

Chaff

(Continued From Page One)

has ruled out the familiar "peace and prosperity" campaign pitch. He will not try to lasso the haves, perhaps because he assumes they already are branded. Instead, he will take his cause to the have-nots, the ultra-poor.

Doubtless, the President will point to the record of the existing economic upswing that economists unanimously agree will continue through this year. But Johnson will stress a program to deal with the "pockets of poverty" scattered about the nation. At the top of the list of problems is education.

Frustrated Kids And Jackleg Carpenters

Kids can be cruel, the saying goes. How true it is. We hear of the teenager who has become a frustrated bundle of frayed nerves and complexes because someone else has picked up the nickname "Turnpike." Why "Turnpike"? Because she hasn't got a curve in sight.

We were chewing the fat with Floyd Trexler, as we are wont frequently, and we fell to reliving the days when we were professional wood butchers. He insists he once had a name as the best finish carpenter in Rowan. We agree; he was finished before he began. We can talk with authority on carpentry. We worked two summers once helping build barracks at a Norfolk naval base. Our job was to tear up forms after concrete was poured into them, and all we were allowed to carry was a crowbar, but we didn't tell Floyd that.

Anyway, we agreed that during the big war and for some years after, anybody could pass off as a carpenter. Floyd related the tale about the novice who was assigned to put up siding. His boss noticed that the fellow threw away every other nail he pulled from his apron.

"Hey," the foreman yelled, "how come you're throwing all them nails away?"

"They got the head on the wrong end."

"You fool," the boss said, "they're for the other side of the house."

Bank

(Continued From Page One)

of the comptroller in regulation of national banks. In addition to the vote on the stock dividend, other matters of more or less routine nature will be handled at the annual meeting.

C-C

(Continued From Page One)

ing the directors that "I appreciate the confidence you have shown in me, but I shall strive to do the best job possible."

Also, during the meeting of the board, Davis was asked to give a report on the progress of the Chamber in February. He said that the Chamber had held the annual banquet meeting of the Chamber in February instead of January, beginning in 1964.

Retiring President Brawley presented during both sessions.

JUST IN! ALL NEW 1964

23" COLOR COMPACT TABLE TV

HANDCRAFTED No Printed Circuits

AMERICA'S No. 1 TV

The ADDISON - Model L2705

Elegant slim, compact finished metal cabinet in Ebony color, or Maroon. 11,000 watts of picture power. Deluxe Channel Tuner, Picture Control, Automatic "Fringe-Lock" Circuit, "Hi-Cooled" Power Transformer.

LIBERAL TRADE-IN ALLOWANCES

OPEN FRIDAYS 'TIL 9 P. M.

POSTON & KEETER T.V. CENTER

153 N. Main Mooreville, N. C.

UHF

TO MAKE YOU PROUD YOU OWN IT!

Built FOR WORLD'S FINEST PERFORMANCE!

LIBERAL TRADE-IN ALLOWANCES

OPEN FRIDAYS 'TIL 9 P. M.

POSTON & KEETER T.V. CENTER

153 N. Main Mooreville, N. C.

Amendment

(Continued From Page One)

erty rights. Registration books opened here December 21. The books were also open December 28 and January 4. Saturday, January 11, will be challenge day.

C. B. Wherry of Statesville, chairman of the Iredell County Board of Elections said, "Registration books have been very tight throughout the county. However, you must bear in mind, it was not a new registration and all persons registered on the county election books will be eligible to vote."

Asked what he thought the reason for the apparent lack of interest, Wherry said, "It's an election they're (the voters) not interested in and the voters are not sure what it is all about. They haven't been educated to the facts of it."

The first amendment deals with legislative representation and would increase the State Senate to 70 members. At present there are 50.

The Constitution now requires Senatorial districts to contain, as near as may be, an equal number of inhabitants.

The State House would consist of one representative biennially elected from each county.

Presently there are 120 House members, one for each county and 20 more which are divided among the more populous counties.

The amendment, if passed, would reduce House membership to 100. Opponents of the amendment have pointed out the amendment would allow control of the state to rest with 16 per cent of the population.

