Open in final fairway stretch

With the event itself now a little over two weeks from taking place, the registration period for the upcoming Iredell County Open men's golf championship is headed for the final fairway.

Putting out is next.

Entries are still be recruited and readily accepted for participation in the second annual affair designed to officially crown Iredell County's premiere amateur golf champion.

The 36-hole stroke play affair will be equally distributed among a pair of area golf courses will be held Oct. 6-7. Cost of participating is $100 per player, a fee that covers all golf expenses at a pair of sites as well as refreshments both days.

Any and all Iredell County residents ages 18 and up are eligible to participate. All that is required is for players to have a recognized handicap. Course staff at both host courses are able to provide players currently without a recognized handicap to establish one for official play.

There will be no cut. All who register will be able to play all 36 holes, 18 each at two courses.

Fox Den Country Club near Troutman, the site of last year's final round and accompanying awards ceremony, will this year serve as the first-round host course. That will leave Mooresville Municipal Golf Course as the site of this year's final round.

Following those last 18 holes, winners in all flights will be recognized, highlighted by the crowning of this year's new county champ.

There will be flights formed based on the individual handicaps of the players in the field. While all will compete for gross and net prizes within their respective flights, the single player with the lowest gross score after 36 holes in play held from the two courses' championship tees will be declared the Iredell County Open champion.

Statesville's Lance Waggonner is the affair's reigning champion and is expected to be in the field to defend that title.

That's the case as part of his prize for winning last year's crown is the waiving of this year's entry fee.

In addition, all players age 50 and over will be eligible to compete in the tournament's Senior's Division.

Mooresville's Mike Frye is that class' reigning champion, and his entry free has also been waived for this year's attraction. He, too, is expected to return to defend his crown.

USGA Rules of Golf will govern all play. The ball will be played down as it lies at both courses, and all putts hit until the ball is in the hole.

In addition to stroke play, there is the possibility that selected on-course events could be held at selected holes during each round.

Entry applications must be received at the Mooresville Golf Course no later than 5 p.m. Oct. 1. Telephone entries will not be accepted. The field will be limited to the first 168 paid entries.

Tournament organizers are anticipating a larger field than during last year's inaugural attraction.

Entry forms are available at both participating golf courses as well as other area golf courses.

Starting times for the field will be confirmed as of Oct. 3 and will be available at either course. Tee times will also be released for the field in local publications.

Devils ignite comeback with win in soccer

Consider Mooresville's soccer comeback underway.

The Blue Devils, mired in a mid-season slump resulting in a 1-2-1 streak in their last four matches serving to knock them out of the area's Sweet 16 ranking completely, ignited a possible return with a 2-1 clipping of state-ranked Elkin Wednesday night.

"It was exactly what we needed," boomed Steve Stith, in his second stint as the Devils' head coach after earlier leading the program to a pair of state championships. "We showed some signs of snapping out of this."

Mooresville used the win to move to the 6-3-1 mark for the season overall as it welcomes a return to its homefield early next week after a stretch of five consecutive road appearances.

Wednesday night, in a varsity-only affair, the guests latched on to their first halftime advantage of the season and then matched that output with a second goal in the second half to take the buck out of the Bucking Elks.

Tallying goals for the visitors were both Preston Davis and Mark Cheslak, with one apiece, scoring in the first and second periods, respectively.

Under-8

SISA Penguins 0 Harmony 0

The Penguins dominated play but were unable to punch in a goal. They got many scoring opportunities, and Lacey, Aaron and Winston combined in goal for the shutout.

SISA Chargers 3, Troutman "A" 1

Miles Cawley's fourth-period breakaway goal sealed the victory, after Joseph Pedulla and Michael Knight had scored first-half goals. However, the midfield play of Kalyn Hanna carried the day. She and Jacob Price held off repeated attacks by Troutman.

Statesville Masters "B" 6, SISA Lightnin 2

The Lightning enjoyed goals from Kelsey Palmer and Jordan Chillson, both coming on assists by Garyson Rector. Defensively, Ryan Clay had a strong showing in goal, with help from Shannon Gallagher and Brad Cheek.

Titans 1, Sparks 1

Great offensive and defensive efforts left these teams deadlocked. Leading the Titan offense were Adam Yacek, Evan Yacek (1 goal) and Sam Joffe, and Adam Yacek performed strongly in goal. Defense held back the Sparks with strong efforts by Timothy Coulter, Alleigh McNeely and Shayna Van Ebern. The Sparks offense, led by Quinn Millard, was able to keep the ball deep in Titan territory most of the game. Andrew Garver scored the Sparks' only goal. Strong defensive play by Sparks Allen Robertson prevented any further scores by the Titans.

SISA Steamers 0, Harmony 0

The sensational seven of the U-8 Steamers showed tremendous hart as they shut out Harmony's offensive attack on Saturday.
