

AS TRADITIONAL AS PUMPKIN PIE

Car-Looking—It's That Time Again

Autumn is a season full of traditions! It's the season of turning leaves, pumpkins, Thanksgiving, homecomings, football . . . It's also the season for new car-lookings.

The autumn unveiling has become as traditional as pumpkin pie, Halloween, or Thanksgiving turkey. Recently, all over America, the new ones for '64 were unwrapped as people from two to 96 watched. Red ones, blue ones, white ones, two-toned models, full-power, two-barrel, four-barrel, kick-shift, automatic, compact, luxury, sports, wide-track, among other assorted adjectives . . . In Mooreville, onlookers were like people all over America: they came, they saw, they commented. Everybody circled the cars looking and talking, invariably pausing occasionally to kick a tire. A new car is just no good if the tires don't get kicked at least once and stand up under it—sort of an American custom, you know.

"I'll bet that car will do 500 miles an hour," one particularly enthusiastic onlooker remarked after looking at a long sleek new model for about five minutes.

"Yeah, just look at that engine, will you?" a man said to no one in particular.

"Umm, a T-shirt. Doesn't that beat all?" another remarked.

"Boy, I bet you could sleep in those seats. Just look how soft they are."

"I think all new cars are ugly for the first six months or so until you get used to them," another man allowed. "Then they're suddenly beautiful."

"I really like the grill this year."

"Yeah, that's nice. But the changes to the tail-lights look good, too."

"I just can't afford to trade this year, that's all there is to it."

"Now let's see, financed for two years that will run . . ."

"They all look good, but I believe I prefer this one."

"All the sports models look good against you will apply to the Court for the relief sought."
