an amendment would bring court action that would result in the Federal Government telling North Carolina, as it did Tennessee and Georgia, how it must provide fair legislative representation for its people.

In short, vote against 19 per cent of the people—mostly small counties in Eastern North Carolina—controlling the state in item one and vote for the women folks in item two.

But, for the Christmas holidays, let's call a moratorium on politics. Let the Lake boys shake hands with the Moore boys and both mingle with the Preyer boys. Let the Republicans and Democrats sit down together in holiday feast and goodwill. (P. S. I might even send John Simpson a Christmas card.)

A Merry Christmas to each and every one of you! In the words of Charles Dickens, may each of us honor Christmas in our heart, and try to keep the Christmas spirit all the year.

May the Holy Family guide your path to a spiritually inspiring Christmas. And may all the days to come reflect the peace and joy of this blessed Holiday.

town — First National Bank, Piedmont Bank and Trust Company, Mooresville Federal Savings and Loan Association, and Citizens Savings and Loan Association — will be closed Wednesday and Thursday, December 25 and 26.

Templon Spinning Mills, Inc., and Chemspun Yarns, Ltd., will be closed from midnight on Saturday, December 21, until 8 a. m. on Monday, December 30.

In observance of the holiday season, operations will be suspended at Draymore Manufacturing Corporation on Tuesday, December 24. Operations will be resumed on Wednesday, January 1.

Mooresville Iron Works will close down for the holidays on Saturday, December 21, at 12 o'clock noon. Operations will be resumed at 7 a. m. on Monday, December 30.

The town offices will be closed from noon on Tuesday, December 24, until Friday morning, December 27.

Christmas holidays will be observed at Mooresville Mills and Cascade Weaving Company from the end of the second shift on Saturday, December 21, until the beginning of the third shift on Sunday, December 29. Both of these plants are units of Burlington Industries.

Practically all churches of the town have already held or plan to hold special services in observance of the Birth of the Christ Child. Some of the churches have even arranged more than one service, for the different age groups.

Quite a number of the industrial plants and some of the business houses have held Christmas parties or banquets, at which employers and employees mingled and had an enjoyable time.

The Mooresville Police Department, the State Highway Patrol and the Sheriff's Department have put in pleas for safety during the holidays as a means of keeping merry.

wood Road at the time of the accident.

The 1956 Chevrolet station wagon went out of control and traveled along the right shoulder of the road some 75 yards before striking a signpost at the end of a bridge, narrowly missing the bridge rail.

Completely off the ground by now, the vehicle then traveled some 70 feet, crossing the creek and crashing upside down against the rock embankment on the opposite side of the stream.

The force of the impact caved in the station wagon's top, trapping the two men in the wreckage. Members of the Mooresville Rescue Squad were called to the scene and used a wrecker to lift the top of the vehicle off the men so their bodies could be removed.

The bodies, brought to Cavin Funeral Home, were later transferred to Charlotte.

The station wagon, Patrolman Brown stated, was owned by Alexander, who was employed at the Florida Steel Company at Croft. Alexander was driving at the time of the wreck, the officer said.

over the top."

Reardon made the comment during the UF board session at the War Memorial. Jimmy Rosser, area UF president, presided at the planning meeting.

Rosser said the annual meeting of the local United Fund membership will be held during the middle or latter part of January. New officers will be installed at that time.

In other business, Rosser appointed a committee to study and possibly up-date the UF constitution. Emmett Morrow was named to serve as chairman of the group. Working with him will be Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. John Fosbrink and Mitchell Mack.

The committee will make a report its findings at the annual meeting in January.

County Ministers' Wives Alliance Has Session

The Ministers' Wives Alliance of the Iredell and North Mecklenburg County Area met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Clark recently for the December meeting. Members from all areas were present and a most profitable meeting was enjoyed by everyone.

Projects for the year were completed. The project for December will be the packing of Christmas baskets for the elderly and shut-in members of the churches represented by the members of the Alliance. The baskets will be filled by the friends of the ministers' wives. They are especially grateful to many of the teachers of the public schools of Iredell County. Many gifts have already been received from these generous and sympathetic friends.

The spring project will be a visit to one of the Rest Homes in the city of Statesville. Needed clothing will be donated by Alliance members to these shut-ins.

A very colorful repast was served by the hostess and the meeting was adjourned to meet in January at the home of Mrs. W. F. Elliot of the city, and president of the Alliance.

Saturday. The ledgers will close at sunset January 4 and challenge day will be Saturday, January 11.

