Lynn Gandy, Charlie Cook, Tess Gunthner, Pam Phillips, Sandy Sheesley, Betty Sheesley and Melissa Smith, as well as those presenting the evening's program.

Mildred Morgan led the collection and Sallie Thompson followed with the pledge of allegiance and the invocation. After the group enjoyed the covered dish dinner, prepared by the club membership, Verlin Davis and Peggy Mulhern introduced the organization's 1991 scholarship recipients: Robert Ann Moose of South Iredell High School and Carmen Michelle Johnson of Mooresville Senior High School.

"Beauty and Fashion for Business 1991" was presented by Jo Anne Triplett, beauty/makeup consultant for Mary Kay Cosmetics and Margaret Hale and Becky Bolick, owner and assistant of Page Collectables at Torrell, respectively. Smart business fashions were presented by models Anita Menius, Gloria Jenkins, Ellen Fisher and Susan Bolick. Prior to the meeting, finance committee chairperson Bobbie Cannon had Tupperware dealer Cindy Bell at the meeting with a display for members to view and place orders. The club, in turn, will receive a percentage from the sales. During the business session, plans were announced for the State Convention at the North Raleigh Hilton, June 27-30, and at which time the Mooresville Young Careerist Dianne Boettcher, who is also the District III winner, will be competing for the state title. Local delegates are Claire Borkowsky, Janet Boals, Gaylyn Meyer, Betty Kiblinger, Mary Helen Folmster and Linda Turner. Alternates are Joyce Draper, Cathy Critz, Sallie Thompson and Verlin Davis. Choices Program chairperson Cathy Critz presented potted plants, given by the 1990-91 Choices participants at Brawley School to Borkowsky, Turner and Kathy Harrell, in appreciation for their work with the program last school year. Cathy Critz, state BPW chairperson of the Choices Program, presented presented new ideas, new books and plans for the coming year.

Chairman of the audit committee for the past year, Kiblinger gave her report. Serving on the committee were Sallie Thompson and Verlin Davis. Dianne Boettcher volunteered to head up the club's Adopt-A-Highway program for the coming year.

Interested in attending a meeting, call reservation chairpersons Mary Helen Folmster at 663-2499 or Jane Cagle at 663-3402. In charge of the evening's program was the membership committee while the legislation committee was in charge of hostesses duties.

The meeting adjourned with the emblem benediction.

Summers Makes Dean's List

Kristy Summers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Summers of Commerce, GA, formerly of Mooresville, has been named to the Dean's List at the University of Georgia in Athens with a 4.0 for two quarters. She is majoring in early childhood education and her minor is special education. A graduate of Mooresville Senior High School, Kristy is a senior at the University of Georgia.

Bridesmaids' Luncheon Fetes Miss Mayhew

Miss Wendy Mayhew, bride-elect of John Richard White and her bridal attendants were honored at a bridesmaids' luncheon on Saturday, June 15, at 11:00 a.m. Hosting the luncheon were Natalie and Kaye Burris at their Lake Norman home. Natalie, cousin of the bride, will be a bridesmaid in the June 22 wedding.

The pretty bride-elect, wearing a pastel checked jumper with matching knit shirt and white accessories, received a corsage of a large white silk mum from her hostesses and a gift of white linen look place mats. After the 13 guests had assembled, sparkling grape juice and a vegetable tray with bacon dip were enjoyed on the porch of the home. The bride-elect chose this time to present gifts of porcelain jewelry boxes to her attendants. The luncheon was served on a covered pier over the water and decorated with hanging baskets of flowers. Tables were covered in white linen and centered with magnolia blossoms and foliage with a globed candle. The bride's place was marked with a bridal bow.

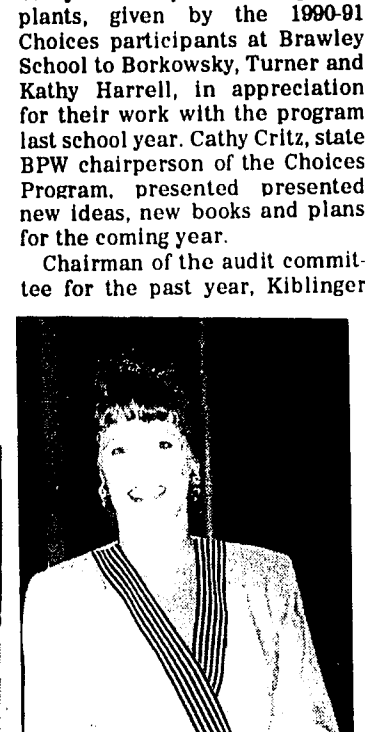

The luncheon menu was baked ham with a special mustard, potato salad, green beans, orange and taffy salad, rolls, iced tea and Coke. Strawberry cream cake was served for dessert. In addition to the bridal attendants, other guests were Mrs. Marsha Lipe and Mrs. Irene Mayhew, mother and grandmother of the bride-elect, respectively and an aunt Mrs. Diane Day.

