

SI's Morris at the head of Iredell County's soccer class

South Iredell's Katie Morris is in a class by herself when it comes to Iredell County's girls soccer players.

It seems only fitting then that the rising junior has been named as the county's girls soccer player of the year following the lessons she taught to all her classmates this past season.

Morris, a key clog in South Iredell's rise among the state's top 3A class programs, rang up a school team and county-record best 18 goals, spreading her wealth well enough to also collect 10 assists, efforts worthy of awarding her the county's top player honors.

Though a scoring threat all season, it was her postseason defense that also allowed the Lady Vikings to net the first ever state playoff wins in school history, fueling a record-breaking season that ended only with a double-overtime loss to the eventual state 3A class champions.

Morris adds the title of the county's best to earlier postseason recognition that includes All-Region and All-Western Foothills Conference accolades. In the latter, she also ruled as the league's co-player of the year.

She is one of a county-high seven players to receive All-Iredell status from the Lady Vikings team. Joining them are three players off a Mooreville team that also established some precedence this season.

The Lady Devils, absent from the state playoffs for a near 10-year span, earned their first ever 3A class postseason visit after fashioning an official share of second place in the WFC. Major wins during the league play included triumphs over both South Iredell, which captured the league championship with only a single defeat, and St. Stephens, which tied the Devilettes for second.

With Morris, a forward, topping all selections, other Vikettes so honored include: forward Abby Edwards, who netted 14 goals and added four assists while claiming all-WFC honors; midfielder Beth Gibson, 10 goals, seven assists, All-WFC and All-Region; sweeper Katie King, three goals, two assists, all-conference; defender Hollie Knox, five goals, two assists, all-conference and All-Region; defender Ashley Stonestreet, two goals, three assists, All-WFC; and keeper Jennifer Fowler, 11 shutouts in 20 matches, two postseason blankings, all-WFC.

From the Mooreville camp, it places three players among those earning all-county attention. Senior Kendall Brawley set the new school record for goals in a season, with 35, added four assists and earned all-conference and All-Region honors, while midfielder Leah Duquette finished with nine goals and added 11 assists to make the All-WFC and All-Region teams. Also, sweeper Erica Johanson made the all-conference and All-Region teams while being recognized as the team's most valuable player.

Players selected to the All-Iredell County soccer team were announced by the Statesville Record & Landmark.

Southern risers for Post 66

Thanks to this group, the South is rising again this season for Mooreville's American Legion baseball Moors. That's as in South Iredell, which is providing these members of the Gresham-Baker Post 66 roster. The school is one of three feeder programs helping comprise this season's squad. Tying Vikings ties as Moors teammates include, kneeling from left, Michael McClain, Seth Graham, Brent Frye and Travis Short. Standing, from left, Chris Mills, Kyle Allison, Tim Fitzpatrick and Brett Howell. Combining their contributions with other team members, the South Iredell connection will continue to fill their respective roles as the Moors head into the postseason segment of their season later this week.

Devils threesome nets county tennis honors

Between them, the three players named from Mooreville to the All-Iredell County tennis team can put up some quite impressive numbers.

Combining their singles and doubles records during a spring season that saw the Blue Devils established a new single-season record for wins, the trio of John Umstead, Matthew Burton and Charles Robinson, all eligible for at least one more season, chalked up in excess of 90 wins on the court while losing less than a third that many times.

For those productions, the three allow Mooreville to share county-wide honors by fielding more players named to the All-Iredell team than any other program. Three were also tabbed from Statesville, while one each from South Iredell, West Iredell and North Iredell round out the nine-player unit.

The Devils reached a new program high with 18 wins during a season that saw them advance into the second round of the state dual-team playoffs before ending a run in a loss to the eventual state champions. Despite their success, the Devils fashioned a second-place finish within their Western Foothills Conference, behind the eventual West state semifinalist.

The threesome of Umstead, Burton and Robinson, manning the top three singles positions and helping form parts of the top three doubles units, played key roles in igniting the team's performance.

Umstead, playing at number one all season, posted a combined 30-13 record in singles and doubles play, while Burton, who played at number two and three, wound up with a combined 31-9 record. Robinson, who also played one and two singles, completed the trio with a combined doubles and singles effort of 30-7.

All three also represented Mooreville on the all-WFC team as well.

Joining the three from Mooreville as an all-county player is South Iredell's Adam Godfrey. He held down the Vikings' number one singles position all season and was also the team's only member selected to receive all-conference recognition.

