Union Calls Off Plant Vote

The Textile Workers Union of America has withdrawn from a representation election scheduled to be held Friday, December 6, at the James Lees and Sons plant at Glasgow, Va.

Carl Annas, vice president of manufacturing for James Lees, said he was officially notified by the National Labor Relations Board that the union had withdrawn its request for the election. "This sudden move by the TWUA is not too surprising," Annas said, "view of the fact that the union has been defeated by Glasgow employees of Lees twice in the past four years."

The TWUA was rejected by Lees employees in elections held in 1950 and again in 1961. The election set for Friday would have been the third in less than four years. The Glasgow plant of James Lees is the largest carpet manufacturing operation in the South.

Annas said he was informed by the NLRB that the union request to withdraw from the scheduled election was permitted "with prejudice" against the union.
