Fashion Show Highlight Of Ostwalt Home Club Meeting

Mrs. John P. Sherrill and Mrs. G. O. Sherrill were hostesses for the Ostwalt Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John P. Sherrill in Troutman. Twelve members were present, with Mrs. J. E. Smith presiding.

During a brief business session, plans were made for the club to have its Christmas luncheon Thursday, December 12, at the Elks Lodge in Mooresville, rather than the regular meeting time.

Mrs. S. O. Whitener, clothing leader, gave an interesting demonstration on "Decorative Trim in Clothing." After the demonstration a fashion show was presented, featuring clothing made by the members, also garments fashionably in the yesterfairs.

George McNeely modeled a navy blue suit she had made. The short coat being lined with the same print of her blouse. Mrs. R. T. Nesbit wore her creation of a navy blue dress, with short jacket to match. Mrs. John P. Sherrill's costume was a black wool sheath with a black and white checked coat with black trim. Her attire was complimented with a black velvet hat which she had made for her ensemble.

Mrs. Whitener modeled her suit of teal blue, with matching hat and Mrs. J. E. Smith's attire was an olive green suit, with a blouse of print. Mrs. D. E. Whitener wore a dress of printed silk.

The guests were then shown into the dining room, where many and varied items of handwork were displayed, that were also made by the club members. A beautiful and unique quilt of pastel colors, each block having been embroidered representing the forty eight states native bird and state flowers, was one of the many items that were admired. This was made by Mrs. J. H. Crisco.

Featuring fashions of many years ago, Mrs. P. L. K. Deaton's contribution was a wedding gown worn by her mother-in-law over eighty years ago. Mrs. W. B. Cansler presented this, which won first prize. The gown was a light tan, with a print trim of brown, that resembled lace, around the tunic and bustle, also the short train. Her buttons covered with the material of the dress completed its trim.

Mrs. J. A. Overcash won the second prize with her dress which was 25 years old, with Mrs. Cansler taking third place, her dress being thirty-one years of age.

During the social hour, the hostesses served congealed fruit salad, wafers, nuts and coffee.