Players selected to accept All-Iredell status were informed of those selections courtesy of the Statesville Record & Landmark late last week.

Devilettes cover all the bases on All-Iredell softball team

Consider Mooreville's infield covered courtesy of the All-Iredell County softball team released late last week.

Toss in some Lady Devils' outfield coverage for good measure. Three previously-recognized members of this past season's Devilettes team have also been rewarded with first-team, all-county status. That allows Mooreville to share the top spot with one other county school in fielding the most players selected to fill first-team positions.

All but one of three Lady Devils' picks have played their final innings of softball at the high school level. Two engaged in recent Class of 2001 graduation ceremonies, with the third a rising senior.

Representing Mooreville as all-Iredell players are infielders Jessica Swarengin and Crystal Furmanik, and outfielder Rebekah Paulise.

Swarengin topped the Lady Devils at the plate with a hefty, .463 batting average, swatting three home runs, driving home 15 runs, swiping 25 bases and scoring 27 runs on her own. She was also selected as a first-team, all-Western Foothills Conference pick.

Classmate Paulise, the leftfielder, closed out her prep career with a .385 slp, scoring 21 runs and racking up 18 stolen sacks. She was also among the team's most consistent on-base batters, getting there nearly 60 percent of her chances at the plate. She, too, earned all-WFC accolades.

The lone underclass member of the Mooreville connection to earn county nods is second baseman Furmanik, the club's run-producing leader. She drove home 24 runs as the clean-up batter, finishing the season with a .413 average. She also claimed 12 stolen bases and was on base nearly seven out of every 10 plate appearances.

Mooreville shares top county bragging rights with fellow WFC member South Iredell, which also housed three first-team selections, including one named to share player of the year honors.

Lady Viking pitcher Sheena Bailey gave herself quite an act to follow for her upcoming senior season. She posted a 17-3 record with seven complete-game shutouts. She crafted a .037 earned run average and set the new school program mark with her 175 strikeouts. She was instrumental in leading the Vikettes to a second-place finish in the WFC and into the third round of the state 3A class playoffs. Bailey was also a unanimous all-WFC selection.

South Iredell first baseman Heather Hawkins used her .364 batting average and a near-flawless effort in the field - with a 93 percent fielding accuracy - to merit her all-county selection. She also accounted for 12 runs batted in. Hawkins also made all-conference.

Rounding out the Vikettes connection as an All-Iredell player is outfielder Erin Carpenter. She warranted her inclusion as a result of a

.321 batting eye, scoring 16 runs and stealing 10 bases. Carpenter was also included among the five players from South Iredell named to receive all-WFC status.

Both Mooreville and South Iredell are also represented on the county's honorable mention team. From the Lady Devils, senior shortstop Crystal Lee, with a .220 average and 10 runs batted in, made the second team, as did the Vikettes' Amy Armstrong, a third baseman, with a .357 average, 22 runs batted in and 10 runs scored. Armstrong was also selected to the all-conference team.

Official announcement of the all-Iredell softball team was made courtesy of the Statesville Record & Landmark.

Contest's top dog tops all hot dog eaters

It all started out as a way to eat some free hot dogs. It ended as a matter of pride. In what many believe could become an annual event, a hot dog eating contest was staged just prior to the start of last weekend's final regular-season home game for Mooreville's American Legion baseball team. Responding to an open invitation, four contestants agreed to spend a minute consuming completely as many of the especially-prepared delicacies as they could swallow in order to collect top bragging rights. When regulation time expired, a two-way tie existed between Mooreville's Tony Barker, holding his next victim while in mid-munch on another at far left, and Mike Winger. That forced an overtime minute during which Barker matched his first period total to take top (hot) dog honors. As such, he will be a featured guest on the local radio sports talk show Sports Chatter, aired on WHIP, as well as the recipient of additional gifts being supplied by eating contest sponsor The Mooreville Tribune. In addition to champion Barker and runner-up Winger, other contest entries here digging in include, from left, Jonathan Seaford and Mark Wilson.

Putting Mooreville in Moors

These are the current members of Mooreville's American Legion baseball team who are directly responsible for putting the Mooreville in the Gresham-Baker Post 66 Moors. That's the case as they are all direct products of Mooreville Senior High, one of three prep programs this year helping comprise the team's roster. Putting their school ties on the line for the same of the Moors are, kneeling from left, Brandon Neill, Ronald Crum, Nathaniel Baker and Todd Nichols. Standing, from left, Michael Sandlin, Josh Haire, Daniel Sherrill and Ryan Smith. The Moors head into postseason play later this week.