The second amendment, dealing with married women's property rights, would allow, if adopted, a married woman to handle her sole and separate estate as she may wish to do, and if she wished to convey her property it would not be necessary for her husband to give his written permission as is now required.

In other words, a woman's personal property before marriage shall remain her sole and separate estate and property and not liable for any debts, obligations, or engagements of her husband.

On the day of the vote, January 14, the polls in Iredell county will be open for 12 hours, 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m.

In Mooreville, the polling places are as follows: Precinct No. 1—South School auditorium, Precinct No. 2—Catawba Junior High School gymnasium, Precinct No. 3—Park View School auditorium.

A customer who in the store, discovered Davis and notified the Mooreville police, who, in turn, called the sheriff's department.

When word of the crime came to Officer Frank Upright recalled that he had seen a car with three youths in it parked at a local warehouse before daylight. At that time, he had written down the car number—7A-297.

A check through the Department of Motor Vehicles in Raleigh revealed that the 1960 Ford was registered in the name of Walter Frazz of Catawba, route 1.

Around 8:30 a. m. Saturday, the Iredell Sheriff's Department was notified that Catawba county officers were holding three suspects. Deputy Perkins went to Catawba county and returned the suspects to Mooreville.

Following questioning, all three admitted their part in the crime and all of the loot was recovered. The cash had been divided three ways — each youth taking approximately $125.

Examination at the Lowmance Hospital revealed that 80-year-old Davis sustained a concussion and skull fracture as a result of the assault. He was permitted to return to his home but has been advised to remain in bed for at least two weeks.

"Hey, Mom! Hurry up with the CHEERWINE!"

Cheerwine

Such a good wine!

Recreation

(Continued From Page One)

assist to any community. We must give in Mooreville if we're going to have a growing recreation program, or if we're going to cut back the program we now have.

The election program was held Tuesday, April 28. The commissioners first set the Tuesday in April as the voting day, but a question came up as to how close to the state Democratic primary a vote could be held.

The primary will be held in May, but there was some mention that state law may forbid a local election so near the primary. Town Attorney Bill Pope and the know of no such restrictions, but he said he would clear the matter through the state attorney general's office.

In the meantime, the vote on a recreation plan is scheduled for the latest Tuesday, in April, but not later than three weeks before the next election.

This is the question that will be put to the voters: "Shall the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Mooreville be empowered to levy an annual tax of not less than three cents nor more than 10 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation of the taxable property within the Town of Mooreville for providing, conducting and maintaining a supervised recreation program?"

The resolution also stated that the Town Board of Commissioners would allow control of the state to rest with 16 per cent of the population.

The second amendment, dealing with married women's property rights, would allow, if adopted, a married woman to handle her sole and separate estate as she may wish to do, and if she wished to convey her property it would not be necessary for her husband to give his written permission as is now required.

In other words, a woman's personal property before marriage shall remain her sole and separate estate and property and not liable for any debts, obligations, or engagements of her husband.

On the day of the vote, January 14, the polls in Iredell county will be open for 12 hours, 6:30 a. m. until 6:30 p. m.

In Mooreville, the polling places are as follows: Precinct No. 1—South School auditorium, Precinct No. 2—Catawba Junior High School gymnasium, Precinct No. 3—Park View School auditorium.

A customer who in the store, discovered Davis and notified the Mooreville police, who, in turn, called the sheriff's department.

When word of the crime came to Officer Frank Upright recalled that he had seen a car with three youths in it parked at a local warehouse before daylight. At that time, he had written down the car number—7A-297.

A check through the Department of Motor Vehicles in Raleigh revealed that the 1960 Ford was registered in the name of Walter Frazz of Catawba, route 1.

Around 8:30 a. m. Saturday, the Iredell Sheriff's Department was notified that Catawba county officers were holding three suspects. Deputy Perkins went to Catawba county and returned the suspects to Mooreville.

Following questioning, all three admitted their part in the crime and all of the loot was recovered. The cash had been divided three ways — each youth taking approximately $125.

