
MRS. JERRY LYNN MESIMER

Mesimer-Patterson Nuptials Spoken At Prospect Church

In a ceremony of beauty in the Prospect Presbyterian Church, Miss Margaret Lynn Patterson became the bride of Jerry Lynn Mesimer, on Wednesday, November 27, at seven o'clock in the evening. The bride's pastor, the Rev. Wilkes D. Macaulay officiated at the impressive ceremony. The couple were married on the 50th wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's grandparents.

Prior to and during the ceremony, a program of wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Lonnie Cox, organist, Miss Donna Poston, pianist and Miss Mary Lowrance, soloist. Mrs. Cox played "The Day of Golden Promise," by Hamblen and Miss Poston rendered "Liebestraum" by Listz. As a duet, the organist and pianist, played "Adagio" by Beethoven and "Ave Maria" by Schubert.

Miss Lowrance sang "O Promise Me," by Koven "Because" by D'Hardelot and "Seal Us O Holy Spirit" was rendered as the couple knelt for the benediction.

The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and the recessional.

The wedding vows were spoken in a lovely setting of palms with seven-branched candelabra holding Cathedral tapers. A center arrangement of white gladioli and mums in a silver urn completed the wedding scene.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shotwell Brown Patterson of Mooresville, route 3, was given in marriage by her father. Her full length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle featured a Sabrina neckline, outlined with sequins and pearls and long, tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was enhanced in the back with a cascade of tulle ruffles. Her veil of imported illusion was held in place by a pillbox hat, decorated with sequin and pearl trim. She carried a white prayerbook topped with a white orchid.

Bridesmaids were Miss Becky Mesimer, of Concord, cousin of the bridegroom and Miss Cathy Deal of Saint Pauls. They wore floor length dresses of gold peau de soie fashioned with bell shaped skirts. Their headpieces were of matching peau de soie and they carried one long stemmed Talisman rose.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Alban Mesimer of Concord, route 2, had his father as best man. Users were Larry Patterson of Mooresville, brother of the bride and Larry Mesimer of Concord, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Patterson chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of turquoise silk organza with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a sheath of pale blue brocade with matching accessories. Both of the mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Grandmothers of the bridal couple, Mrs. E. M. Poole of Mooresville, Mrs. W. S. Patterson of Stony Point, and Mrs. A. L. Mesimer of Concord, had corsages of white carnations.

After a wedding trip to the mountains, the couple will reside in Concord. For traveling, the bride chose a three piece beige knit suit with dark brown accessories and she lifted the orchid from Bible for a corsage.

Prior to her marriage, the bride attended Mooresville Senior High School and will continue her schooling at W. R. Odell High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of W. R. Odell High School and is employed by Western Electric Company in Charlotte.

Mrs. Frank Alexander directed the wedding.

Following the wedding rehearsal on Monday evening, November 25, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brown Patterson entertained at a cake cutting in the church Fellowship Hall.

The bride's table, covered with a white hand drawn cloth, was enhanced with a beautiful silver epergne arrangement of white mums and four candles. The four-tiered wedding cake, topped with three wedding bells, was on one end of the table and the punch bowl was placed at the opposite end of the table. Compotes held homemade mints and nuts.

A green, white and yellow color note was used most effectively in the decor of the Hall with the mantel being arranged with a pretty bouquet of white mums in a silver and crystal bowl, flanked on either side with silver candelabra holding lighted tapers.

As guests arrived they were greeted by Miss Sharon Linker and directed to the register, which was kept by Miss Christine Patterson. The register table was appointed with a single long stemmed white rose in a crystal vase.

After the bride and bridegroom cut the traditional first-slice of wedding cake, Mrs. Henry Brawley and Mrs. W. D. Neel, completed the serving of the cake. Mrs. Larry Mesimer, of Concord, presided at the punch bowl. Assisting with the serving were: Miss Peggy Cockrell, Miss Kathy Deal, Miss Becky Mesimer, Mrs. L. W. Lowrance, and Mrs. Ray Fries.

For the occasion, the bride wore a green taffeta dress fashioned with a matching overskirt and a corsage of Talisman roses. She wore matching green shoes and white kid gloves.

Approximately 75 guests attended the cake-cutting.

Chatter Club Plans Session

Mrs. Thomas Dishman will entertain the members of the Chatter Club at her home on the Charlotte Highway on Friday night, December 6, at 7:30 p. m.

Members are requested to attend.

Miss Sherrill Honored At Lovely Tea

Mrs. Homer Cornelius was hostess to a delightful Come and Sit tea at her home in Troutman on Saturday, November 23, from three until four o'clock in the afternoon, honoring Miss Judith Sherrill, bride-elect of December 1.

Miss Sherrill's marriage to David William Honbarger, of Salisbury, was solemnized at the Rocky Mount Methodist Church on Sunday, December 1, at 3:30 p. m.