C. B. Winberry, chairman of the county Board of Elections, said 35,000 ballots had been received for use in Iredell. They will be distributed to the county's 23 precincts.

The controversial "Little Federal Plan" for redistricting the General Assembly is the ignitible half of the amendments that will be the subjects of the referendum January 14. The second, far less publicized suggested addition to the constitution concerns provisions for equal status of husband and wife in the disposition of property.

A public discussion of the proposed state constitutional amendment on redistricting was scheduled in the county courtroom in Statesville Wednesday night, December 18.

The meeting was called by the Iredell County Board of Commissioners to give citizens an opportunity to hear debate and to voice their views on the controversial "Little Federal Plan" for reapportioning the General Assembly.

County Manager Robert Shuford said the meeting was to get underway at 7:30 p.m. All interested persons were invited to attend. Shuford said the county board had invited speakers both for and against the plan. Following brief talks by the guest speakers, Shuford said the meeting was to be opened for questions.

Slated to be on hand to take part in the program were Iredell's spokesmen in the General Assembly—Rep. Bill Pope of Mooresville and Sen. Jimmy Johnson of Statesville. Other state legislators expected to attend the meeting were Sen. Robert Morgan of Cleveland County and Sen. Dave Clark of Lincolnton.

Shuford and the county board were to attend, but the county manager said his board did not plan to speak on the issue.

"The county board is not advocating or opposing the 'Little Federal Plan' at this special meeting," Shuford said, "it simply wants to provide a vehicle for public discussion of the plan. We feel the public should be as well informed as possible before making its decision at the polls."

There have been any number of discussions of the redistricting proposal throughout the state, but the meeting in Statesville was to be somewhat unique in that it was called by the county government.

LINWOOD ROAD WRECK — Members of the Mooresville Rescue Squad and a wrecker crew work to bring a demolished 1956 Chevrolet station wagon up the bank of a creek on the Linwood Road, some five miles east of Mooresville. The accident, which is thought to have occurred at 1 a. m. last Saturday but was not discovered until 11 hours later, claimed the lives of two Charlotte Negroes—John Alexander and Ezell Mounger. In the background, scores of spectators line the bridge to watch the operations.

Knights Of King Class Has Steak Supper

The Knights of the King Class of Adult No. 2 Department of the First Baptist Church held a steak dinner Saturday night, December 14, at the VFW Hut on the Mount Ulla Highway.

Kenneth Howard, president of the class, welcomed the class members and their wives. The Rev. Bob Shepherd gave the invocation.

Class members and their wives present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Mayhew, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hollifield, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gilley, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morefield, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Perry, Jr., Rev. and Mrs. Bob Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Maddrey, W. B. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. John Gabriel, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Howard.

First Shift Hospital Group Has Supper

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Corriher and daughter, Marilyn, were hosts to the members of the first shift staff on the third floor of the Lowrance Hospital at a buffet supper on Friday night, December 13, at their home on the Mt. Ulla Highway.

Miss Corriher read the Christmas story from Luke and the group sang Christmas carols. During the evening gifts were exchanged.

Those present were: Mrs. Ruth O. Sherrill, Mrs. Otis Melchor, Mrs. Robert Adkins, Mrs. Mack Kennedy, Mrs. Harry Sloop, Mrs. Bob Parker, Miss Nancy Rappe, and Mrs. Paul K. Compton.

Williamson's Chapel WSCS Has Dinner And Yule Program

"Let's Make Christmas Christian" was the them of the yule program given Tuesday night in the Fellowship Hall of Williamson's Chapel Church when members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met together for dinner and worship.

The tables were decorated in keeping with the Christmas season and as the Christmas tree was lighted each member came forward and gave a donation of one dollar to be used for a needy family at Christmas. While the group was gathered around the tree, Mrs. Levi Paschal led in prayer and Mrs. Walter Caldwell gave the devotions.

Mrs. Larry Mayhew was in charge of the program at which time Christmas customs and symbols were displayed with drawings by Rex Mayhew and the following persons explaining each phase of Christmas: carols — Mrs. Lamont Thompson; wreath— Mrs. John Kiser, Jr.; holly— Mrs. R. L. Sherrill; Christmas tree— Mrs. Rufus Isenhour; candle— Mrs. Charles Dorton; and Santa Claus— Mrs. Lewis Caldwell.

The group sang appropriate hymns in various parts of the program, accompanied by Mrs. Richard Barnette at the piano.