Examination at the Lowmance Hospital revealed that 80-year-old Davis sustained a concussion and skull fracture as a result of the assault. He was permitted to return to his home but has been advised to remain in bed for at least two weeks.

"Hey, Mom! Hurry up with the CHEERWINE!"

Cheerwine

Such a good wine!

NCEA

(Continued From Page One)

Kentucky. Introduced by Dr. Roland Morgan, superintendent of the Mooreville City Schools, Dr. Boyd H. Hetherington, Mooreville, N. C., said that he was in the life of a person by declaring that "it gives us an insight into the future of the state and nation."

He was careful to point out that science and philosophy are important and have done much for mankind but that with science and philosophy only there is a void in one's life.

"Science can't get into the area in which we live," Dr. Boyd declared. "It's the human element that we need. It's the human element that we need. It's the human element that we need."

"It is through the pages of the Holy Word," the speaker went on to say, "that we get a true picture of the all-seeing, all-powerful God."

Stressing the fact that he was unable to understand everything in the book of the Bible, he pointed out the vital importance of being receptive to God.

"There must be light if there is understanding and it is through the Bible that we are able to obtain this light," he continued.

"The time always comes when we become weary of darkness and find ourselves crawling back to Him, seeking answers that science and philosophy cannot give," the speaker stated.

He urged his hearers to "keep the light of God in your eyes until you reach the gate of heaven and are told what to do."

"We can't do more... we do less," the speaker concluded. Ryan Wainwright, president of the local NCEA unit, presided.

Prior to the address, music was rendered by the Mooreville Senior High School Band, directed by Robert C. O'Conner. The invocation was given by the Rev. Bob D. Shepherd, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

A farm is as big as its power to produce.

The board's decision to call the vote follows a request by the Mooreville Recreation Commission, the point they made was that, but the board decided to call the vote.

A second recreation center will be built as a part of the West-End public housing development. The Recreation Commission hopes to have a possible way of operating an organized recreation program at the new center without more money.

In fact, mounting maintenance problems brought on by worn-out equipment, and general growth of the community have made current support woefully insufficient to run what public recreation the town now has. Without more financial support, the recent recreation set-up would have to be curtailed sharply.

The citizens of Mooreville will decide which way their public recreation will go.

The MOORESVILLE TRIBUNE, Thomas M. McElreath, Publisher, 201 N. Main Street, Mooreville, N. C. 28130. Phone 662-2171. Subscription rates: $4.00 per year in advance. Single copies 10c.

One Year $4.00
Six Months $2.50
Three Months $1.50
Per Copy

79c

SHOP EACH FRIDAY NIGHT 8-10 P. M.

OPEN OTHER DAYS 8 A. M. - 6:30 P. M.

Facial Tissue 19c

FREE BOX PAIN KILLING ASPIRIN

With Each Package

Fire

(Continued From Page One)

The work at Mooreville, N. C., has said only the quick response of the fire-fighters kept the fire from spreading. Flames contained in the rapidly dying fire.

The building was erected in 1928 when the Chevrolet dealership was in the hands of H. A. Bland and Fred Morrow. The building still is owned by Fred Morrow, who valued it at $41,000.

Placed at $20,000, Jim Mack Morrow joined the firm in 1947. In 1961, Fred Morrow retired from the business, turning over his interest to his son, Bill, and Jim Mack's son, Jimmy.

One of the new cars was destroyed by the fire. The other cars were damaged. The cars that were in the shop for repairs were used cars in the shop.

The company president estimated the value of tools and equipment lost to the blaze at between $5,000 and $10,000.

Unaffected by the flames was the company's body shop located across the street from the main plant. Much of the operation has been shifted to the body shop.

"We can't do more... we do less," the speaker concluded. Ryan Wainwright, president of the local NCEA unit, presided.

Prior to the address, music was rendered by the Mooreville Senior High School Band, directed by Robert C. O'Conner. The invocation was given by the Rev. Bob D. Shepherd, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

A farm is as big as its power to produce.

The board's decision to call the vote follows a request by the Mooreville Recreation Commission, the point they made was that, but the board decided to call the vote.