Upon arrival of Miss Sherrill, the hostess presented her with a lovely pale pink debutante camelia corsage which complimented her soft pink wool dress.

For the occasion, the Cornelius home was decorated with all white floral arrangements of mums and camelias.

Miss Anne Cornelius assisted her mother in serving individual lily ice creams molds, bridal cake squares decorated in lilies-of-the-valley, mints, and punch.

The hostess' gift to the bride-elect was a wedding book.

Garden Club Schedules Dec. Meeting

The Mooresville Garden Club will meet Thursday, December 12, at 10 a. m. at the War Memorial and all members are requested to make plans to attend.

Members are asked to bring a light lunch and individually-wrapped hard candy to be used on the trays at the hospital. Members are also requested to bring plastic cleaning bags to make wreaths for the Veterans Administration.

Sunshine Circle, Youth Chorus Visit Nursing Homes

The December meeting of the Sunshine Circle of the Mooresville Church of God met at the home of Mrs. Howard Pender on West Wilson avenue, Monday night, December 2.

During the business session it was reported that during the month of November, the members took a Sunshine Box to Mrs. Ellie Hooks. Thanksgiving fruit baskets were taken to Ervin's Nursing Home, Benfield's Nursing Home and Brown's Nursing Home. The Youth Chorus of the church helped deliver the fruit baskets to the nursing homes and sang for the occupants. A flower was sent to Mrs. Tom Jeffers.

The annual Christmas party was planned for Sunday afternoon, December 15, at which time the Sunshine Sister of each member will be revealed.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Bob Smith, Roy Wiggins, Mode Morrow, Herman McGee, Howard Pender, and Misses Tonda Hoke, Marlene McGee, and Aundria Pender.

Mrs. James Pender, of Davidson, was a visitor.

Annexation

Salisbury Road development, the section around and including the Rowan Dairy and a number of subdivided properties.

This area contains 422 acres now in urban use, with an average of 1.66 persons per acre. One-third of this territory coincides with the town limits. Only one-eighth of the area must coincide to qualify for annexation.

The second area being considered for annexation is generally south and southwest of the existing town limits. It stretches from near Dunbar School across Shearer's Chapel Road — roughly halfway around the town's original circular boundary.

This addition, which has an average width of between 1,000 and 1,200 feet, would bring in the Pinewood Circle subdivision, the southwest part of the Mooresville Mills Village, a section of Shearer's Chapel Road and considerable undeveloped land east of Shearer's Chapel Road.

There are 184 acres of land now in urban use in this sector. It has a population of 574, and half of the area coincides with the present town limits.

The annexation study is the result of careful, expert examination of what the town and the areas under consideration for annexation can do for each other. The most obvious result of annexation is more tax money in municipal coffers, but annexation by law is a two-way proposition.

As a starter, Mooresville will have to spend $246,249 to provide sewer service in the areas to be annexed. Another $58,814 will be invested in extending water service to residents of these sections.

The town has $505,000 in unissued bonds that can be used to provide the necessary sewer service. Sufficient utility capital reserve funds are available to finance expansion of the water system. Law requires that a municipality must provide utilities, or have work underway to provide them to newly-annexed areas within a year after annexation.

Other responsibilities a town accepts when it absorbs new territory include police and fire protection, street lighting, providing street signs, sanitation and recreation.

The proposed general annexation would require two additional policemen, another patrol car, $1,000 to provide fire alarm boxes in the new sections of town, two more men, a street washer, another dump truck and a pickup truck in the street department.

Street lighting is no small matter. The planning consultants said 204 more street lamps would be needed at a cost of $4,400 per year. The 64 street name signs that must be erected will cost $1,020.

So the town has obligations it must meet in this program to mold the community into one unit. Each member of the Town Board received a copy of the annexation study Monday night. The board probably will adopt in January a resolution setting forth its intent to annex. The commissioners then will set public hearings and advertise them for the required four weeks. Following the hearings, the board can annex by ordinance.

Recreation

view of monetary woes explained to the board by the Recreation Commission last month.

"It boils down to this, gentlemen," the mayor said, "if the town is going to continue having organized recreation, the town is going to have to pay for it one way or another. Personally, I've always been in favor of letting the people decide. The question before us is, shall we call for a referendum and, if so, for how much?"

The board agreed a vote to decide the taxes-for-recreation question is in order. The how much part of the question will be decided during the January meeting, the commissioners implied.

Spokesmen for the Recreation Commission will be asked to attend the board's first meeting of the new year. As always, the public is perfectly welcome to attend.

During the November meeting of the board, officials of the Recreation Commission said a minimum of $20,000 is needed to bolster the current Recreation Department budget of $36,250 if the town can hope to maintain its current recreation program and operate a second recreation center soon to get under construction.
