Lakeside family medallion ceremony unites Ashton-Moore couple Aug. 11

Mrs. Charles J. Ashton

Brett-Danielle Moore, daughter of Harace and Marie Moore of Harrisburg, and Charles J. Ashton of Charlotte, son of Robert and Sandra Ashton of Mooresville, were united in marriage on Saturday, Aug. 11, 2001. The 6 p.m. ceremony took place at the Ashton Lake Norman home in a garden setting with the lake in the background and Roman arches, adorned with white roses and ivy, marking the setting for the exchange of vows.

Music was provided by vocalist Deneen Goforth. The Rev. Thelma R. Wilkins officiated using a family medallion ceremony which represents family love the same way a wedding ring signifies conjugal love. The medallion was presented by the groom to the bride's three-year old daughter, Autumn Hearn, who expressed her love for the groom and her mother and then released five dozen Monarch butterflies. As legend foretells, the butterfly will make wishes come true.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white strapless, full length gown accented with white pearls. Her waist length veil of white illusion, outlined in satin, was attached to a pearl-shaped headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white and hot pink gerbera daisies.

Ivon Medina was maid of honor and Elizabeth Wallace was a bridesmaid. Both were dressed identical in powder blue, full length gowns.

Flower girl was the bride's daughter, Autumn Hearn, and ring bearer was David Pham of Charlotte.

The groom chose his brother, Marcus Ashton, as best man. Ushers were Robert Ashton, father of the groom, and Brandon Wallace of Charlotte.

The mother of the bride chose a full length dress in lilac color while the mother of the groom wore a navy blue dress in full length.

A buffet followed in the garden with the three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with fresh roses and gerbera daisies, as the focal point.

Following their honeymoon at Helen, Ga., the newlyweds are at home in Charlotte.

The bride, a graduate of West Mecklenburg High School, attends Central Piedmont Community College on a part-time basis. The groom is a graduate of South Iredell High School. Both the bride and groom are employed in the billing office of AT&T in Charlotte.

Four missionaries welcomed to Lake Norman Ward

Two new missionaries were welcomed recently by the Lake Norman Ward. They joined two others who have been here for a few months.

Sister Elise Harder, 24, from Covina, Calif., has been serving in the Mooresville area for a few months. She graduated from Brigham Young University (BYU) in April 2000 with a degree in physical education with an emphasis in public school teaching and a minor in family science.

She says, "I'm serving a mission, because I love my Savior and his gospel. It has brought so much peace, happiness and understanding to my life. I love this work."

Upon completing her mission, she plans on teaching physical education and coaching volleyball at the high school level. In addition to her parents, she has two older sisters, Becky, who lives in Texas with her husband, and Leslie who lives in California with her husband and three children.

Sister Misty Proctor, 24, of Columbia, S.C., recently joined Sister Harder here. She spent a year at BYU studying elementary education with an emphasis on information psychology and technology. Her parents are Donna and Gene Hoots of Sapphire. She has two brothers, Jonathan Hoots, 18, and Josh Proctor, 25, who served a mission in Paraguay and baptized her April 16, 2000. They are the only members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints in their family. Upon completing her mission she plans on returning to BYU to complete her undergraduate degree and then her masters.

She says, "I am serving because I feel it is what the Lord has called me to do. I want to share with others, the same thing that has brought me happiness and substance to my life. I want them to know what living is really like."

Elder Thomas Welch, 20, has served in the Cornelius/Davidson area for a couple months. He is from Downey, Idaho where he attended a year at Idaho State University and was a telemarketer. When he completes his mission he will finish his schooling and plans on becoming a sports journalist. His parents are Michael and Zinda Welch and he has two older and two younger brothers. He is serving, he said, because he wants to do something for his Savior and bring hope to others.

Elder Griffin R. Bean, 20, is from Santa Rosa, Calif. and recently joined Elder Welch in Davidson. He attended Santa Rosa Junior College for a year and worked in photo labs and for an arterial engineering firm. After his mission, he plans on finishing his AA degree in mechanical engineering and transferring to get his masters. He is the son of Deborah and Phil Bean and has two sisters, Kendra, 25, and Rachel, 24, and a brother, Garret, 17. He said he hopes his mission will give him an opportunity to improve himself and to further the work of the Lord.

The Gospel, the missionaries are also actively involved in community work, including working for Habitat for Humanity and doing service for those in need.