A second recreation center will be built as a part of the West-End public housing development. The Recreation Commission hopes to have a possible way of operating an organized recreation program at the new center without more money.

In fact, mounting maintenance problems brought on by worn-out equipment, and general growth of the community have made current support woefully insufficient to run what public recreation the town now has. Without more financial support, the recent recreation set-up would have to be curtailed sharply.

The citizens of Mooreville will decide which way their public recreation will go.

The MOORESVILLE TRIBUNE, Thomas M. McElreath, Publisher, 201 N. Main Street, Mooreville, N. C. 28130. Phone 662-2171. Subscription rates: $4.00 per year in advance. Single copies 10c.

One Year $4.00
Six Months $2.50
Three Months $1.50
Per Copy

79c

SHOP EACH FRIDAY NIGHT 8-10 P. M.

OPEN OTHER DAYS 8 A. M. - 6:30 P. M.

Facial Tissue 19c

FREE BOX PAIN KILLING ASPIRIN

With Each Package

Lutheran Group

(Continued From Page One)

Group No. 5 of Lutheran Church Women of St. Mark's Lutheran Church met Tuesday evening with Mrs. H. W. Dandridge and Miss H. B. Basing at their home on East Catawba avenue.

An interesting program entitled "Southern Arts in Lutheran Order" was presented by Miss Nancy Archie and Miss Hazel Basing.

Eleven members were present including: Madames Charlie Gooden, Paul Admire, Roy Bost, Donna Meadows, Robert Morrison, Madam Owen, Robert Morrison, Jr., and Misses Sadie Pless and Nancy Archie.

Dinner guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. John Kiser, Jr. and children Wayne and Barbara at their home on the Coddle Creek Road were: Mr. and Mrs. Bost, Madam of Long Island, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rimmer and children Susan and Sherrie, of Shearers Chapel Road; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Little and Miss Betty Little of Mooreville; and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Elmore and children, Ben, Jr. and Gail, of Catawba.

The board's decision to call the vote follows a request by the Mooreville Recreation Commission, the point they made was that, but the board decided to call the vote.

A second recreation center will be built as a part of the West-End public housing development. The Recreation Commission hopes to have a possible way of operating an organized recreation program at the new center without more money.

In fact, mounting maintenance problems brought on by worn-out equipment, and general growth of the community have made current support woefully insufficient to run what public recreation the town now has. Without more financial support, the recent recreation set-up would have to be curtailed sharply.

The citizens of Mooreville will decide which way their public recreation will go.

The MOORESVILLE TRIBUNE, Thomas M. McElreath, Publisher, 201 N. Main Street, Mooreville, N. C. 28130. Phone 662-2171. Subscription rates: $4.00 per year in advance. Single copies 10c.

One Year $4.00
Six Months $2.50
Three Months $1.50
Per Copy

79c

SHOP EACH FRIDAY NIGHT 8-10 P. M.

OPEN OTHER DAYS 8 A. M. - 6:30 P. M.

Facial Tissue 19c

FREE BOX PAIN KILLING ASPIRIN

With Each Package

Personals

(Continued From Page One)

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Caldwell and son, Charlie, have returned to their home in Alexandria, Virginia, after spending the holidays here with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelson and other relatives. They also visited Mrs. Caldwell's relatives in Columbia, South Carolina.

Miss JoAnn Kerley resumed her duties in the Charlotte-Hopkins County Hospital during the last week of last week after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kerley, at their home on South Magnolia street.

Dinner guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. John Kiser, Jr. and children Wayne and Barbara at their home on the Coddle Creek Road were: Mr. and Mrs. Bost, Madam of Long Island, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rimmer and children Susan and Sherrie, of Shearers Chapel Road; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Little and Miss Betty Little of Mooreville; and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Elmore and children, Ben, Jr. and Gail, of Catawba.

The board's decision to call the vote follows a request by the Mooreville Recreation Commission, the point they made was that, but the board decided to call the vote.

A second recreation center will be built as a part of the West-End public housing development. The Recreation Commission hopes to have a possible way of operating an organized recreation program at the new center without more money.