The bride is the daughter of Hayden W. and Edna Hudspeth Jones of Mooresville. The groom's parents are the late Charles W. and Mary Elizabeth Christenbury Reading. His step-mother is Mrs. Etta Reading of Troutman. The ceremony was performed in complete candlelight with more than fifty candles being used throughout the sanctuary. Wedding musicians were Deloris Tate, organist, and Deborah Ammons, soloist. The bride sang "You Light Up My Life" to the groom and he, in turn, sang to his bride, "You Are The Reason." For the benediction, Ms. Ammons sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was lovely in a soft peach colored, floor length gown fashioned with a draped neckline and long full sleeves. In her hair, she wore a cascade of miniature peach roses and pearls. She carried a cluster bouquet of peach roses, lilies, and other summer flowers in various color shades with raindrops of pearls flowing from the bouquet. Attending the bride as maid of honor was her daughter, Jeanne McNeill Blackman. She wore a steel length dress in black with gold accessories. The groom's best man was his nephew Donnie M. (Pete) Smith of Troutman. Ushers were Troy Reed of Mooresville and Ronald Butler of Fayetteville. The groom was dressed in a black tuxedo with peach and white accessories. Presiding at the guest register was Jan J. Baugus, sister of the bride and Gail Smith and Gladys Tepevaugh, sisters of the groom. A reception followed the ceremony in the church Fellowship Hall with ladies of the Community Foursquare Church in charge. The newlyweds are making their home in Troutman. The bride and groom met more than ten years ago. They were both members of SOLO, a Mooresville Christian Singles Club. The bride attended Mooresville City Schools and earned her AAS degree in accounting from Central Piedmont Community College in Charlotte. She is corporate accountant for Benefit Shows, Inc. in Davidson. The groom attended Troutman schools and CPCC. He is employed in the weight and research department of Estes Express Lines in Charlotte.

Couple United In Marriage In Lovely Evening Ceremony

Phyllis Jones McNeill of Mount Mourne and Charles Edward Reading of Troutman were united in marriage on Saturday, June 15, at the Community Foursquare Church of Mooresville. The 6:30 p.m. ceremony was performed by The Reverend James Tate. The bride is the daughter of Hayden W. and Edna Hudspeth Jones of Mooresville. The groom's parents are the late Charles W. and Mary Elizabeth Christenbury Reading. His step-mother is Mrs. Etta Reading of Troutman. The ceremony was performed in complete candlelight with more than fifty candles being used throughout the sanctuary. Wedding musicians were Deloris Tate, organist, and Deborah Ammons, soloist. The bride sang "You Light Up My Life" to the groom and he, in turn, sang to his bride, "You Are The Reason." For the benediction, Ms. Ammons sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Turner Entertained By Co-Workers

Miss Amy Turner, August bride-elect, was guest of honor at a luncheon on June 6, hosted by Misses Claire Johnson, Johnnie Harris and Sonya Perry, all co-workers of the honoree at Hurley Elementary School in Salisbury. Miss Turner teaches 4th grade at Hurley.

The luncheon was held at Four Seasons in Salisbury and tables were set for approximately 40 guests, including the mother of the bride-elect Mrs. William H. Turner, along with the school staff and faculty members. The tables formed a U-shape and were covered in white linens. A gorgeous arrangement of wild flowers carried out the bride-elect's wedding colors of peach and teal.

After the delightful luncheon was enjoyed, guests were then served a beautifully decorated rectangular cake which was done in lattice work and featured garden flowers. The cake was made by Teresa Athey of Salisbury. The cake was also used to decorate the gift table.

Many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the honoree and she was also remembered with a corsage of red sweetheart roses. Miss Turner and Douglas Pruitt will be married on August 3, at 7:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Mooresville. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Turner of Mooresville and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin N. Pruitt Jr. of Cordova, MD.

The Rev. Bob Combs brought the message at the 11 o'clock worship hour at Vanderburg United Methodist Church and it was on his 25th anniversary that he was there for his first time. He read out some names from his bulletin of 25 years ago and a lot have gone on to their rewards. It's always good to see Bob and his wife, Shirley.
