

COSTLY ONE-CAR ACCIDENT — This was the scene following a costly one-car mishap at mid-morning Friday on the rain-slickened Brawley School Road, four miles west of Mooresville. Mrs. Ahreia R. Setzer, 43, of Mooresville, route 2, was driving east when she lost control of her late model station wagon. The vehicle "shaved" the railing off the bridge at right and narrowly missed tumbling into the ravine. Patrolman R. L. Henry estimated damages at $950-$800 to the station wagon and $150 to the bridge. Mrs. Setzer was dismissed from the Lowrance Hospital Monday following treatment for minor injuries.

Tenant Can Pay Rent With Wheat Instead Of Cash

Annual rental is legally 90 bushels of wheat on a property owned by A. J. Chewning III, of Richmond, Va.

Mrs. Lottie Strang, who rents the property, has a perfect right to pay in wheat because of a rental agreement that dates back to 1802. In that year the owner of the property gave the tenants the right to pay an annual rent of 90 bushels of "sound merchantable wheat or in coin."

Through the years, the property passed on to Chewning, and Mrs. Strang became his tenant. But terms of the rental agreement have never been changed since it was recorded January 4, 1802, in the city's deed books. Mrs. Strang, however, pays the rent in money.

Division Heads Of United Fund Plan Campaign

If the enthusiasm generated last week by a dozen UP workers is any indication, this year's Mooresville-South Iredell United Fund will be a smashing success.

UP campaign Chairman John Simpson treated all division chairmen to lunch. The noon meeting at Elks Restaurant amounted to a strategy session. Simpson outlined the UP drive that will begin September 30, and he discussed the responsibilities of each division.

The group decided to hold a town-wide promotion day Saturday, October 5. This event, highly successful as a kickoff for the drive last fall, will be under the direction of Bill Koury, chairman of special projects. Koury told the workers he plans to build this year's promotion around a new car show. In addition to a display of models of all cars sold in Mooresville, Koury will arrange a parade and a street dance. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will handle the promotion as a club project.

Javees will operate concession stands along Main Street through out the day, Koury said. The special projects chairman said he is negotiating with local merchants to provide prizes to be given away during the event.

Noting that the drive will begin the Monday before the promotion, the chairmen said they felt such a project mid-way the drive would be valuable in maintaining public interest in United Fund.

Jimmy Rosser, last year's campaign director and this year's UP president, told the chairmen he was delighted with progress and planning to date.

"This time last year, I didn't have but one chairman," he said, "John (Simpson) has all his key workers, and I'm very pleased with the way the campaign is shaping up this year."

Dave Jones, chairman of the industrial division that has a quota of 61 per cent of the total budget, said he will begin the UP appeal in his division September 15. He said all promotional materials and literature already have been distributed.

The amount needed to meet the 1964 UP budget is $27,815—about $800 more than last year's target. The increase came about because of appropriations to cover the additional expense involved in the Red Cross blood program.

There are persons who, as division chairmen, are most responsible for the drive's success. Jones heads industry and Koury will direct the special promotion. Clyde Millsaps and Jimmy Brawley are co-chairmen for commercial. Roy Creamer will head up the appeal among public employees, while T. C. Homesley has charge of the professional division. Joe Gilley has the rural campaign. Mrs. Mac Gibson and Mrs. Ira Ussery will direct the residential appeal that will be conducted as a club project of the Gamma Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

UP DIVISION CHAIRMEN — John Simpson, campaign chairman of the Mooresville-South Iredell United Fund, footed the bill last week for a luncheon meeting of all key UP personnel at the Elks Restaurant. In return for his charitable gesture, Simpson expected, and got, the attention of the leaders as he explained strategy of the upcoming drive. All division chairmen attended the session. Taking in Simpson's every word are, seated from left, Roy Creamer, who heads public employees; Mrs. Mac Gibson and Mrs. Ira Ussery, co-chairmen of residential; Bill Koury, special projects. Standing, from left, are Joe Gilley, rural; Dave Jones, industry; Clyde Millsaps and Jimmy Brawley, commercial co-chairmen; and T. C. Homesley, professional. Publicity Chairman Len Sullivan was behind the camera doing just that.

