lina has a balanced budget, it ranks in the bottom five states in the nation in taxes, debt, government employees per capita, North Carolina has the best credit rating given any state—AAA.

Much of this great record in North Carolina has been achieved in the past decade by the Hodges and Sanford administrations. And yet, despite such marked social and economic progress, Beverly Lake has had, so far as we have seen in the press, little else but criticism for both administrations. He could not, without stepping out of character, campaign for Governor without attacking both administrations and their great records.

As a candidate, Lake has to be much weaker than four years ago. Iredell county is a representative example of how the Lake strength has faded. He carried Iredell against Sanford in the second primary four years ago by 766 votes. He carried all six precincts in Statesville, carried Shiloh township heavily and Union Grove by a 5 to 1 margin. A turn-around in any one of these eight precincts would have come close to losing the county for him. This time around he will lose Shiloh and, in all probability, wards two, five and six in Statesville, and it will be close in Union Grove. In short, Lake hasn't a chance in Iredell this time around.

In our opinion, a four-year Lake administration would set North Carolina back a half century in social and economic progress. The people didn't want him four years ago and today they want him less.

The elevation of Lyndon Johnson to the Presidency was, in our opinion, a mortal blow in 1964 to the Republican party at both the Washington and North Carolina level.

Barry Goldwater is now a political corpse as far as the nomination is concerned. Nelson Rockefeller, according to the Republican N. Y. World Telegram & Sun, couldn't carry New York State. Nixon would have to run heavily in the South and Southwest to win, and he can't do that against Johnson.

At the North Carolina level, any Republican candidate for Governor—even Jonas had he run—would be political fodder against a candidate teamed with the popular Johnson.

We would like to see Hugh Alexander, still a legal resident of Kannapolis, come home and offer his candidacy for Congressman from the Ninth District. Hugh was one of the most able Congressmen in Washington. The switch of a handful of votes would have sent him back up there. That he was knifed in the back by a few whom he thought were his friends is now well known to Hugh and to his supporters in the District. Now that their identity is known to both Hugh and his followers, they would be taken care of the next time around.

We have talked with Hugh in the past week and while he gave no indication of his intentions, he did state that Iredell was the pivot county in any effort to replace Royhill with a Democrat in Congress. An all-out drive by all factions of the Democratic party in Iredell for the party nomination, he believed, would win for the Democratic candidate in 1964.

Cowan Acting Postmaster At Mount Mourne

Charles Robert Cowan, native and lifelong resident of Mount Mourne, has been named acting postmaster at Mount Mourne, following the resignation of John William Caldwell.

Cowan took the oath of office Monday and began his duties Tuesday morning.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY GILBERT PUCKETT

Miss Honeycutt, Mr. Puckett United In Marriage On Thanksgiving Day At Centenary Church

Charm and beauty marked the wedding of Miss Louise Elaine Honeycutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Honeycutt, of Mooreville, route 1, and Jerry Gilbert Puckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Puckett, of 301 West Lowrance street, Mooreville, on Thanksgiving Day, November 28, at five o'clock in the afternoon at the Centenary Methodist Church, Mount Ulla.

A program of wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Harold McLaughlin, organist, and Miss Virginia Whitlow, soloist. Miss Whitlow sang "O Perfect Love, My Faithful Heart." The traditional wedding marches were used for the procession and the recessional.

The couple exchanged their vows before a lovely background of numerous palms and candelabra with lighted Cathedral tapers. On either side of the altar were arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums. White satin bows marked the pews for the families and guests and completed the wedding scene.

The bride, who made her wedding gown, was given in marriage by her father. The gown, featured a sheath lace dress with an over-dress of bride satin, styled with a round neckline and long pointed sleeves. The skirt of the over-dress opened in front and applied of lace accented each side of the skirt. A self covered pillow, trimmed with pearls and applied with lace flowers matching the lace dress, held her veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and ivy.

Mrs. Jay Coggin, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Margaret Ann Freese was maid of honor. Miss Jean Atwell was a bridesmaid.

All of the attendants wore dresses of antique velvet designed with a high neckline, long sleeves and a semi-bell skirt. Their headpieces were matching pillbox hats with a circular veil. Each of the attendants carried two long stemmed bronze chrysanthemums and the bride carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and ivy.

The bridegroom had as his best man, Jay Coggin. His bridesmaid was Larry Walker and Steve Walker, both of Mount Ulla.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Honeycutt, wore a dress of rose crepe with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Puckett, chose a white printed silk dress with black accessories. Both of the mothers wore white chrysanthemum corsages.

The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. John Morgan, of Mount Ulla, added a corsage of white carnations to her outfit.

The bride is a graduate of Mooreville Senior High School and is now attending Salisbury Business College, Salisbury. Her husband is also a graduate of Mooreville Senior High School and is employed at Mooreville Mills.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple paused in the vestibule of the church to greet their guests.

After a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina and Virginia, the couple will, for the present time, make their home with the bride's parents, on Mooreville, route 1. For traveling the bride wore a blue suede suit with black accessories and she lifted the chrysanthemums from her bride bouquet for a corsage.

Bridal Couple Honored At Rehearsal Party

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Smith of Coddie Creek Road, Mooreville, Mrs. Larry Parker of Belmont and Mrs. Claude Crisp of Henderson entertained for Miss Shirley Gray and Chris Smith at a rehearsal party on Thursday evening, November 28, at the Smith home.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Linda Loftin of Belmont and presented to the receiving line composed of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, Miss Shirley Gray, Chris Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith.

Mrs. John Smith directed to the dining room where Mrs. Larry Parker and Mrs. Claude Crisp received.

