Garden Club Adjourns For Summer

The monthly meeting of the Mooresville Garden Club was held at the Mooresville War Memorial Building.

Barbara Stout, president, called the meeting to order and Emogene Hensley led the club prayer. Mrs. Stout welcomed all members, visitor Peggy Chark, along with a new member Wendy Cseresedits.

Secretary Georgia Mabe read the minutes of the previous meeting and called the roll after which Jackie Swanson gave the treasurer's report.

A discussion was held concerning the adoption of a highway to beautify. Jackie Swanson was assigned to find out the details and report back at the next meeting.

A report was given on the tour of the Davidson College Arboretum and luncheon at the North Harbor Cafe in April.

Pres. Stout, along with Helen Wells, reported on their visit with the Hickory Garden Club.

The program for the morning was a demonstration given by Wells on plants that last and their containers. She encouraged the members to select baskets, glazed pottery, brass wire baskets, lined with plastic for arranging soil plants. Plastic is allright but if possible moss is better for lining. She demonstrated by arranging according to height and color and using African violets, ferns, begonis, marigolds,and ivy. She illustrated by displaying three beautiful arrangements. She also talked about the lemon plant and encouraged members to never overwater.

This being the last club meeting of the season, the organization adjourned until September and programs and meeting places will be announced later. Pres. Stout wished each one a very happy summer.

Hostess Sharon Culp invited the group to enjoy party mix, cookies, nuts and punch. The refreshment table was arranged with a gorgeous bouquet of Peace roses in a crystal container.

Accompanying the bride-elect were her mother, Mrs. Judy Williams of Statesville and the mother of the groom-elect Mrs. Brenda McNeely and grandmother Mrs. Irene Johnson of Statesville. Held in the church Fellowship Hall, twenty-four guests showered the future bride with many lovely and useful gifts.

Guests were invited to the refreshment table which was arranged with crystal appointments and a lovely fresh floral centerpiece. Ham roll-ups, cake, mints, nuts and punch were served.

Sharpe-McNeely wedding vows will be exchanged in a 7:00 p.m. ceremony at Bethel United Methodist Church on May 25.

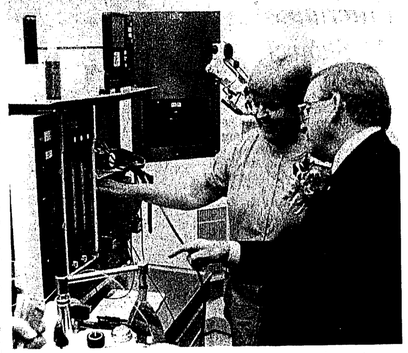
New Surgical Center Operating



Anesthetist Bobbie Hardison demonstrates equipment

Lake Norman Regional Medical Center's new surgical services center is now — excuse the pun — in operation.

Dedication ceremonies for the fourth-floor surgical suite were held May 9 with town and county officials joining LNRMC staff members and representatives of Health Management Associates — the hospital's parent company — in celebrating the completion of the hospital addition.

The suite, completed in a four-month span at an approximate cost of $1 million, includes three surgical rooms, a six-bed recovery room, storage space, offices and a lounge/locker area for physicians.

The 4,700-square-foot suite doubles LNRMC's surgical services space.

Two of the surgical rooms are being fully equipped for immediate use. The other surgical room will be equipped in the coming months.

At Thursday's dedication, guests and staff physicians praised the new suite as a vital addition to the community's medical care capabilities.

Alan Mayhew, a Mooresville resident and chairman of the LNRMC board of directors, described the suite as a "great need for the community" and credited the medical staff for pushing for the addition.

"We asked them what the hospital needed," Mayhew said of the staff physicians, "and to their credit, they spoke up and told us. Now we have a major addition to the quality health care available in Mooresville."

And the doctors are impressed. Dr. Scott Sherrill, chief of surgery at LNRMC, said the addition demonstrates a commitment to providing the best health care possible.

"This is a state-of-the-art facility," Sherrill said. "It is as up-to-date as any operating room anywhere."

Tony Barber, LNRMC's executive administrator, served as the master of ceremonies for the dedication service and, in addition to Mayhew and Sherrill, speakers included Joe Knox, mayor of Mooresville, and Joe Pinion, vice president of operations for HMA.

Dr. S. Edwin Lewis, pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Mooresville, opened the ceremonies with a prayer.

After brief comments from the speakers, the ribbon cutting, with eight staff surgeons and the surgical nurse manager performing the ceremonial duties, were held outside the suite's automatic doors.

The veteran cutters in charge of clipping the ribbon were Sherrill, Dr. Edward Washington, Dr. William Kutner, Dr. Clifford Kass, Dr. Steve Cox, Dr. Larry Schimel, Dr. Herb Wettreich, Dr. Mike Campbell and Mike Grell, a registered nurse who oversees surgical nursing services.

Guests were then invited to tour the new facilities, meet the LNRMC staff people who will work in the surgical suite and learn about some of the equipment already in place in the operating and recovery rooms.

Following the tour, a fish fry lunch was held in the hospital courtyard for staff members and visitors.

In loving memory of Beatrice O. Sproul
April 19, 1918 to May 20, 1990.
With all our love your daughter, family and friends.
You'll always live in our hearts.
Our Love
Not often have we taken the time to say how much we care.
Although I knew deep inside, your love was always there.
Over the years you opened your heart to give all you could.
I opened my hands and took the things,
with you knowing that I would.
I never took the time to say thank you mom, I love you dear.
I took and ran, not looking back,
thinking that this was fair.
The years have passed, now I see the love that you have shared.
In your eyes I saw the love,
in the way you showed you cared.
With my love in these words I've written
I have yet, but this to say.
With joy and love, deep in my heart
I love you Mom,
with you were here with me today.
Brenda S. Stewart