In fact, mounting maintenance problems brought on by worn-out equipment, and general growth of the community have made current support woefully insufficient to run what public recreation the town now has. Without more financial support, the recent recreation set-up would have to be curtailed sharply.

The citizens of Mooreville will decide which way their public recreation will go.

The MOORESVILLE TRIBUNE, Thomas M. McElreath, Publisher, 201 N. Main Street, Mooreville, N. C. 28130. Phone 662-2171. Subscription rates: $4.00 per year in advance. Single copies 10c.

One Year $4.00
Six Months $2.50
Three Months $1.50
Per Copy

79c

SHOP EACH FRIDAY NIGHT 8-10 P. M.

OPEN OTHER DAYS 8 A. M. - 6:30 P. M.

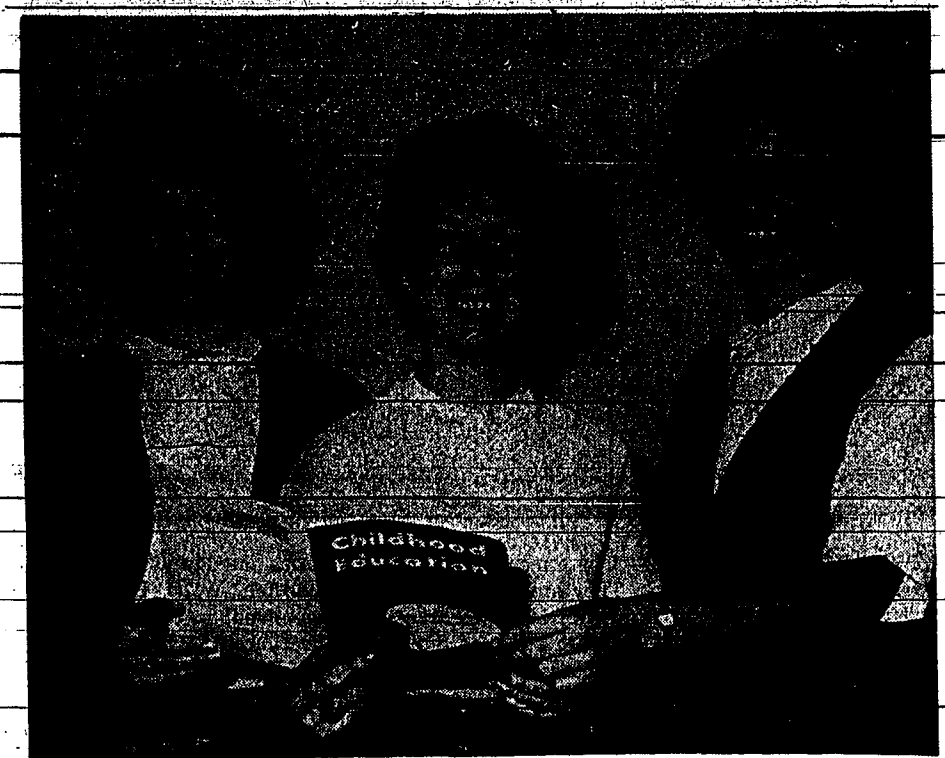

Facial Tissue 19c

FREE BOX PAIN KILLING ASPIRIN

With Each Package

Mooreville Tribune

VOL. XXX MOORESVILLE, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 9, 1964 No. 47

STUDENT TEACHERS — Three seniors at Appalachian State Teachers College at Boone currently are doing their practice teaching in Mooreville—two at South School and one at Park View School. Reading from left, they are: Miss Betty Jean Holcombe, Miss Rachel Elaine Justice, and Miss Andrea Elliott. According to present plans, they will be here for three months.

3 Student Teachers From ASTC Getting 'On-The-Job' Training

Three Appalachian State Teachers College seniors are in Mooreville for three months, doing their practice teaching.

Miss Betty Jean Holcombe is assigned to Park View School, while Miss Rachel Elaine Justice and Miss Andrea Elliott are "laboring" at South School.