The bride's table was covered with a white imported linen out-work cloth and enhanced with a unique arrangement of white snapdragons and yellow roses, flanked by silver candelabra with lighted tapers. A silver punch bowl and trays of cheese floss, chicken bouquet, small lemon tarts, miniature bride cakes, nuts, mints and rum balls completed the table appointments. Mrs. Crisp presided at the punch bowl.

Seventy-five guests, including the wedding party and out-of-town guests attended the party.

Goodbyes were said by Miss Janet Reid Smith and Terry Wolf, the latter being from Leola, Pennsylvania.

Miss Gray, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Gray of Statesville, and Mr. Smith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Troutman, were married at the New Sterling Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church on Friday, November 29.

The couple are residing at Brinkin College, Due West, S. C. and will make their home in Abbeville, S. C.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. David William Honbarger, Sr. of Salisbury, route 7, had his father as best man. Users were: Thad Jones, cousin of the bride; John and Mike Shell and Frank Leonard, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, all of Salisbury.

Mrs. Sherrill chose for her daughter's wedding a three-piece blue knit suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Honbarger is a 1961 graduate of Troutman High School and a former employee of Mooreville Mills. Her husband is a 1961 graduate of China Grove High School, and attended Catawba College, Salisbury. He is employed at Duke Power Company, Mooreville.

Following a wedding trip to an unannounced destination, the couple will make their home on route 3, Mooreville. For traveling, the bride chose a black sheath dress with a white fur hat and black accessories. She carried a corsage of roses from her bride bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Mann, Jr. and Mrs. Irene Bryan and Rosilee Hazell Witherspoon spent the past week end in South Carolina visiting friends.

Miss Patsy South, a student at the University of South Carolina, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Anthony, 328 Fieldstone Road.

Buddy Brown has returned to his home on N. C. Highway 801 following surgery at the Presbyterian Hospital in Charlotte.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Mann, Jr. spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Hickory visiting Mrs. Mann's parents.

Miss Brenda Allison spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allison, at their home on Statesville avenue. Brenda is a student at ASTC, Boone.

Miss Carolyn Walton, of Boone, has resumed her studies at ASTC, after spending the holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Walton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Beam Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Beam, all of Gastonia, spent Sunday afternoon here with Mrs. J. R. Beam's mother.

Bruce McNeely has resumed his studies at Wake Forest College, Winston-Salem, after spending the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. McNeely, Jr., at their home on South Academy street.

Herky Doster spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Doster, at their home on the Charlotte Highway. Herky is a student at Catawba College, Salisbury.

Mrs. Floe Miller, of Pinebluff, spent the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. John Gabriel.

The wedding vows were spoken before draped altars of ivy and white roses. A vase of white carnations was used on the piano.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of on-lon brocade with a fitted bodice fashioned with a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. The dress featured a full skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible with a white orchid showered with lover's knots and streamers.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Vanzant, chose a burgundy suit with black accessories and also a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple will make their home at 634 Spruce street, Mooreville.

MRS. DAVID WILLIAM HONBARGER, JR.

Miss Sherrill Weds Mr. Honbarger In Lovely Afternoon Ceremony At Rocky Mount Church

The Rocky Mount Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Judith Yvonne Sherrill and David William Honbarger, Jr. on Sunday, December 1, at three thirty o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Levi E. Paschal performed the impressive ceremony.

The nuptials were spoken in a lovely setting of greenery with seven branched candelabra holding blue gladioli were used and blue satin bows marked the pews for the families and guests.

Prior to and during the ceremony, a program of wedding music was rendered by Steve Stutts, pianist and Miss Linda Brotherton, soloist. Piano selections included: "Theme from Liebestraume," "Clair de Lune," "Be-cause," "I Love You Truly," "Oh Promise Me" and "Traumeri."

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Sherrill, of Mooreville, route 4, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white tulle and Alençon lace styled with a bateau neckline and long pointed sleeves. The moulded bodice had lace applied on front and down the side of the semi-bell skirt. The full carriage buck fell into a chapel train. Her French illusion veil outlined in Alençon lace, was worn Mantilla style. She carried a crescent bouquet of white roses and snowdrift mums. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Shirley Sherrill was maid of honor and bridesmaids were: Mrs. Polly Morrison, Miss Martha Jean Sherrill, and Miss Elsie Sherrill, both sisters of the bride, all of Mooreville and Miss Diane Barlowe of Kannapolis.

All of the attendants wore dresses of Arcadian blue velvet fashioned with full skirts with upon effect in front. Their headpieces were Arcadian blue cabbage rose effect with short veils. They carried crescent bouquets of blue and white snowdrift mums and English ivy.

Little Miss Lou Ann Sherrill, daughter of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherrill, was flower girl. Her dress was identical to the other attendants and she carried a blue velvet basket filled with same flowers as the bridesmaids.

Joe Leonard, of Salisbury, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring-bearer.

The bride's table, covered with an off white linen cloth, was appointed with a pretty arrangement of pink carnations, snapdragons and white mums, flanked on either side with lighted tapers. The wedding cake was placed on one end of the table and the crystal punch service, surrounded by magnolia leaves, was on the opposite end of the table. Composites held green and white mints and nuts.

After the bride and bridegroom cut the traditional first-lice wedding cake, Mrs. Howard Barlowe, aunt of the bride, completed the serving of the cake. Mrs. Robert Sherrill, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl.

For the occasion the bride wore a fitted Kelly green wool dress with a corsage of green feathered mums.

Attending the cake-cutting were members of the wedding party, families of the bride and bridegroom and a few close friends.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony on Saturday, November 30, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Jones, aunt and uncle of the bride, entertained at a cake-cutting at their home on the River Road.
