The bride-elect, a graduate of West Iredell High School, is currently a junior at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. She is employed at Harris Teeter

Supermarket in Mooresville.

The future groom, a graduate of Mooresville Senior High School, is currently a sophomore at Mitchell Community College in Statesville. He, too, is employed at Harris Teeter Supermarket in Mooresville.

Sunshine Club Luncheon

The Sunshine Club of Southside Baptist Church met in the Fellowship Hall on April 9 at 10:30 a.m. The decorations were appropriate to the season with colorful umbrellas placed around and vases of fresh flowers on the tables which were covered in white lace trimmed cloths.

President, Richard Munday opened the meeting with a warm welcome to the forty-eight members and four visitors.

Neil Bowles led the group in singing several songs including Showers of Blessings, Search Me O God and God's Beautiful World. Joe Mosser of Belmont was introduced. He gave an interesting program using several magic tricks. Ruby Lawler learned to say "three cotton ropes of equal length." Somehow it became one long rope. He closed the program by singing Each Step I Take.

Everyone enjoyed the covered dish luncheon.

All senior citizens are invited to visit or join the organization.

Happy birthday was sung to those having birthdays in April. Hazelien Lambert called the roll and read the minutes of the March meeting.

Pres. Munday gave an interesting devotion on "Loneliness." He expressed frustration and how much it hurts when no one comes around. God understands hurts and He cares and wants to help. If God is truly our friend, we should never feel alone. He led in prayer remembering those who were sick and the men still serving in the Gulf.

Maria Young, activities director, reminded everyone of the trip to Chingquien on April 25. In May, a trip is planned to the Leonell Robeson, Broadus Hamilton, and Lois Jackson, all of whom are retired from the Home, also attended the luncheon, along with staff who worked closely with Lederer.

Area Churchwomen Attend District Prayer Breakfast

"Telling The Story" was the theme for the annual Statesville District United Methodist Women's annual prayer breakfast held Saturday, April 13 at Bethlehem United Methodist Church in Claremont.

A delicious breakfast was served in the fellowship building beginning at 9 a.m., where registration tables were set up.

The service began at 10:00 a.m. in the church sanctuary with a meditation and prayer by Dr. Earle H. Haire, Statesville District Superintendent.

Mrs. Bonnie Shull, district UMW president, welcomed everyone and conducted the service.

The guest speaker was Rev. Kara Melody Hurley of Charlotte, who is presently serving as supply pastor at Hickory Grove United Methodist Church in Charlotte. She is a graduate of Duke University, Duke Divinity School, and has studied in England, Israel, and pastoral care at Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem.

Rev. Hurley gave a dialogue "Miriam, the Sister of Jesus," one of several dialogues she has written. It was a beautiful presentation through which a most meaningful message was given.

Holy Communion was administered by Rev. Hurley, Dr. Haire, and the church pastor, Rev. Curtis Sides.

Vocalists, Ms. Randy Abernathy, church music director and the pastor, Rev. Sides presented special music.

An offering was taken to go to undersigned giving, to show love and support of needy children.

Approximately 240 persons attended.

BARIMUM SPRINGS HOME RETIREE
Lederer Flanked By Mother And Husband

Retirement Roast Fetes Mrs. Lederer For 22 Years Service

Kathleen M. Lederer was the guest of honor at a surprise retirement "roast" on March 28. She retired on that day from her position as payroll clerk at Barium Springs Home for Children, after 22 years of loyal service to the Home.

Earle Frazier, president of the Home, accompanied the piano. A resolution from the Home's Board of Regents in appreciation of her excellent work. As a retirement gift she received an Anniversary clock.

Present at the roast were her husband, Walter Lederer; her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hines; two daughters and their spouses, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Miller of Statesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Saunders of Tucker, Georgia; and her son and his wife, Gene and Carolyn Lederer of Mooresville. Although her son David Lederer of Statesville, and grandson Todd were unable to attend, David's wife Gayle was present.

Leonell Robeson, Broadus Hamilton, and Lois Jackson, all of whom are retired from the Home, also attended the luncheon, along with staff who worked closely with Lederer.

Lederer came to work at the Home on Feb. 18, 1969, after answering an ad in the Statesville Record & Landmark. She cut the ad out and still has it today.

She and her husband Walter, who retired from the Balloon Works in December of 1990, are members of Saint Johns Lutheran Church and live on Sullivan Road in Statesville. They plan to spend their retirement years chasing hot air balloons and tending their beautiful rose bushes and yard.

Jones Mem. DJs Visit Rock Hill

DJs of Jones Memorial United Methodist Church gathered at the church on Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock and boarded Frank Johnson's bus for an all-day trip to Rock Hill, SC. After everyone had assembled, Dr. Doris Weddington, pastor of the church, led in prayer.

In Rock Hill, the group toured the Museum of York County, the museum's store, and its spring gallery. They also visited Hall of Western Hemphshire, Stan's Elephant Hall and Stan's African Hall, where they saw many varieties of birds and animals.

At noon, they had lunch at Jackson's Cafeteria and Walter Weddington returned thanks. They left the cafeteria and attended the "Come See Me Festival" at the Glen Cairn Gardens. The garden was started in 1928 by David and Hazel Bigger and in 1940 it was opened to the public and at that time were 500 azaleas in bloom. Today, there are 20,000 azaleas plus many other beautiful blooming flowers for the public to enjoy and view their beauty. The festival has been in existence since 1961.

The fifteen members making the tour had a wonderful time.

Your expressions of caring at the death of our loved one, Fred Baker, is greatly appreciated. The prayers, cards, food, flowers, and phone calls mean so much to our family.

A special thanks to all the neighbors and friends, Dr. Calhoun and the nurses at Lake Norman Regional Medical Center and to the rescue squad. God's blessings to each of you.

BPW Young Careerist Boettcher Winner In District III Event

DIANE BOETTCHER
District YC Winner

Head Soccer Coach Diane Boettcher at Davidson College and Young Careerist of the Mooresville Business and Professional Women's Organization was declared winner of the District III YC competition on Saturday. The competition was held in Hickory and Boettcher was one of five Young Careerist seeking the district honor. As the district winner, Boettcher's next step will be on the state level at the State BPW Convention in June at Raleigh.

As the soccer coach, Boettcher manages all phases of an NCAA Division I Program. Prior to accepting this position at Davidson, she was an assistant professor and head soccer coach at Bates College in Lewiston, Me.

Boettcher is proud to be a soccer coach since there is a dearth of women in collegiate soccer coaching. This is one of her most significant professional accomplishments and also that she won the National Division III Coach of the Year in 1988 had been a result of that recognition.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold H. Boettcher of Auburn, Ca., Boettcher holds a BS degree in education from the University of Vermont and a MS in physical education and health from East Stroudsburg University.

Eleven members of the local BPW accompanied Boettcher to the District III meeting which is composed of Boone, Hickory, Newton-Conover and Statesville. Presidents of each of these clubs presented their annual reports during the all-day meeting, followed by the report of the Mountain Area Vice President Sybil Levan.

During the awards ceremony, in addition to having the winning Young Careerist, the Mooresville organization won the Anne High award for attendance and the Edith Hoover Membership award.

In announcing the 1991 National BPW Convention, Vice Pres. Levan showed a video of Niagara Falls, NY, where the convention will be held. Two Mooresville members are planning to attend.

Prior to the close of the meeting, the Mooresville club was roasted due to the fact that they will be leaving District III and will be located in another district. Mooresville members will attend a meeting of their new district in Concord on May 4.
