Devils Finish Seventh Among 2A Golf Teams

Take away a few bad holes here, and throw in a few putts that didn't fall there, and you've got a completely different showing for Mooresville Senior High in last week's North Carolina High School Athletic Association's 2A state golf championships.

But even counting those holes, and failing to conceed the putts, the Blue Devils, champions of their Southern District Seven Conference, still fashioned a seventh-place overall in the 36-hole attraction held on the University of North Carolina's Finley Golf Course in Chapel Hill.

Mooresville, fielding just one senior among its five participants, constructed a two-day stroke total of 659 to place seventh in the field while competing for team honors for the first time since 1986.

Senior High earned the right to advance as a team after posting a second-place finish in the previous weke's state 2A regional tournament on Norwood's Piney Point golf course.

"There's no way we can be disappointed with our golf season," assured Preston Harris, Mooresville's head golf coach. "Of course, unless you win, you always want to do better your last time out, but we have nothing to be ashamed of. Our kids hit the ball well, we just had a couple of bad holes and hit some putts that just wouldn't fall. Overall, though, it was a great experience for us."

Mooresville was one of two SD-7 squads to finish among the state's top 10, joining conference runner-up Bunker Hill in that regard.

"I think that speaks highly of the conference," offered Harris, whose squad made up a five-stroke deficit to catch Bunker Hill for the conference championship during the final 18-hole tournament round earlier this month. "Having that kind of comlong run. Some of them might have been a little nervous, but now they've got the experience behind them. Hopefully, we'll get back."

All five golfers contributed to the team's performance during the two, 18-hole rounds of play.

In the opening round, Mooresville fired a team score of 331 strokes, paced by the 80 posted by freshman Farrington.

Ray added an 82, while Young carded an 84, and Wilson posted an 85.

In the second and final round, the Devils improved their team scoring by three strokes, to 328.

Young also showed the most improvement, posting the best round of any Mooresville player in the tournament with a round of 79, five strokes better than the petition within your own conference helps when you reach state-level competition."

Though Mooresville has hardly missed a year in fielding at least one representative in the state finals, this marked the first time since 1986 that the entire Devils team qualified to appear in the season finale.

Among those making the trip to the tournament was a single senior, in David Wilson, three sophmores, in Jason Young, Jason Dyckes and Matt Ray, and a freshman, in Butch Farrington.

All but Ray, who made the field on an individual basis as a freshman, were making their first appearance in the state finals.

"We're really a very young team," confirmed Harris. "This can do nothing but help us in the previous day. That gave Young a co-team-best total of 163 strokes for the two-day attraction.

Young shared that honor with Farrington, who followed up his first-day's round with a score of 83 in the second round to also finish the tournament with 163 strokes.

Wilson also contributed both days' rounds to team totals, closing play with an 86 the second day.

Dyckes, who was forced to qualify for the fifth and final team position, made his patience pay off by posting an 80 in the second round that was the second-best of the day and tied Farrington for second-best among the Devil players.

The seventh-place finish in the state finals caps Mooresville's best showing in golf in five years.

Brawley Steamers Steam To U-10 Soccer Title

They don't call them the Steamers for nothing. The South Iredell Soccer Association's Brawley Steamers lived up to their name by steamrolling to the championship of the Under-10 age division within the Iredell County Recreation Department's spring soccer league. The Steamers fashioned an 8-1 regular-season showing and then breezed to the tournament championship by not allowing a goal in two games over the weekend to finish as undisputed champs. Members of the team are, kneeling from left, Willie Bowen, Griff Lyerly, Brian Charnock, Zack Thompson, Franny McCarren, Charles Robinson, and Christopher Lyerly. Standing, from left: coach Sparky Hitchcock, Jonathan Walley, Preston Davis, David Lackey, Marshall Hitchcock, Nathan Dyckes, and Nicholas Oliver. Other team members include Jordan Hamilton, and coaches Denny Dyckes, Fran McCarren, and Les Charnock.

Pee-Wee's Athletics Pack Punch

The Athletics continued to pack the bulk of the Pee-Wee Baseball League's punch.

The Athletics, with two wins last week, took a league-best 4-0 record into play this week.

That keeps the A's earning all A's, making them the league's only undefeated squad.

Right behind are both the Cardinals and Yankees, who can match the leaders in wins — both with four — but both of which have suffered a loss each to share runnerpup honors.

The Pirates, too, have endured but a single loss, but have only three wins to show for their season's play so far to thus sit alone in fourth place.

The Bandits wrap up the list of teams playing at or better than the .500 mark, carrying a 2-2 ledger into this week's play.

The Cubs check in next in line, at 2-3, followed, in order, by the Mets and Phillies, both at 2-4, the Braves, at 1-3, and the Astros, at 0-5.

The Athletics keyed their stay at the top by becoming the only league member to win as many as two games last week. The best any other club could manage was a split of decisions.

Home runs were again spanked with abandon in the second-youngest of the youth baseball leagues being conducted through the Mooresville Recreation Department this spring.

Among those doing the most damage were the A's Andrew Belk, who busted three dingers in a single game to become the league's only player to accomplish that feat.

The Mets' Ronald Brown, Cardinals Justin Horton and Josh Donaldson, Nick Rhoton of the Pirates, and Cub Walt Hitchcock all doubled up on homers during the course of a single game.

Play in the Pee-Wee League, catering to boys and girls, takes place on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, with all games being held on the Edgemoor Park field.

Pee-Wee League Standings

Athletics	5-0
Cardinals	4-1
Yankees	4-1
Pirates	3-1
Bandits	2-2
Cubs	2-3
Mets	2-4
Phillies	2-4
Braves	1-3
Astros	0-5

Cubs Club Mets In Jr. Softball

The Mooresville Cubs clubbed the Mooresville Mets in girls Junior Softball League play last week.

The Cubs did so with a 13-12 victory over their sister club.

The Cubs won the game despite the contest's lone home run from a member of the losing team.

The Met's Heather Edwards belted the homer to account for the game's power display.

The Cubs and Mets are two of the teams competing in the countywide Junior Softball League conducted through the Iredell County Recreation Department.
