Scouts Offer Aid In Heart Fund Tag Day

Members of Boy Scout Troop 333 have volunteered to work during Heart Fund tag day Saturday, February 13.

John Roberts, institutional representative for the unit sponsored by Broad Street Methodist Church, said the boys will take part in the downtown fund-raising campaign. The youngsters will be in the business district throughout much of the day, and they will award Heart Fund tags in exchange for donations to the appeal.

Officials of the drive within the Mooreville area this week expressed appreciation for response to the appeal to date. They were delighted with the work of the Optimist Boys Choir during "balloon day" last Saturday.

Saturday also will be "coffee day" in most local eating places. The business have agreed to contribute their coffee sales to the heart drive. Mr. Lanes announced it would donate 10 per cent of its earnings February 19 to the appeal.

Laugh And Learn

A plainly-dressed man and a man in fashionable attire had adjoining seats on the train. The well-dressed man eyed his odd-looking companion curiously for a while, then said:

"Say, are you a down-east Yankee or a Kansas farmer?"

"Neither," replied the quantity-dressed stranger. "I'm a Quaker."

"Haw! Haw!" snickered the other man. "Let's hear you say something in Quaker."

"The man in the strange garb surveyed his rude seat-mate calmly, then spoke.

"Nuts to thee," he said.

"My wife has just run away with a man in my car!"

"Great Scott! man! Not your NEW car!"

A candidate for the police force was being examined. "You are on duty on the main street," said the examiner. "A pretty girl rushes up and says that a man has kissed her. What do you do?"

"First of all," replied the candidate, "I would reconstruct the crime."

At Christmas — what the kids would like is something that will separate the men from the toys!

A commissar travelling through one of the little countries stopped at a communal farm and asked a peasant how the potato crop production was coming.

"Under our glorious leader's new plan," answered the peasant, "we have a situation where if we were to put all of our potatoes in a pile they would reach to the feet of God."

"You know there is no God," snarled the commissar.

"There aren't any potatoes, either," countered the peasant.

That man is truly free who performs what he is able to perform, and does what he desires—Rousseau.

A motorcycle policeman directing traffic at an intersection tried to flag a speeding station wagon to a halt as it approached him, but the car kept right on. As it passed, he blew his whistle. The station wagon sped on, so the cop jumped on his cycle and gave chase, siren wailing and red lights flashing.

When he finally got the car to pull over he found that the driver was an attractive young lady accompanied by no less than 11 young children.

"Lady, don't you know when to stop?" the cop demanded.

"Oh goodness, officer," she replied sweetly. "These aren't all mine."

Being honest about little things is not a little thing.
