Beacon Sweets Children, Parents Enjoy Mule-Powered Ride

Beacon Sweets Inc., on Mazeppa Road just north of Mooresville, held a company family picnic June 22, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., at the plant.

The picnic was the company's second picnic in three years, and organizers said they hope it will become an annual event.

Employees and their families enjoyed such activities as softball, volleyball, face painting, bingo, children's games, mule buggy rides, a dunking booth and more.

The company's mascot, "Billy Beacon," was on hand, entertaining the children and handing out balloons.

Billy Beacon is the Beacon Sweets tour guide. Guided tours, which are available with some restrictions, will take candy lovers through the plant, showing them the company's candy-making processes.

Tour groups must be limited to 30 people or less. Tours are led through the plant on Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Tours are $3 per person, which includes a detailed tour and a sample of the Beacon Sweets finished product.

For more information, call 664-4300.

Combination Car Wash, Sales Set

Need your car washed? Like to shop at yard sales? Need a little dessert for your family?

Well, you can make one stop and accomplish all three tasks June 29 at Coddle Creek A.R.P. Church. The day's event will take place at the church on Hwy. 136 near the Iredell, Cabarrus County line.

The youth groups of Coddle Creek A.R.P. Church are sponsoring a combination car wash, yard and bake sale beginning at 8 a.m. The proceeds will go towards various church projects of the youth.

The price for washing only the outside of the vehicle will be $4 for cars and $5 for trucks and vans.

There will be various items and goodies to choose from at the sale, so come and look around.

John Deere restoration among Brawley's hobbies

Brawley Cited For Service

Bradley Brawley, 27, of Mooresville was recently named Telecommunicator of the Year by the Emergency Medical Services Council, Region F.

Brawley, an Iredell County fire and ambulance dispatcher, has worked in the county's communications office for three years.

Also an assistant chief with the South Iredell Volunteer Fire Department, Brawley has completed several firefighter and first aid courses since becoming a volunteer firefighter in 1980.

Brawley is certified as a telecommunicator through the American Professional Telecommunicators Organization, after completing an 80-hour course.

Brawley was one of four Iredell County EMS personnel cited for exemplary service to the county. He was the only Mooresville resident to be honored by the EMS Council this year.

The local EMS Council and the Centralina Council of Governments present the EMS service awards annually.

Nominations for the awards are made by all EMS providers, hospitals and communications in EMS Region F.

Brawley lives with his wife, Karen, on Enochville Road.

Brawley's interests include antique tractors. He restores two-cylinder John Deere tractors with his father, Ray Brawley. They own six.

A Cheerful, Long-Awaited, Welcome Home Toast

Cheers were indeed the mood of the moment at the Jerry Rudisell residence at 804 Logan St. late Wednesday afternoon. For it was then when Staff Sgt. Rudisell, of the North Carolina Army National Guard, returned home from nine months of duty in Operation Desert Storm. A member of the 1454th Transportation Unit out of Concord that was one of the first National Guard troops called into service and one of the last to return, Rudisell, whose unit was in charge of the transportation of ammunition and logged the third highest number of miles during the Middle East war, celebrates his long-awaited return home with a glass of bubbly poured by Polly Raymer. Riding shotgun is Michael Raymer, Jr., Rudisell's grandson. The welcome home party was a true family affair, with wife Billie, daughters Lucy and Lori, and his mother, Viola Hawkins, all in attendance, as well as his sister, Gloria Elliott, who made the trip to and from Fort Bragg to secure the safe arrival of the valuable cargo.

The Russians Are Here! The Russians Are Here!

And, hey, they're really fun guys, these four fellows from Voronezh. They Aerofloted into Charlotte June 22 as a Sister Cities delegation. They are following a full itinerary of business, government, civic and social functions that included an 11 a.m. ceremony today for the signing of a Sister Cities agreement. They leave tomorrow morning for two days in Washington, D.C. before going home. One early social event was a Sunday evening cookout at the Meck Neck Lake Norman home of John and Sara Campbell, where activities included boat rides and a tour of Mallard Head Country Club. Tuesday morning, they toured the Ingersoll-Rand plant at Davidson. Members of the delegation are Alexander Tsapin, Voronezh mayor; Vadim Frolov, a professor at Voronezh Polytechnic Institute; Mikhail Perfilyev, president of an electronics company; and Vareri Glotov, who coordinates international affairs in the city's Foreign Affairs Office.

New Aerobics Studio For Women Now Open

Beth Ware of Mooresville recently opened Images, an aerobics studio for women only, at 548-C N. Main St.

Ware decided in late April to open the business. She said the aerobics studio would fill a void in exercise program options currently available to Mooresville residents.

"An aerobics program for women is something we needed, so they will not have to go to a traditional gym," Ware said.

The studio will be open Monday through Friday, 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., and Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Images will offer two fitness programs, low-impact aerobics and a special "step" program developed by Reebok.

Laurie McIntosh of Mooresville, who also works as a school teacher in Troutman, will lead the low-impact aerobics program. Brenda Wolf of Mooresville, who is also an insurance salesperson, will lead the step program.

Participants can pay for the programs one session at a time, as they arrive. Or, they may purchase an exercise package.

Marion Completes Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Melissa G. Marion, daughter of Mitchell D. and Teresa G. Marion of 21209 Entrada Drive, Davidson, has completed recruit training at the Navy Recruit Training Center in Orlanda, Fla.

During Marion's eight-week training cycle, she studied general military subjects which will prepare her for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Her studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid.

Personnel who complete this course are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene.

Marion is a 1988 graduate of North Mecklenburg High School, Huntersville.

Mooresville In 'Music Man'

Steve Sherrill was Marcellus Washburn and Mary Brawley was Ethel Toffelmier in The Davidson Community Players' recent nine-performance production of "The Music Man." Both live in Mooresville, as do Sue Bundy and Lisa Reott, who also were members of the cast. The theater group's first musical was, by all accounts, a resounding success, and another musical is planned for 1993. Meanwhile, the Players' second offering of the season will be an adult comedy, "Social Security," in August.

Firecrackers And Hearing

Fireworks accidents injure more than 9 000 Americans a year, some fatally. Now, an article in a journal for hearing aid professionals calls attention to damage done to hearing by close-up firecracker explosions.

Such blasts have caused perforated eardrums, permanently damaged hair cells of the cochlea, and left victims with tinnitus, a continuous ringing in the ears. Most people who experience such blasts will have severe sudden loss of hearing accompanied by pain and ringing, the article reports. Hearing may improve rapidly after a few hours and this may continue gradually for several months before the final level of reduced hearing is reached.

Anyone who suffers hearing problems or ear pain after a firecracker blast should seek medical evaluation promptly. If there has been permanent damage, a hearing instrument might be in order. The risk of permanent hearing loss is one more reason to leave fireworks to professional displays.
