As our children return to the classroom this fall, we are increasingly aware of dangers to them that most of us have not had to consider in previous years. Children seriously and lethally harming other children is an unprecedented challenge in our society. How can we protect our youth in what has previously been considered a safe and structured environment?

We must pray for the safety and peace of mind of our youngsters. It is important to ask God to work in the hearts and minds of those who shape the moral standards of our nation and the teachers who guide our children. We must make time to talk with our children and listen when they talk to us, for molding young spirits is not accomplished quickly. Lastly, and most importantly, it is imperative that we set the proper example for our youth.

Worship together regularly as a family. Ask your son or daughter to invite a friend to worship. Remember, we are determining the future of our society...for better or for worse.
