

Since February, students in Alison Pickrell's class at Shepherd Elementary have taken part in Western Carolina Center's Sponsor a Resident program. Their resident is Charles Lail. They have corresponded with him, sent special occasion cards and photos of themselves. Recently, Lail, surrounded by students, attended a party in his honor in the classroom. Usually, sponsors visit residents on the Morganton campus, but because the students' resident relationship in this instance has been "so very positive," according to a WCC spokesman, and because of the logistics of having an entire class visit Lail, arrangements were made for him to visit them near the close of school.