The Rev. Levi Paschal closed the meeting with prayer.

George Plesses Entertain At Open House

Mr. and Mrs. George (Buddy) Pless, Jr., were hosts at open house on Sunday, December 15, from three until five o'clock in the afternoon at their home on Glenwood Drive for members of the Adah Chapter No. 258, Order of the Eastern Star. Mr. and Mrs. Pless are worthy patron and matron of the local Chapter.

The Pless home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with the Chapter colors of red and white being used effectively and attractively throughout.

Each guest was asked to bring a Christmas ornament and upon arrival Mrs. Hiram Brown and Miss Dorothy Miller engraved the person's name in glitter and placed the ornament on the Christmas tree, which when completed was called a Friendship tree.

Mrs. Marshall Isenhour and Mrs. Ira Few greeted the guests and kept the register.

The refreshment table was covered with a red cloth and centered with a garland of pine sprayed with snow. A single candle completed the table appointments.

Delicious cake squares, mints, nuts, pickles and punch were served by Mrs. C. L. Brown and Mrs. R. L. Dabbs.

Approximately forty guests called during the appointed hours.

Brown-Nantz Vows Spoken

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Nantz, of Rockingham, announce the marriage of their daughter, Kay Lynn, to James Brown of Salisbury, on November 11. The wedding took place at York, South Carolina.

Mrs. Brown is a former resident of Mooresville and a granddaughter of Mrs. Bobbie Nantz Holcomb of Mooresville.

Christmas Story To Be Given At Vanderburg Church

An unusual and beautiful presentation of the Christmas Story will be given Sunday evening, December 22, at 7 o'clock at the Vanderburg Methodist Church.

Events of the birth of Christ will be dramatized in colorful scenes by adult members of the church.

Hal Blackwelder, who is director of the pageant and a talented artist has designed all sets and costumes for the program. One of the highlights of the pageant, along with the scenes depicting the events at Bethlehem, will be the colorful appearance of Herod and his wife in full costume on their royal palace throne.

Music will be furnished by the Vanettes, a girls ensemble, and by the youth and childrens' choir, under the direction of Mrs. Homer Barker.

Soloists will be Miss Kathy Overcash, Miss Jean Cornelius, and Rev. Homer Barker. Trumpet soloist will be C. B. Etchison. Accompanists will be Miss Marcia Coleman, organist and Mrs. William McLean, pianist.

The public is cordially invited to attend this inspirational service.

Bridal Shower Compliments Miss Odom

Honoring Miss Linda Odom, bride-elect, Mrs. Gray Nantz and Miss Brenda Odom were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower on Saturday night, December 14, at the Odom home on the Statesville Highway.

The honoree, wearing a red A-line dress, was presented a white Christmas corsage.

Christmas decorations were used most attractively throughout the home.

Bridal games were directed during the evening and winners were presented prizes who in turn presented them to the bride-elect.

The hostesses served dainty sandwiches, Danish wedding cookies, mints, pickles, nuts and cold drinks to the 20 guests.

Many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the honoree.

Miss Brawley Honored At Lovely Tea

Miss Lorra Lee Holshouser was hostess at a lovely informal tea Saturday afternoon, December 14, from three to five o'clock, in honor of Miss Ann Brawley, bride-elect of Larry Brown.

Miss Brawley was lovely in a blue two piece ensemble which her hostess complimented with a white corsage.

Miss Holshouser, wearing a Christmas red wool dress, welcomed the guests and presented to the receiving line. The honoree received with her mother, Mrs. Bill Brawly; Mrs. C. C. Upright, grandmother of the bridegroom-elect and Misses Marilyn Brawley and Brandon Sherrill.

The hostess invited the guests to the dining room where Mrs. E. L. Gilladette, dressed in a ciel blue satin brocade dress, poured tea from three until four o'clock.

A lovely tiered arrangement of red carnations and white mums was the centerpiece on the table, which was covered with a red dining cloth overlaid with a lace cloth. Red tapers burning in five, branched silver candelabra, flanked the handsome central arrangement.

A collation of hot Russian tea, petit fours, mints, fruit balls, stuffed dates, cheese rosettes, fruit cake squares, and spiced sugared nuts were served.

Mrs. J. W. Kimmons, wearing a red jersey wool dress, poured tea from four until five o'clock.

Decorations typical of the approaching holiday season were used effectively in the dining room, living room and den.

Mrs. R. J. Holshouser assisted her daughter in entertaining.