All three will receive a S. degrees in elementary education from ASTC. Misses Holcombe and Justice in May and Miss Elliott in August.

While in Mooreville, Miss Holcombe, a resident of Asheville, is teaching fourth-grade work at Park View School under the guidance of Mrs. Thelie Gilladette, while Miss Justice, who came from Southford, is teaching third grade work at South School under the direction of Mrs. Isabel Cashlon.

A resident of Charlotte, Miss Elliott is teaching fourth grade work at South School, with Mrs. Carl Sparks as her supervising teacher. The three young women are here to take part, during the winter quarter, in the student teaching program of ASTC. In this program, the student teachers devote approximately 12 weeks to student teaching in the field for which they have been preparing.

The student teacher devotes full time in the school and gradually takes over the full teaching load always under the supervision of the supervising teacher and the principal.

Three other seniors at ASTC are doing their practice teaching in Mooreville—all three at the Mooreville Junior High School. A story concerning these three—Miss Gayle Karkker, Bonnie Walls, and Dolores Eady—appeared in an earlier issue of the Mooreville Tribune.

New Trooper Is Assigned To Mooreville

Patrol Sgt. B. L. Walker today announced that Donald H. Franklin, 28, formerly of Waynesville, will be assigned to the Mooreville area as a patrolman.

Franklin graduated from the Patrol School in Chapel Hill on December 21 and is presently undergoing special training at the district headquarters in Statesville.

Franklin will assist Patrolman C. L. Brown and R. P. Mullis in patrolling the south end of the county.

A native of Haywood County, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Phillips. He is a 1956 graduate of Waynesville Township High School.

Franklin is married to the former Dorcas Carolyn Rhinehardt of Gastonia and they have a daughter, Donna Lynn, three months.

Prior to joining the patrol, Franklin worked at Champion Tapers, Inc., of Canton. He served in the National Guard for eight years and is presently on the inactive reserve.

ELDERS ELECTED — An ordination service was held at Prospect Presbyterian Church recently for new deacons and elders. These men joined eight other elders as members of the church session. From left are Donald Howie, Robert Edmiston, Jim Linker and Claude Nantz. All but Howie have served previous four-year terms as members of the church ruling body. They were elected by the congregation and they began their terms after an installation service conducted by the Rev. Wilkes Macaulay during Sunday morning worship.

In 1963 ... Folks Who Saved at Mooreville Federal Savings & Loan Association

RECEIVED

Our Progress Report For 1963

| | |
|---|-----------------|
| Dividends Paid June 29, 1963 | $174,017.00 |
| Dividends Paid Dec. 29, 1963 | $178,930.00 |
| Dividends paid in past 12 months | $352,947.00 |
| Dividends Paid at 4% Per Annum | |
| Assets Increased | $981,181.00 |
| Total Assets | $10,557,857.57 |
| New Savings Accounts opened during year | 535 |
| Net Increase In Savings Accounts | $746,143.85 |
| Total Savings Accounts | $9,395,762.02 |
| Loans Made | 325 |
| A Net Increase In Loans | $919,669.18 |
| Total Loans | $9,201,003.36 |
| Reserves Increased | $97,391.22 |
| To A Total Reserve Of | $935,500.78 |

ALL FUNDS

Placed Through The Close Of Business
FRIDAY, JANUARY 10th WILL EARN
FULL DIVIDENDS
FROM JANUARY 1st
NO WAITING PERIOD

ASSETS OVER $10,557,857.00

"Save Today
For Your Needs of Tomorrow"

WE ANTICIPATE PAYING
ANOTHER ...
FOR 1964

4%

Mooreville Federal Savings AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

283 N. MAIN ST.

PHONE 663-5221

Financial Statement as of December 31, 1963

| ASSETS | |
|---------------------------------|-----------------|
| First Mortgage Loans | $ 9,126,017.87 |
| Loans on Savings Accounts | 73,985.49 |
| U. S. Government Bonds | 534,461.13 |
| Stock in Federal Home Loan Bank | 135,000.00 |
| Cash On Hand and In Banks | |