Memorial Day

Memorial Day is celebrated on the last Monday in May to honor American servicemen killed in all wars. Frequently Memorial Day is called Decoration Day, the original designation for the holiday. This was in reference to the decorating of graves with flowers.

Past or present, those we honor on Memorial Day cherished freedom. It's important that we mourn them. But it's more important that we honor their service and the example they set.

Their lives touched us and we will never forget their sacrifice. We get a lump in our throats as the stars and stripes go marching by in a parade. We shed tears over graves where poppies blow between the crosses. We give thanks for living in America. True, Memorial Day is a glimpse of the past, present and future.

Memorial weekend is also a time of the year when many families and friends enjoy the first warm holiday with a picnic or cookout. That's my cue to remind you that Cashion's has everything to make your weekend of cooking an enjoyable one.

In closing all of us here at Cashion's hope you have a safe and happy holiday.