An Addition To The Girl Scout Family

As Mooresville Girl Scouts resume troop activities this week, they feature an addition to the family. Scouting has been expanded from three to four separate levels of training, and girls in each division have distinctive uniforms. These smiling ladies represent all levels and girls in each division. Mrs. Don Kibling is a troop leader and Perna Gray is a senior scout. The youngsters in front are, from left, Donna Wilson, a junior; Ebby Goodman, a brownie; and Gloria Melchor, a cadette. Prior to the reorganization, the levels were brownie, intermediate and senior.

NOW HAVE FOUR LEVELS

Girl Scouts Introduce 'New Look'

When Mooresville Girl Scouts resume their troop activities this week, they will be available for purchase on the bookmobile. The scouts were urged to buy their handbooks that explain the important changes in the levels of scouting.

Mrs. James Burke, neighborhood chairman, said the most obvious change in the Girl Scout setup is the addition of a fourth level of scouting. She said the four divisions will be thoroughly explained during troop meetings, and they will be introduced to the general public by the girls themselves.

Window displays featuring scouting organization will be available next week at the library, at Belk and at John Mack & Son. Mrs. Burke reminded all girls now in scouting and those interested in taking part in the scouting program this year of the visit Tuesday, September 10, of the Catawba Valley Girl Scout Council bookmobile.

All training materials needed by the girls will be available for purchase on the bookmobile. The scouts were urged to buy their handbooks that explain the important changes in the levels of scouting.

Mrs. Burke said the new organization into which their troops are divided and the new names for two of these age-levels. While the general age range for Girl Scouts remains the same as always (7 through 17 years), the groupings within this range have been reorganized.

Brownie Girl Scouts are 7 and 8 year olds (grades 2, 3); Junior Girl Scouts are 9, 10 and 11 (grades 4, 5, 6); Cadette Girl Scouts are 12, 13 and 14 (grades 7, 8, 9); Senior Girl Scouts are 15, 16 and 17 (grades 10, 11, 12). Each girl will wear the distinctive uniform of her own age level and will use the new handbook especially designed for her group.

Each of the new age groupings represents one stage of a girl's development. Brownie Scout activities appeal to the imagination, curiosity and need-to-be-needed of the seven and eight year-olds. Junior Scouts want to make and do more things on their own, to explore and experiment. As young adolescents, Cadette Scouts are becoming more aware of themselves as individuals; they begin to examine values, to seek their own identity through wider social relationships and expanded interests. Senior Scouts, on the threshold of womanhood, are ready to assume responsibility as citizens of the community, while thinking serious thoughts about the future—higher education, career, marriage.

Laugh and Learn

A tramp knocked on the door of an English inn called the "George and Dragon." A tall, bony and homely woman opened the door and glowered at him.

"Could I 'ave a bit to eat, Mam?" the tramp asked.

"Not on yer life!" the woman screamed, slamming the door in his face.

He knocked again, and the woman again opened the door.

"Could I 'ave a few words with George?" he asked.

"I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in which direction we are moving—George."

In a suburban area where houses were fairly close together, one resident heard a man's voice from inside the next house: "I want some consideration around here. I want a little kindness. I want a little respect, and I'm telling you I want plenty of hot water. I won't wash dishes in cold water for no woman."

Animal doctor: "What's the trouble?"

Kangaroo: "I don't know. It's just that I don't feel jumpy late."

"What'll I take for this bad cough, Doc?"

"A tablespoon of castor oil every ten minutes."

"Will that cure me?"

"Maybe not, but you sure will be afraid to cough!"

Insignificant Parent: "Isn't it time he could say 'Daddy'?"

Fond Mother: "We've decided not to tell him who you are until he gets a bit stronger!"
